PREFACE

IN presenting this long-delayed volume to the public, the writer first wishes to pay tribute to the labors of his collaborator, Edgar Francis Waterman. The first two volumes of The Waterman Family (1939 and 1942) were devoted to the descendants of Robert Waterman of Marshfield, Mass. This is the family from which Mr. Waterman descends. While collecting data over many years, a great deal of material was obtained on other Waterman families, in particular that descending from Richard Waterman of Providence. Although in no way connected with that family, Mr. Waterman devoted an immense amount of time and effort to copying vital and other records in numerous Rhode Island towns, and to abstracting probate and land records. Without this field research, our account of the Rhode Island family would be far, far less complete.

Waterman has been a prominent name in Rhode Island since the earliest days, and the family still boasts several branches of distinction. The late William Henry Waterman (1845-1925) of New Bedford, Mass., was very active some fifty years ago in collecting data on this family, and thanks to the coöperation of the Rhode Island Historical Society a photostatic copy of his Collection was obtained. To this we owe, to no small extent, the very complete accounts of the public services to town, colony and state, of numerous members of this family. Much else of value in this Collection has been utilized, but it is only fair to add that the present compilers have been able to correct some errors and to trace a number of branches which Mr. William H. Waterman failed to follow, in addition to adding many hundreds of more recent records to the local Rhode Island branches.

Mr. Edgar F. Waterman also obtained abstracts of pension records and copies of many census records, mainly through the good offices of the late Philip Mack Smith of Washington, D. C., and some descendants over the years have sent substantial information.

Following the Rhode Island family, additions to the Robert Waterman family are given, and then various groups which we have been unable to connect with either of the two old New England families. Some of these, such as the Virginia group and the Quaker family of Philadelphia, are definitely of different origin, while others, such as the Oliver Waterman family of New York State, may belong to one of the older families but the connecting link is missing. Finally, many miscellaneous items are given, largely arranged by geographical sections. Some account, although fragmentary, is included of more recent immigrant families of the name, many from England and not a few from Germany and Russia, some of whom translated their original Wasserman name to Waterman. Items and two large family groups pertaining to colored Watermans are also included.

The great work of Mr. Edgar F. Waterman has been the drudgery of copying thousands of original records from the public archives. To the present writer has fallen the task of picking out these records, item by item, and fitting them into organic pedigrees. That this task has been performed without error is hardly to be expected and is too much to hope. The record items are sometimes conflicting and without doubt there are some mistakes in the original public records. Ages stated often do not accord with other facts; it would seem that ages at death were frequently miscalculated; at marriage, young people would sometimes overstate their age, while elderly people would sometimes understate their age. Very old people might be forgetful, or given to exaggeration, when giving statements to the census enumerators. And finally, some people changed their given names, so that a name at marriage is different from that recorded at birth, although the date and place of birth and the names of the parents are the same, or similar enough to indicate identity.

In general, the compiler has endeavored to follow certain fixed principles, and would ask the critical reader to bear in mind the following points:

1. Discrepancies in original records, spoken of above, and doubtless occasional misreading of names in very poorly written records, will account for an unavoidable (but we hope small) percentage of error.

2. Mr. Edgar F. Waterman obtained some data from descendants over the course of many years, and most of the research in original sources was done in the 1930*'s and* 1940*'s. Hence recent events (in the past fifteen years) will only rarely be found. The account given is as complete as it could be made to approximately* 1940. Life does not stand still. In such an extensive genealogy as this, if we should try to bring all branches down to date, starting with group A, then group B, by the time we reached group Z it would be necessary to start all over again, since there would be more recent births, marriages and deaths to report in the earlier groups. We should have to stop somewhere or never go to press.

3. Care has been taken to include only such records as are of a public nature or have been supplied by immediate members of a family group. Some states restrict the use of records of a certain type. We have followed the laws of such states, as the laws stood at the time the records were copied and compiled. Although some material has been added, the volume was virtually ready for publication more than a decade ago.

4. In every family, and especially where thousands of individuals are involved, one is bound to find here and there a birth date which falls too closely after the marriage date of the parents. In all records except quite early ones, we have omitted part of one of the two dates in such cases, so as to spare the feelings of those involved. If any cases of this sort have been overlooked, we are extremely sorry. It should also be pointed out that there are mistakes in original records, and there is always a possibility of typographical errors regardless of how careful the compositors and proofreaders are or how meticulous the work of the editor. Finally, there is the problem of children born out of wedlock, for they occur in every family. It is not felt that there should be any reason for sensitiveness when this occurred a few generations back. More recent cases we have omitted except when supplied by immediate members of the family. In no case have we used records of illegitimate birth from states where such records are "impounded."

Again, the writer wishes to emphasize the gratitude which should be felt by the Rhode Island Watermans and those of other groups included in this volume, to Mr. Edgar F. Waterman for his liberal expenditure of time, labor and money to make these records accessible. He has presented the finished manuscript and funds for its publication to the Connecticut Historical Society, which will reap the entire benefit from sales of the book.

THE WATERMAN FAMILY

THE WATERMAN FAMILY

RICHARD WATERMAN OF PROVIDENCE

Groups 1 to 48

1. RICHARD[1] WATERMAN, born in England, , died at Providence, R. I., 26 Oct. 1673; married, BETHIA ———, born in England, , died at Providence, 3 Dec. 1680.

He came to New England in 1629, in advance of the Winthrop Fleet of 1630, and was one of the founders of Salem, Mass.

The First General Letter of the Governor and Deputy of the New England Company for a Plantation in Massachusetts Bay, written 17 Apr. 1629 to the Governor and Council for London's Plantation in the Massachusetts Bay in New England, contains the following passage: "Wee desire yo^{w} to take notice of one Lawrence Leech, whom we haue found a carefull & painfull man, and wee doubt not but hee will continue his dilligence; lett him haue deserving respect. The like we say of Richard Waterman, whose chiefe employm^{t} wilbe to get yo^{w} good venison." [N. B. Shurtleff, Records of Massachusetts Bay, 1-394.]

The General Court at Boston on 4 Sept. 1632 ordered that he be paid 40s. "for killing a woulfe about 2 monthes since, in Salem plantacoñ." [ib., 1-99.]

From these references, we infer that Waterman was known as a skillful hunter in England, and that he continued to exhibit his prowess after settling in his new home.

At a Court in Salem on 27 June 1636, he was one of those appointed to inspect canoes, evidently a safety measure, and he also served on a Petit Jury that date, as well as on 27 Dec. 1636. [Quarterly Courts of Essex County, 1-3, 4.]

After residing in Salem a few years, in good standing, he came under the influence of Roger Williams, whose religious ideas and belief in civil liberties were in conflict with those of the civil and religious leaders of the colony. As a result, removal to Rhode Island was determined upon. The General Court issued a licence for this group to remove, and to insure the permanence of their removal, also issued warrants against them, which read:

"Whearas yo^{u} have desired & obtained licence to remove yo^{r}selues & yo^{r} families out of this iurisdiction, & for that information hath bene given to the Court that yo^{r} intent is onely to wthdrawe yo^{r}selues for a season, that yo^{u} may avoyde the censure of the Court in some things w^{ch} may bee obiected against yo^{u}, the Court doth therefore order that yo^{u} may depart according to the licence given yo^{u}, so as yo^{r} families bee removed before the next Generall Court; but if yo^{r} families bee not so removed, then yo^{u} are to appear at the next Court, to abide the further order of the Courte hearin."

This was on 12 Mar. 1637/8, and those named were "M^{r} Willi: Coddington, M^{r} John Coggeshall, Goo: William Baulston, Edward Hutchinson, Samuell Wilbore, John Porter, John Compton, Henry Bull, Philip Shearman, Willi: Freeborne, & Rich^{r}d Carder." To these were added: "Of Mount Woollastone [———] Randoll, Henry [———], & John Johnson, M^{r} Coddingtons men, of Neweberry M^{r} Nico: Eason, of Salem Francis Weston, Rich^{r}d Waterman, Thom: One [Olney], & Stewkely Waskote, are to appear also, if they bee not removed before the next Courte." [N. B. Shurtleff, Records of Massachusetts Bay, 1-223.]

On 20 Dec. 1661, Roger Williams declared that in 1634 and 1635 he made treaties with the Narragansett Indians and bought land he called Providence, and "desired it might be for a shelter for persons destressed for Conscience.... I Comunicated my said purchase unto my loving ffriendes John Throckmorton, William Arnold, William Harris, Stukley West[cott], John Greene senior, Thomas Olney sen^{r}: Richard Waterman and Others who then desired to take Shelter here with me. . . ." [Town Rec. Providence, 5-306.]

Richard Waterman received a confirmation of land in Providence, 10 June 1637. He was named among the Associates of Roger Williams in the latter's deed to them of 8 Oct. 1638. He was one of the signers of the Contract at Providence, 27 July 1640, proposing a form of government, and was also on the Providence Committee of 18 May 1647 to form a government under the charter Williams had brought from England. He was one of the Eleven Men who received the deed to Shawomet [Warwick] from Miantonomi, 12 Jan. 1642. [R. I. Colonial Rec., 1-15, 20, 31, 42, 131.]

A few years after the settlement in Rhode Island, the settlers there were involved in their historical controversy with Massachusetts, which resulted in the persecution and imprisonment of Gorton and other prominent Rhode Islanders. On 10 May 1643, "M^{r} Humfrey Atherton & M^{r} Edward Tomlins are appointed to go wth Goo: Willi: Arnold to speake wth M^{r} Greene, M^{r} Warner, & Rich^{r}d Waterman, & the rest there, & to understand how things, according to instructions to bee given them in writing, & to get & bring Will, the Indian, if they can." [N. B. Shurtleff, Records of Massachusetts Bay, 2-35.]

Waterman was arrested, but released on bond; on 17 Oct. 1643, "Rich^{r}d Waterman is dismissed for the p̃sent, so that what is [tak]en of his is to go toward payment of the charge, & the rest of his estate is bound in an 100$^{£}$ that hee shall appear at the Generall Co^{r}t the 3th $^{0}_{m}$, & not to depart wthout licence, & to submit to the order of the Co^{r}t." On 29 May 1644, when he was tried, "Richrd Waterman being found erronious, hereticall, & obstinate, it was agreed, that he should be detained prisoner till the Quarter Cort in the 7th $^{o}_{m}$, unlesse five of the matrats do find cause to send him away; wch if they do, it is ordered, that he shall not return wthin this iurisdiction, upon paine of death." [ib., 1-53, 73.]

Richard Waterman was one of the Providence men listed in 1655 in "The Roule of ye Freemen of ye Colonie of everie Towne." [R. I. Colonial Rec., 1-299.]

On 27 Apr. 1650, "Hugh Bewet, Tho. Hopkins & Rich Waterman shall be the 3 men for the Tryall of Causes at the Generall Court of Tryall" in Providence. Waterman was appointed one of the six men on the "Committee for or Town at the Gen: Court," May 1650. He was one of the six men for the trying of causes at the Quarterly Court, 4 Nov. 1650; one of the three who "shall joyne in Council wth the 3 chief officers, in cases difficult during this yeare ensuing." He was one of six men "for the tryall of Causes," 1 May 1651/2; one of six Commissioners for the Gen: Court, 12 May 1652. On 7 June 1652, Richard Waterman, Arthur Fenner and John Field were elected to the Town Council. Waterman was continued, 7 Sept. 1652, as one of the six to conduct trials, and also 27 Apr. 1655, when as well he was elected one of the three for the General Court. He was a Town Magistrate, 4 June 1655; one of the three Jurymen, 6 Mar. 1655/6; was added to the Town Council, 2 June 1656, and also Juryman for the Court of Trials. On 2 Oct. 1656, "Mr Waterman" was named Juryman and Commissioner, and 27 Apr. 1658 a Commissioner to attend the next General Court. He signed a deed as Town Deputy, 7 Apr. 1659. He was one of the nine men to levy the rate, 25 Mar. 1661. He was on the Grand Jury, 28 Feb. 1662/3. He was on the Town Council, 4 June 1666. [Town Rec. Providence, 2-45, 46, 53, 57, 62, 63, 64, 65, 80, 81, 93, 97, 112, 144; 3-31, 70, 77, 83.]

The colonial records show Richard Waterman present as a Commissioner at General Courts, 18 May 1652, 28 Oct. 1652, 22 May 1655, 17 Mar. 1656, 21 May 1656, 10 Oct. 1656, and 2 Nov. 1658; on the sub-committee for Providence, Mar. 1656; Warden for Providence, 14 Oct. 1658; and in attendance at a meeting of the Council, 9 Mar. 1658/9. [R. I. Colonial Rec., 1-241, 245, 304, 327, 328, 345, 394, 404, 405.]

Other mentions of his civic activities are found. On 27 Apr. 1648, he was surveyor of highways; in 1655, 1658, and 1659 there are references to him as Town Deputy; he signed as Town Deputy, as usual with his mark, 6 Aug. 1655. On the Town Rate of 2 Sept. 1650, he was taxed at £2 10s., a higher rate than most of the proprietors; and on 3 June 1671 "Rich: & Nathaniell Waterman" were entered together at a tax rate of £02:03:09, again a comparatively high rate. [Town Rec. Providence, 1-43; 2-2, 28; 15-13, 33, 71, 135.]

In 1658 mention is made of a place "where Rich watermans Great Cannoo was made." His wife does not appear much in the records, but on 21 Feb. 1646/7, Richard and Bethiah Waterman were summoned with others by Roger Williams to give testimony. Roger Williams on 22 Dec. 1666 gave a copy of a deed which he gave about 28 years before of his Indian purchase at Providence to his "Lo: ffriends" including Richard Waterman. In the list of those who took the Oath of Allegiance to King Charles II, Nathaniel and Resolved Waterman engaged 31 May 1666, but Richard did not give his engagement until 29 Apr. 1670. On 6 June 1670, Richard was one of those who made a payment on the Town's behalf; perhaps this was the debt of £5 which his son claimed from the Town after his death. [ib., 2-17; 3-90, 101, 153; 15-9.]

On 27 Jan. 1650/1, Hugh Bewet sold to Richard Waterman his house and lot lying next to Waterman's house, and bounded on the south side by Stewkly Westcot's homelot. Richard was among those who shared, 19 Feb. 1665, in the Division on the East Side of Seven Mile Line; he had 5 acres laid out upon his purchase right, 23 Jan. 1670/1; and his name appears (after his death) in Divisions made in 1675 west of the Seven Mile Line, and between the Seven Mile Line and Four Mile Line, east of the former. [Town Rec. Providence, 2-10; 3-73, 106; 4-46, 48.]

He was buried on his land in Providence on what became the southeast corner of Waterman and Benefit Streets. A granite monument erected to his memory in 1840, by Richard[6] Waterman (Rufus,[5] Amaziah,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), contains some errors of fact, such as dignifying him with the title of Colonel, and stating that he came from Bristol, England, with Roger Williams, in 1631 in the ship Lion.

The records show him to have been an able, diligent, and conscientious man, probably without much formal education, but with no small measure of natural talent.

3. NATHANIEL[2] WATERMAN (Richard[1]), baptized at Salem, Mass., 20 Aug. 1637, died at Providence, R. I., 23 Mar. 1711/12; married (recorded at Providence), 14 Mar. 1662/3, SUSANNA CARDER, born , died between 3 May 1711, and 22 Mar. 1711/12, daughter of Richard and ——— (———) Carder.

Nathaniel seems to have been the eldest son of Richard Waterman, for he clearly inherited more realty from his father than went to the children of his brother Resolved; and although Richard left a will (which has not survived), he probably would have been influenced by the prevalent English ideas of primogeniture.

He appears frequently in the records, from early manhood until his death. He witnessed a deed of Samuel Bennet as early as 24 Jan. 1657/8, and on 29 May 1659 was a witness to the Indian deed given by Cawjaniquante. He witnessed various other deeds, as on 14 Mar. 1669, 8 Mar. 1669/70, and 8 Feb. 1702/3. [Town Rec. Providence, 4-256; 5-5, 6, 28, 297.]

She married second, 2 Jan. 1676/7, Samuel Winsor, born about 1644, died at Providence, 19 Sept. 1705, son of Joshua Winsor.

Resolved was mentioned with his father in a realty matter in 1661. He served on Petit Juries, 28 Feb. 1662/3 and 20 Apr. 1666. He was on the Freeman list, 2 May 1666. He was elected Constable, 3 June 1667; was reelected, I June 1668, and appeared in that capacity in a record of 8 Mar. 1668/9; but the following year, on 27 July 1669, there was a controversy and it was decided that he had not been legally elected. He purchased the homelot and several pieces of land of Robert West of Providence. The deed is dated 28 Mar. 1679, which, unless the deed was given at that time to confirm the purchase or to make good the lack of a deed, must be a misreading for an earlier date, perhaps 1670. [ib., 14-108.]

On 27 Oct. 1680 it was recorded that "Resolved waterman . . . dyed intestate some yeares Since before ye Late warrs." Action was first taken on his estate, 17 Aug. 1670, when Nathaniel Waterman was appointed as next of kin to take the inventory, and he returned the inventory of "his deceased brother Resolved waterman his Estate" twelve days later. At a meeting of the Town Council, 5 Sept. 1670, Richard Waterman presented a deed to "his three Grand children the sons of Resolved waterman, (deceased)." Mercy Waterman declined administration. Mercie Waterman was on the tax list, 3 June 1671. [ib., 15-135.]

It was reported to the Court, 27 Dec. 1676, that Resolved Waterman died at Newport in 1671 [error for 1670], and that his widow Mercy was allowed the use of the house, houselot and other lands; now she is about to marry Samuel Winsor of Providence. The will of "ye Grand Father Richard Waterman" was mentioned, and distribution was ordered to the sons Richard (Pawtuxet land), Resolved (Pawtuxet land), and John (Warwick land and 20 acres which the father bought of Robert West), and to the daughters Wait and Mary (land Resolved bought of Robert West, and Widow Waterman to pay them £5 each). On 21 Feb. 1681/2, Richard and Resolved Waterman, sons of Resolved, represented that they had lands from grandfather Richard Waterman; Richard became 21 in January last, and has a disagreement with his father-in-law [stepfather] Samuell Winsor. Distribution was made 10 Apr. 1682. [ib., 6-34 to 37, 41 to 43.]

The Bible record of Resolved's grandson, Benoni[4] Waterman [No. 45] contained the following statement: "My father's name was John Waterman; my mother's maiden name was Anne Olney, daughter of Thos. 14. MARY[3] WATERMAN (Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born , died at Scituate, R. I., 19 Feb. 1756; married TRISTRAM DERBY, born , died at Scituate, Aug. 1747.

Tristram Derby bought land in 1715, and sold in 1724 and 1725.

His will, dated 17 Aug. 1747, proved 28 Aug. 1747, gave to his wife Mary half of the movables; the other half, to his son Tristram, but if he never come to New England, the wife to have that half also.

The will of Mary Derby, made 31 Aug. 1747, proved 6 Oct. 1756, gave personal belongings to cousin Joshua Angell, cousin Samuell Angell, cousin Mary Angell, cousin Avis Angell, cousins Phebe Evans and Wait Sheldon. Joshua Angell is to have the residue, and the part which husband's son Tristram was to have, if latter come not to New England.

Of the cousins [nephews and nieces] named in the will of Mrs. Derby, Joshua, Samuel and Mary Angell (and probably Avis also) are identified as children of Hannah (Winsor) Angell, while Phebe Evans* and Wait Sheldon must be identified as children of Wait (Waterman) Rhodes. Since Mary Waterman was younger sister of Wait (Waterman) Rhodes, and elder half-sister of Hannah (Winsor) Angell, her will proves that it was she who married Tristram Derby.

Richard Waterman appears on a Muster Roll of Capt. Timothy Durget's Co.; resided at "Narrow Ganset"; served 14 June to 5 July (at Fort Dummer, 1725). [Mass. Archives, 91-236.]

He was appointed, as Richard Waterman, Jr., Ensign of the 4th Providence Company, May 1742; and was reappointed 1743 as Richard Waterman, 4th.† [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-90, 95.]

Richard Waterman, 3rd, of Providence, yeoman, for £53, conveyed 23 May 1746 to John Pain of Providence; his wife Mary signed with him; witnesses, William Carpenter, Richard Waterman, Junr. On 10 June 1748,

* Probably widow of Benjamin Munro, and mother of James Munro who m. at Providence, 11 Mar. 1773, Rebecca Snow; among the children of James was a Patty, nickname for Martha.

† He was of course junior in relationship to his father. But he was the "4th" of the name living in Providence until 3 Aug. 1744 when Capt. Richard [No. 7] died; "3rd" of the name, as he is called in some deeds, from 3 Aug. 1744 until 28 Sept. 1748 when Richard [No. 10] died; thereafter "2nd" or "junior" in relation to his cousin Richard [No. 16] until Cranston became a separate town in 1754.

Richard Waterman (the third) of Providence, yeoman, conveyed for love to "my Loveing Daughter Anne Carpenter and her husband William Carpenter" of Providence; witnesses, Joseph Snow, Daniel Snow. [Land Rec. Providence, 12-45, 216.]

On 21 Feb. 1767, Richard Waterman, of Cranston, yeoman, for £16,500, conveyed to Joseph Burges of Little Compton, R. I., his 160-acre farm in Cranston, being the grantor's homestead. The same date, John Waterman, Jr., of Cranston, yeoman, for £11,000, conveyed to Joseph Burges 60 acres with dwelling house in Cranston, on which the grantor lives. Richard Waterman of Cranston, yeoman, for 5 shillings, conveyed to Nathan Williams of Cranston, 27 Apr. 1767, a witness being Zuriel Waterman. [Cranston Land Rec. (at Providence), 200-19, 60, 62, 65.]

He is buried, with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Martha Waterman, in Mitchell Cemetery, Greenfield, Saratoga Co., N. Y. His exact age of death, on his gravestone, makes his birth-date 14 May 1706, which with allowance for the calendar change would be 3 May 1706, three days different from the birth record.

He was a member of the Cranston Town Council for the years ending June 1759, 1760, 1761, 1762, and 1763. He was Inspector of Estates (Cranston) for the years ending June 1762 and 1763.

On 1 Oct. 1765, Richard Seaver of Providence (his wife Hannah also signed) and John Waterman, Junr., of Cranston, yeoman and son of Richard Waterman (his wife Martha also signed), for £60, conveyed to Job Sweeting of Providence, land and storehouse in Providence. Witnesses: Benj[a] Cary, Barnard Eddy. [Land Rec. Providence, 17-457.]

On 12 May 1735, Anna Waterman, wife of Resolved Waterman, of Providence, for £50, conveyed to Benjamin Potter, Jr., of Providence, all her interest in the estate of her father Abel Potter, deceased, of Providence; witnesses, Benjamin Smith, Samuel Byles. [Land Rec. Providence, 9-418.] This deed, perhaps because her husband did not join in it, seems to have been defective, and another was given later. On 12 Mar. 1738, Resolved Waterman, son of Mr. Richard Waterman, of Providence, yeoman, and Anne Waterman his wife, for £60, conveyed to "our brother" Benjamin Potter, Jr., of Providence, all interest in "the homestead farm which was our Honoured fathers Mr. Abell Potters of Providence, deceased, whereon the said Benjamin Potter now dwells." Witnesses, Ezekiel Warner, Stephen J. Potter. [ib., A10-198.]

Abel Potter and Rebecca Paine were married at Providence, 1 Jan. 1712/13; their son Benjamin was born 18 Oct. 1713. The birth record of Anne is not found, but probably occurred 1714-15; she may have been under 21 when she independently gave her brother the deed in 1735. Probably Benjamin and Anne were the only children by the first marriage of Abel Potter, for he married second, 30 Apr. 1719, Martha, widow of John Paine. Benjamin Potter, known as "Jr.," married 25 Dec. 1735, Jemima Williams; their daughter Rebecca Potter, born about 1736, became the wife of Zuriel[5] Waterman [No. 62].

Resolved Waterman of Providence was made a freeman, 3 May 1743. [R. I. Col. Rec., 5-62.]

39. JOHN[4] WATERMAN (Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born about 1716, died at Johnston, R. I., 12 Feb. 1799, aged 84; married at Smithfield, R. I., 17 June 1739, MARY WHIPPLE, born (probably in Providence), about 1718, died at Johnston, 27 July 1810 in 92d yr., daughter of (Capt.) Job and Lydia (Harding) Whipple.

He had a saw and grist mill on Pocasset Brook in Johnston, and was called "Miller John."

He was Surveyor of Highways for the years ending June 1764 and 1765; Town Treasurer, year ending June 1768; member of the Town Council for the years ending June 1760, 1761, 1762, and 1770. He served as Deputy for Johnston to the General Assembly, May 1759, May 1767 and May 1782.‡ [R. I. Col. Rec., 6-206, 523; 9-540.] John Waterman Esq., of Johnston, was one of the managers of a lottery, Oct. 1761, to build the Baptist meeting house. [ib., 6-290.]

William H. Waterman states that John Waterman's Bible was owned in 1903 by Mrs. James Brown Fisk of Providence, R. I. His house, called the "Resolved Waterman Place," was reputed to be 150 years old in 1880, and

* According to the Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy, 6-466, this Anne Waterman m. William Colgrove (1726-1800) of Foster and Scituate, R. I., and had a son Caleb (1771-1832). It is not seen how this could be so, since she died in infancy, had a younger sister of the same name, and neither Anne is mentioned in the father's will, confirming the gravestone record of early death.

† 6 May 1732 ae. 7-0-11, by another copy.

‡ We follow the division of Deputy service between John4 [No. 39] and John5 [No. 60] as given in the William H. Waterman Collection, but without feeling certain of it. But Mr. William H. Waterman had gone through the town records, where the evidence for distinguishing between these men may be apparent.

was then owned by his great-granddaughter, Sophronia[7] Waterman (Resolved,[6] Laban,[5] John[4]).

In the 1790 Census his family at Johnston consisted of two males over 16 years and two females.

The inventory states that Job Whipple died 19 Apr. 1750. [Council and Probate Journal, Smithfield, 2-26, 28.]

The will of John Waterman, Esq., of Johnston, dated 3 Mar. 1798, proved 9 Mar. 1799, gave to wife, Mary Waterman, a cow and certain pasturage for life, then to go to son Job; to four daughters, viz. * It is said that she was Anne Greene, born 25 June 1689, sister of his second wife.

† But in her grandfather's will in 1743, according to Austin, she was called Mary Spencer.

at Newport [recorded at Warwick], R. I., 5 June 1729, HANNAH TOWNSEND, born about 1706, died at Warwick, 12 Jan. 1740/1, aged 34, daughter of Solomon and Catherine (Almy) Townsend; married second, at Warwick, 7 Jan. 1741/2, MERCY STAFFORD, born at Warwick, 12 Mar. 1714/15, died at Warwick, 28 Feb. 1811, aged 96 yrs. 11 mos. (gravestone, Old Waterman Burying Ground near Centreville in Warwick), daughter of Thomas and Anne (Greene) Stafford.

He was a master mariner, of Warwick, R. I., but spent the last part of his life in Coventry. He was made a freeman, 5 May 1724. [R. I. Col. Rec., 4-340.] After his father's death, he retained 120 acres, but conveyed the homestead to his brother Benoni and other land to his sister Elizabeth, to carry out his father's wishes. He conveyed for love, 20 Jan. 1731, to his three sisters, Anne, Phebe and Patience Waterman, all of Warwick, land from the Providence homestead of their father, Capt. John Waterman, deceased. [Land Rec. Providence, 8-520.]

He was called of Newport, R. I., 1 Sept. 1735, and 14 May 1738, when he sold land in Warwick. [Land Rec. Warwick, 5-314; 6-99.]

He was drawn Grand Juror, 24 Nov. 1740, and Petit Juror, 26 Aug. 1746, and was rate-maker for the years ending June 1745, 1746, and 1747. [Town Rec. Warwick.]

The first town meetings of Coventry were held at his house. He was appointed Justice of the Peace for Coventry, May 1747, and Feb. 1748. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-124, 131.] He was Town Treasurer for the years ending Aug. 1748 to 1752 inclusive; and Surveyor of Highways, for the years ending Aug. 1750, 1751, and 1752. At town meeting in May 1751, he was ordered to build a pound for the use of the town, and to be pounder for the rest of the year, and he was continued in this office for the succeeding year.

He was thrown from his horse and drowned while fording Still River in Coventry. He was returning from a business journey at nightfall through a blinding snowstorm. His family, expecting him, placed a lighted candle in an upper window as a guide. In the morning he had not returned, and search was made. At several places it was learned that he had stopped or passed. At the river they found the horse nearly frozen, but alive, with his bridle caught in an overhanging limb of a tree. Upon looking further, they found the body of John Waterman lying in the river. He was buried in Coventry. His widow soon after returned to Warwick, near Centreville, where she lived for fifty years on a farm adjoining the Clapp Farm. In 1894 his grave was opened to remove his remains to Warwick to place them beside those of his second wife, and his bones were found to be in an almost perfect state of preservation.

Administration on John Waterman's estate was granted, 14 Dec. 1751, to the widow, Mercy. Inventory: £7,647.12.6. Thomas Waterman, her brother, was appointed guardian to Hannah Waterman, 3 Sept. 1753; Col. Benoni Waterman was appointed her guardian, 2 June 1755. [Probate Rec. Coventry.]

Mercy Waterman of Coventry, widow and relict to John Waterman late of Coventry Esq[r] Deceased, in consideration of the rents and profits of the farm on which William Fowler now resides in Warwick, conveyed 16 Nov. 1752 to Thomas Waterman of Coventry "all my Rights of Dower . . . that I have . . . in or to ye Farm on which I now Live." 49-3. (DR.) ZURIEL[6] WATERMAN (Christopher,[5] Zuriel,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Cranston, R. I., 20 Jan. 1756, died there 18 Sept. 1786.

He was a physician, of Cranston, R. I. He served in the Revolutionary War, and in 1880 his niece, Miss Maria[7] Waterman, owned a letter which he sent to Capt. Zachariah Rhodes, directed to be left at Morton's Tavern, White Horse, Boston. It reads:

I am here a prisoner of war captured by the Duc de Chartres 26th of Feb. I am treated very well on board the prison ship and find good quarters and am in very good health but to say I am contented or easy would argue stupidity. All the scenes of ill luck which attend me far from attracting me to misfortune render it more disgustful. Although I can not be philosopher enough to say I am content yet thank Heaven I have fortitude remaining. The distant prospect of a mountainous rugged country gives a horrid idea of its locality yet in traveling through it there will be found many little delightful spots and scenes which amuse though unthought of before. Amidst all the scenes of life I can't forget your friendship which did not begin from any interested affair and I shall not fear its loss from any. I have some prospect of getting away soon then will write again. Remember me to your brother and wife and all friends.

I am your constant friend.
Z. WATERMAN.

Charlestown Lord Howe's
Prison Ship. Mar. 14. 1782.

The Providence Gazette of 23 Sept. 1786 contains this account of his death:

The manner of his death was singular. A cistern containing about nine inches of stagnant water which had been standing for years was to be drained off. The man went into the cistern and fainted. The Doctor and Mr. Zachariah Rhodes seeing trouble went down to his rescue and both fell to the bad gases. When the three were finally got out the Doctor was so far gone that he died after great agony. The other two are in the way of recovery.

"Whereas Doctor Zuriel Waterman late of Cranston died Intestate, and Mr. George Waterman of said Town Brother to the deceased appeared" and obtained letters of administration of the personal estate. [Council Records, Cranston, 2-517.]

51. James[5] Waterman (Zuriel,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Providence, R. I., 3 Nov. 1732, died at Coventry, R. I., 9 July 1777 in 45th yr. (gravestone); married at Providence [Cranston], 22 Mar. 1753, Amey Westcott, born about 1734, died at Coventry, 25 Dec. 1830, in 96th year (called of Warwick Neck), daughter of Benjamin, Jr. and Anna (Edmonds) Westcott. She married second, Christopher Greene of Warwick.

He took the Freeman's Oath, being then of Cranston, 20 Apr. 1757 [R. I. Col. Rec. 6-46], and was drawn Petit Juror the same date. He was Constable for the years ending June 1760, 1761 and 1762.

He was appointed Justice of the Peace for Coventry, June 1767, May 1768, and May 1769, but refused the last appointment. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-271, 274, 284, 285.]

He was appointed to procure and receive ammunition for Coventry, 22 Apr. 1775. He presented a bill, June 1777, for boarding nine prisoners of war. [R. I. Col. Rec., 7-308; 8-272.]

Administration on his estate was granted, 27 Sept. 1777, to his widow Amey and son Thomas. [Probate Rec. Coventry.]

Note: The Stukely Westcott Family (op. cit.) states that Benjamin[4] Westcott (Stukely,[3] Jeremiah,[2] Stukely[1]), born at Warwick, R. I., 31 Dec. 1709, died at Coventry, R. I., 11 Apr. 1801, married (intention, 28 Apr. 1733), Ann Edmonds, daughter of Lieut. William Edmonds of Providence, and had:

1. Joseph, d. in 1800.
2. Dorcas, m. ——— Gorton, and had a dau. Anna mentioned in her father's will.
3. Freelove, d. after 1794; m. Thomas Waterman; had son, Thomas, Jr.

* There were probably more children.

† Reported in U. S. Chronicle, issue of 24 Nov. 1785, hence did not die 3 May 1786, as it is claimed her gravestone reads,—quite likely a misreading.

4. Almy, m. 22 Mar. 1753, James Waterman, brother of Freelove's husband; it is thought she m. (2) ——— Greene.
5. Lydia,* m. 9 Oct. 1755, William Stone, Jr., of Coventry.

The following notation is found in a Bible (now at the Rhode Island Historical Society) supposed to have belonged to the original Stukely Westcott: "This Bible was the property of Stukly Westcot, one of the Twelve Followers of Roger Williams From His Banishment out of Massachusetts to Providence. Then it Descended to His Son Stukly Westcot and From Him to Benjamin Westcot His Son and From Benjamin Westcot to Mr. Thomas Waterman His Grandson my Mother being His daughter." This was evidently written by Thomas Waterman himself and the descent stated is correct except for the omission of Jeremiah Westcott between the first and the second Stukely. The following is added: "Then from Thomas Waterman's widow to Lydia Stone and the Daughter of the said Benjamin Westcott and from Lydia Stone to Asa Stone her son."

The family of Benjamin[4] Westcott seems to be not entirely correct, as set forth in the Westcott book. The will of Benjamin Westcot, dated 1 Aug. 1794, proved 1 June 1801, gave the personalty and profits from real estate during widowhood to wife Anna; about 20 acres to daughter Almy Greene; the homestead farm with buildings to daughter Lydia Stone; and personalty to granddaughters Anna Gorton and Ruth Stone, and grandsons Arthur Stone, Asa Stone, Thomas Waterman, and William Stone, Jr., the last two being the Executors. [Probate Rec. Coventry, 1-296 to 298.]

The grandchild Anna Gorton is Anna (Waterman) Gorton, daughter of James and Amey (Westcott) Waterman; not a daughter of Dorcas whose existence and alleged marriage to a Gorton have not been verified. Perhaps a daughter Freelove Westcott married a Waterman, but she did not marry Thomas Waterman, brother of James. The grandson Thomas Waterman was son of James and Amey (Westcott) Waterman. The Bible, after his death, was given by his widow to his aunt, Lydia (Westcott) Stone. This indicates that Thomas Waterman died childless. So far as we can learn, Benjamin Westcott was survived by only two children: Amey or Almy who married first, James Waterman, and second, a Greene; and Lydia, who married William Stone. All the grandchildren who received legacies were children of either Amey or Lydia.

51-1. (Lieut.) Thomas[6] Waterman (James,[5] Zuriel,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born about 1754, died at Coventry, R. I., 6 Apr. 1822 in 68th yr. (gravestone); married Marcy† Randall, born about 1748, died at Coventry, 7 Sept. 1833 in her 86th yr. (gravestone), daughter of Job Randall of Scituate, R. I.

No children.

He was appointed 2nd Lieutenant of the Coventry Rangers, June 1791 [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-497], being then called "Thomas Waterman, 2nd," to distinguish him from Thomas Waterman [No. 84].

Thomas Waterman of Coventry (with Mary his wife) gave conveyances 24 Apr. 1783, 7 June 1784, 26 Mar. 1785, 31 July 1786, and 18 Jan. 1790; in the last deed they sold two acres "Given to me by Honoured Grandfather Benjamin Westcott." [Land Rec. Coventry, 6-127, 128, 148, 130, 422.]

* On page 190 of volume 2, the Westcott Genealogy states that Lydia was born 1730 and died 14 Apr. 1827; but the birth date makes her older than her husband and born three years before her parents married.

On 9 Sept. 1784, mutual conveyances were exchanged by Matthew and Mary Hill of Scituate, Jonathan, Jr., and Lydia Eddy of Glocester, Jeremiah and Phebe Winsor of Smithfield, and Thomas Waterman and Marcy his wife of Coventry. [Land Rec. Foster, R. I., 2-111, 112.]

Matthew Hill of North Kingston married at Scituate, 15 Dec. 1757, Mary Randall, daughter of Job of Scituate. Jeremiah Winsor married 24 Nov. 1763, Phebe Randall, recorded at Smithfield. Jonathan Eddy, Jr., married 12 Apr. 1772, Lydia Randall, daughter of Job of Scituate, recorded at Glocester. The marriage of Thomas Waterman has not been found, but the deeds indicate that his wife was another daughter of Job Randall.

Administration on the estate of Thomas Waterman, the widow declining, was granted to James W. Gorton, 20 Apr. 1822. [Probate Rec. Coventry.] A guardian was appointed for his widow, Marcy, 5 Dec. 1829. [ib.]

I., 3 Mar. 1832; married first, at Cumberland, 26 Mar. 1775, Sarah (Herendeen) Ballard, born at Smithfield, R. I., 2 May 1741, died 16 Aug. 1788, daughter of Francis and Dorcas (Brown) Herendeen, and widow of David Ballard; married second, at Cumberland, 26 Apr. 1814, Elizabeth Herendeen* of Cumberland, born about 1770, died by 1853.

He was a director of a lottery to repair the bridge over Pawtucket River, Oct. 1770, and Dec. 1779. He was appointed Lieutenant of the 1st Company of Minute Men of Cumberland, June 1775 [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-321], and was Captain in 1776-77. He served as Deputy in May and Oct. 1776, and Recruiting Officer for Cumberland in 1775, and 1780. [R. I. Col. Rec., 7-21, 351, 359, 511; 8-4, 632; 9-179.] He was one of the signers of the R. I. Declaration of Independence, 4 May 1776, and was the last surviving member of the General Assembly that adopted it; as such, he rode in a barouche with Gen. William Barton at the celebration in Providence, 4 July 1827.

Elisha Waterman of Cumberland and Elizabeth Waterman his wife, "in the right of said Elizabeth," sold to John Jenckes of Smithfield, an undivided seventh part of 13 acres 28 rods in Smithfield, 6 Sept. 1828. [Land Rec. Central Falls, 16-592.]

Pension Files, R 11181. Declaration for pension, Providence County, R. I., 6 June 1843. Elizabeth Waterman of Cumberland, aged 73, widow of Elisha Waterman, who died 3 Mar. 1832, deposed that he served as Captain in Militia, and in a Corps of Minutemen raised in 1775 by the State.

* Harrington in marriage record, but we suppose her identical with the mother of his son Amasa, and the spelling of this name appears indifferently in a dozen or so forms.

Levi Lee, of Cumberland, aged 84, deposed his service as Minuteman in Co. of Capt. Elisha Waterman in 1775; he went to Block Island and Newport in June or July.

Lewis B. Arnold, Town Clerk of Cumberland, R. I., sent a copy of record showing marriage, 29 Apr. 1814, of Elisha Waterman and Elizabeth Harrington, both of Cumberland.

On 25 Sept. 1843, Nathan Streeter, of Northbridge, Worcester County, Mass., aged 92, testified that he was born and brought up there; lived there during the Revolution, and was well acquainted with Capt. Elisha Waterman, who was present and took part in a skirmish on Prudence Island when the British Commander, Commodore Wallace, had his vessel in Narragansett Bay. Streeter served under Capt. Waterman several times. The dates were not recollected, but it was some time after Streeter's eight months' service at Roxbury in 1775.

Noah Butterworth, of Wrentham, Norfolk County, Mass., in 82d year, deposed he was born and brought up in Cumberland, R. I., and was a neighbor to Elisha Waterman, who was Captain during early years of the War. He did not serve with him, but knew of his movements; remembers that Christopher Harris and James Follett, both now deceased, served with him.

Copy of Act of Assembly, Aug. 1777, and 19 Dec. 1775, in which Elisha Waterman was named among those authorized to enlist men for companies of twenty. A list of twenty-four men, among them the name of Christopher Harris, is with the papers.

A Court record shows that "Elisha Waterman was Captain of a Company of Minutemen during the years 1775 and 1776, and served during said years."

On 12 May 1853, Amasa W. Whipple, aged 42, grandson and administrator of Elizabeth Waterman, requested balance of pension money due. The application had been rejected.

He was present with his company on Prudence Island on the night of 14 Jan. 1777, taking a very prominent part in the skirmish that occurred on that date between the English forces under General Wallace and the American militia under Col. John Waterman.

The object of the landing of the English being to steal sheep, a number of boatloads of troops were landed upon the island. By his activity, Capt. Waterman had his company first in readiness to receive the enemy, who soon after landing began a hasty retreat, being astonished at the number of the American forces upon the island. He seized a musket from one of his men, ran after the retreating British, and shouted to his men to follow him. When near enough, he fired into their ranks, and one of their number was seen to fall. The English immediately fired a volley in return, but he escaped unhurt.

A company of minutemen from Providence under command of Capt. Aaron Mann were present, and were second in readiness to receive the English. Capt. Mann was immediately behind Capt. Waterman when the latter ran after the English, and shouted, "Give it to the damn redcoats, Elisha, we will kill every damn cuss of them." The English reached their boats in safety, taking the wounded man with them.

Two of his men, being overcome with cowardice, deserted during the skirmish and hid themselves upon the island. He was the owner of three or four slaves and had one with him at the time by the name of Pedro, who was sent in search of the deserters. They were found stowed away on the shelves of a closet in a house. Pedro shouted, "Here are the damn cowards, master." "Give me your sword and I will make mincemeat of them and give them to the sharks." Capt. Waterman ordered them to come down, pack up and leave the island in the morning, telling them he would not have any cowards in his company.

After the war, Capt. Mann was a frequent visitor to the home of Capt. Waterman, and they often joked about the skirmish.

In 1801, in partnership with his brother Rufus and Mr. Wolcott, he erected in Cumberland, which then included Woonsocket, the first cotton mill in that town, and the third one in Rhode Island. He was manager. This mill was burned in 1830. He was one of the four founders of the Smithfield Manufacturing Company.

He was a member of the Town Council for the years ending June 1781, 1790, 1794, 1800, 1802, and 1807. He was an assessor in 1806 and other years. In the 1790 Census his family consisted of five males over 16 years, three males under 16, and four females.

Elisha Waterman of Cumberland purchased interests in a sawmill in Attleborough, Mass., 18 Feb. 1769 and 2 Dec. 1772. [Land Rec. Bristol County, Mass., 55-473.]

The will of Elisha Waterman of Cumberland, R. I., recorded 14 Apr. 1832, gave to wife Elizabeth Waterman the use of the east end of dwelling, annual sums to be paid by specified heirs, and $4,000.00; to Richard Carrique of Cumberland, in trust for my daughter Abigail wife of Bennet Whipple, the homestead farm; to Squire French of Pawtucket, in trust for my daughter Dorcas wife of David Bucklin, half of my interest in the manufacturing company of Squire French & Co., also farm conveyed to me by my brother Nathan Waterman; to grandson, Amaziah Waterman, land; to granddaughter, Sarah wife of Ambrose Clark, land given to me by my uncle Simeon Brown; to granddaughter, Louisa Taft, land; Richard Carrique and Squire French, Executors. * If Elizabeth Herendeen was niece of Elisha's first wife, there may have been a legal or ecclesiastical bar to their marriage. They seem to have lived together as husband and wife from 1789 until Elisha's death in 1832, and their legal marriage a year after the death of their only son adds a pathetic note to the story.

54-5. Rufus[7] Waterman (Henry,[6] Rufus,[5] Amaziah,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Providence, R. I., 20 May 1817, died there 1 June 1896, aged 79-0-11; married first, at Providence, 13 Aug. 1838, Elizabeth Bowen Greene, born at Providence (or Warwick?) 12 Sept. 1818, died there 9 July 1848, daughter of Franklin and Anna E. (Bowen) Greene; married second, 27 Oct. 1852, Emily Greene, born at Warwick, R. I., 24 Feb. 1825, died at Boston, Mass., 2 Feb. 1883, aged 58, buried in Providence, sister of his first wife.

He was a merchant, of Providence, R. I. He served as Representative in May and Oct. 1843, and May and Oct. 1844. He was a member of "Providence Franklin Society," and an incorporator, trustee, secretary, and member of the first board of managers of the Ministry at Large Society of Providence.

He was educated in local private schools, and for about four years attended Charles W. Greene's Academy at Jamaica Plain, Mass. He began his mercantile career in the counting room of Grinnell & Sons, dealers in hardware, paints and oils, and afterwards for one year was with Jonathan Congdon & Sons, iron merchants. In 1838 he engaged in the iron business with Charles H. Mason, under the firm name of Mason & Waterman. He subsequently carried on business alone for some time, and then associated himself with Henry T. Cornett, with whom he continued to do business under the firm name of Rufus Waterman & Company until he retired in 1848 to take a prominent part in the Providence Tool Company.

This business was first organized in Pawtucket by William Field, Rufus Waterman and others. In 1846 William Field, Freeman Foster, Henry T. Cornett and Rufus Waterman organized the Rhode Island Tool and Machine Company and removed to Providence, the name being changed in 1847 to the Providence Tool Company. Mr. Waterman was one of the directors of the Corporation, and subsequently became its treasurer, both of which positions he occupied until 1853. Soon after, with S. A. Nightingale, George H. Corliss and others, he organized the Providence Forge and Nut Company, for which a factory was built, of which he was a director and treasurer. This was afterwards consolidated with the Providence Tool Company, of which he continued a director until 1875. The Company, in addition to its regular business, manufactured 25,000 Springfield rifles for the U. S. Government, and filled several foreign arms contracts, notably one for the Turkish Government.

Mr. Waterman was one of the original stockholders of the Union Oil Company, and served as president and treasurer of the corporation for twenty years after its incorporation in 1856. He was elected a director of the Exchange Bank in 1841, serving thirty-four years in that capacity; and became the president of that institution after it had become a national bank in 1868, holding the office until 1875. He held a directorship in the Providence Institution for Savings from 1863 until his death. From 1858 he had been a trustee of Swan Point Cemetery, and for more than forty years acted as trustee of several large estates.

He was prominent in civic affairs, and instrumental in the erection of several buildings, and active in the movement to widen several streets; his initiative was largely responsible for the laying out of the Blackstone Boulevard.

He was an active participant in the incidents of the Dorr War, serving as Quartermaster-General on the side of the law and order party. He was a Whig, and later a Republican.

"Mr. Waterman was richly endowed with that sense of humor which is one of God's best gifts to his creatures. His wit was often almost brilliant, but never biting. He was the genial companion of the late Gov. Anthony, and that stalwart Rhode Islander Nathan F. Dixon, of Rivers and Clarke, of Payne and Burnside, and many others famous in the social annals of Providence, all of whom have preceded him to that boundless realm whose gates he has now entered.

"As a companion, Mr. Waterman was both cordial and delightful. His amiability of character, his store of anecdote, and his inexhaustible fund of humor made his friendship constant and his society attractive. The infirmity of deafness, to which in his later years he was subject . . . had no influence upon his sunny nature.

"Born to social position, to business prominence and to wealth, he enjoyed the advantages they brought to him modestly, and shared them generously. . . . When relentless death and disaster had swept away all but the memory of these past joys, Mr. Waterman quietly and bravely took up his burden of loneliness and sorrow and walked erect. He never murmured or repined. He never lost interest in his friends or in the public welfare. When he had means he gave liberally of money, of time, of thought and of labor. When wealth was gone he still gave of his diminished store, and gave the more freely of himself."

Rufus Waterman was appointed Administrator, 21 Nov. 1848, of the Estate of his wife, Elizabeth B. Waterman.

The will of Emily G. Waterman, wife of Rufus Waterman, of Providence, dated 28 Dec. 1875, gave all her estate to her niece, Anna B. Waterman; appointed her husband executor. [Probate Rec. Providence, 29-262.]

On 9 Nov. 1868, Franklin Greene of Jamaica Plain, Mass., Henry W. Greene of East Greenwich, R. I., Rufus Waterman and Emily G. Waterman in her right, Pardon Bowen Greene of Proviso, Cook Co., Ill., Charles W. Greene of Warwick, William W. B. Greene of Lee, Mass., Henry Waterman of Providence, Richard Waterman of Cambridge, Mass., Rufus Waterman, Jr., of Providence, and Anna B. Waterman of Providence, heirs of Franklin Greene, deceased, late of East Greenwich, conveyed land in Warwick. [Deeds, Warwick, 36A-151.]

Administration on Rufus Waterman's estate was granted, 25 Aug. 1896, to Stephen O. Edwards. Inventory: $2,257.71. Distribution made 16 Nov. 1900 to Richard, Henry and Rufus Waterman. [Probate Rec. Providence.]

55. RICHARD[5] WATERMAN (Amaziah,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Providence, R. I., 12 Nov. 1751, died at Coventry, R. I., 28 June 1847 in 96th yr. (gravestone); married at Coventry, 20 Oct. 1776, ELIZABETH VAUGHN, born at Coventry, 8 Nov. 1757, died there 15 May 1837 in 80th yr. (gravestone), daughter of (Capt.) Caleb and Huldah (Bowen) Vaughn.

He was prominent in efforts to improve the educational facilities of Coventry; held some town offices; and was drawn a Petit Juror on 1 Dec. 1806. He was reputed to be something of a "dandy," whereas his brothers never changed the style of their dress. He was listed at Coventry in the 1790 Census as head of a family of four males over 16 years, three males under 16, and three females.

He bought land in Foster, R. I., in 1801 and in 1804; and in 1806, being of Coventry, conveyed two tracts for love to his son Stephen, his wife Elizabeth signing with him. [Land Rec. Foster, 1-450, 452; 4-107.]

Richard Waterman of Coventry, R. I., for $535.00, bought 20 Feb. 1795 from Archibald Stewart of Providence, one share of land granted by the Ohio Land Company [Deeds, Washington Co., Ohio, 2-351]. Rufus Waterman, Tallow Chandler of Providence, also bought land in Washington Co., Ohio, 9 Nov. 1795, his deed being witnessed by Elisha Waterman; and Nathan Waterman of Providence also bought a share. [ib., 2-349; Ohio Land Company's Record, A-84.] Rufus and Nathan were Richard's brothers.*

He lived in that part of Coventry which was afterwards called Mount

* No evidence has been seen that members of this family settled in Ohio. However, a Richard Waterman of Marietta, Ohio, was dead by Nov. 1822. His estate, consisting of calves and steers, amounted to $74.00; after paying debts and charges, $5.00 remained, which the Court ordered paid to the Overseer of the Poor of the Township of Marietta. [Probate Rec. Washington County, 3-288.]

Vernon, and bequeathed the sum of $500.00, the income to be used to pay a minister of the Calvinistic Baptist faith to preach twice a month within two miles of where the testator had lived. When such preaching could not be obtained, the income was to accumulate. By 1894, because of judicious investment of the principal sum, and some periods in which the interest accumulated, the fund had reached a market value of $9,600.00. On 4 Oct. 1894, the Mount Vernon Baptist Church was constituted, and three months later the recognition services were held, which entitled it to the income from the Waterman fund. The recognition sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Spalding of Boston, a member of the Waterman family, and among those who attended were Thomas Waterman, a grandson of Richard, and P. C. Sheldon of Pawtucket, another descendant.

The will of Richard Waterman of Coventry, dated 12 Mar. 1831, presented 10 July 1847, named wife Elizabeth; granddaughter, Mary Cook Waterman, $1,000.00; $500.00 to pay a Minister of the Gospel of the Calvinistic Baptist order, to preach at least two Sundays a month within two miles of the house where I now live; three sons, Stephen, Nathan and Caleb, the remainder. I., 19 June 1805, died there 16 Dec. 1880, aged 75-5-27; married 24 Oct. 1833, MARTHA BURRILL PEARCE, born at Providence, 29 May 1814, died at Providence, 11 Feb. 1907, aged 92-8-12, daughter of Earl D. and Lydia (Wheaton) Pearce.

He was prepared for college at the University Grammar School, was graduated from Brown University (A.B., 1824). Soon after, he received an appointment in the United States Branch Bank, of which his father was cashier. After this was closed by the government, and a short service in the City Bank, he entered the Roger Williams Bank as a clerk, became cashier in 1854, and also a director. Here he remained until near the close of his life.

His tastes were refined and cultivated, and he kept alive to a remarkable degree his early fondness for the Latin classics, as well as for favorite English authors. His spirit was amiable and gentle, and his nature was reverent and devout. For the last twenty-five years of his life he was a constant worshiper at St. John's Episcopal Church. He wrote in his younger days very charming verses.

He was a member of the Common Council for the years ending June 1848 and 1849, and was Alderman for the years ending June 1857 to June 1860 inclusive.

Martha B. Waterman, widow of the intestate, was appointed Administratrix of the estate of William H. Waterman who died 16 Dec. 1880; sureties, Marcus Waterman, Richard Waterman and William C. Waterman; 1 Feb. 1881. [Probate Rec. Providence.]

In 1874 he opened a studio in Boston, Mass., where an exhibition of his work was held in 1878, previous to his departure for Europe. He visited Algiers in 1879 and 1883, and Spain in 1882, and went abroad again in 1884. His landscapes include "Gulliver in Lilliput," which was at the Centennial Exhibition in 1876; "The Roc's Egg" (1886), "The Journey to the City of Brass" (1888), and numerous American forest scenes and Arabian subjects.

He participated in most of the major engagements of the Civil War, and had two horses shot under him at Malvern Hill. At the close of the war, he was offered but declined the Colonelcy of the Marine Corps of Artillery. He was a companionable man, with a ready wit and a kind heart. He was a discriminating reader, and often wrote with ease and skill in both prose and verse.

55-5. (Capt.) Richard Mason[7] Waterman (Caleb,[6] Richard,[5] Amaziah,[4] Richard,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Coventry, R. I., 1 Nov. 1808, died at Eugene, Ind., 23 Aug. 1863; married first, in Berks County, Pa., 9 Feb. 1835, Letinia Meredith, of Pennsylvania, who died in 1837; married second, 15 Mar. 1838, Pamelia Hosford, born in New York, 15 Aug. 1815, died at Eugene, Ind., 17 Oct. 1870, daughter of ——— and Naomi (Gookins) Hosford.

He received the degree of M.D. from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pa., 1833, and became a physician.

As a youth of fifteen, he went to sea as a cabin boy, and sailed around the globe. He was admitted a Freeman in Coventry, R. I., 18 Apr. 1832. He went from Coventry to Indiana on horseback, starting the middle of May and reaching Eugene on 1 July. He never held any official positions at Eugene except that for twenty years he was connected with schools as director, trustee, and commissioner. He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity; member of Parke Chapter, R.A.M. No. 8 of Rockville, Ind.; Past Master of Unity Lodge No. 34, of Eugene, Ind., and also of Lodiville Lodge No. 172, of Waterman, Ind. The town of Waterman in Indiana was named for him.

In July 1861, he went to the Rendezvous at Montezuma, Ind., followed by a score or more of his immediate neighbors. He was much the oldest man among them (he was then nearly 53), and it was thought he would not take the field, but would use his influence in raising a company and then return home. When the "Wabash Rifles" met in a grain warehouse to elect its officers, he was chosen 2d Lieutenant and soon afterwards was commissioned to that office by Gov. O. P. Morton. After the company was organized, they were ordered to "Camp Vigo," near Terre Haute, Ind., and then mustered into the service of the United States, 5 Sept. 1861, as Co. A, 31st Ind. Vols., as the nucleus of an army being organized there under the command of Maj.-Gen. Thomas L. Crittenden. In the camp of instruction, when the regiment was as strong in the hospital as on the drill ground, he was doctor or officer on the lines, as occasion required.

The first battle was Fort Donelson. He had now reached the rank of 1st Lieutenant, and was in command of his company, and was 1st Lieutenant Commanding at Shiloh. At Murfreesboro he was Captain. In this battle he took the gun and equipment of a dead soldier, and seeing that he would be captured, hid his sword under a log, where it was found in 1881 and returned to his son at Waterman, Ind. He pretended that he was a Private, and deaf, and in consequence was exchanged in a few months. He was at Chickamauga and other battles on the Atlanta Campaign, but returned home ill and died of disease contracted in the service.

When he went in the army, he secured a charter for a Masonic Lodge to be attached to his regiment, and was elected its Master.

On 24 July 1864, the request of Parmelia Waterman, widow, and Caleb W. Waterman and Robert H. Waterman, sons and next of kin, of Richard M. Waterman late of Fulton, Indiana, for appointment of an administrator was dismissed. [Probate Rec. Providence, 27-235.]

Benjamin F. Carpenter was appointed guardian, 4 June 1867, of Elizabeth and Emily Waterman, of Eugene, Indiana, minors over 14. [Probate Rec. Providence.]

He had a farm in Cranston, which he sold between 1790 and 1797, of about 70 acres, located 2¾ miles from Providence near the south end of Mashapaug Pond; and owned land in Scituate. He was Surveyor of Highways for the year ending June 1757. The Providence Phenix, reporting his death at Scituate, calls him "formerly of Cranston."

Stephen Waterman of Cranston, yeoman, for £150, conveyed 7 June 1769 to Zuriel Waterman of Cranston, yeoman, three pieces of land in Cranston. Stephen Waterman of Cranston, yeoman, for £150, conveyed 13 Nov. 1775 to Stephen Waterman, Jr., of Cranston, 65 acres in Cranston, "to contain the One Half of all my Hond Father Nathaniel Watermans Homestead Farm, whereon he now dwells." born at Johnston, R. I., 2 Aug. 1759, died at Scituate, R. I., 31 Dec. 1851, daughter of (Capt.) Richard and Meribah (Borden) Thornton. She married second, (reported in Providence Gazette, issue of 16 Apr.) 1796, Jeremiah Winsor, born at Smithfield, R. I., 22 Feb. 1742, died there 12 Aug. 1801.

He was drawn a Grand Juror, Aug. 1775; and on 14 Aug. 1776, to serve on the trial of the Brigantine Harlequin; also on 26 Aug. 1783. He was Surveyor of Highways for the years ending June 1788 and 1789. Stephen Waterman, Jr., of Cranston, his wife Marcy concurring, conveyed 23 Oct. 1778. [Land Rec. Cranston (kept in Providence), 200-130.] The 1790 Census lists him at Cranston with six males under 16 years and 3 females.

Pension Files, W 26087. Declaration for pension, 20 Dec. 1845, Providence, R. I. Mercy Winsor of Johnston, aged 86, widow of Stephen Waterman (formerly of Cranston) who died 5 May 1794. She was married to Stephen Waterman on 2nd Sunday of April 1776. She knows of no record other than the Family Record presented. They lived together until his death. About two years thereafter, she married Jeremiah Winsor, who died 12 Aug. 1801. Since then, she has remained a widow. Stephen Waterman was a soldier of the Revolution in Capt. Frederic Williams' Co. of Militia in Cranston, and went to Newport on alarm. On one occasion, Dec. 1776, he was drafted and went to Slade's Ferry; was gone about a month. Was frequently drafted thereafter until the end of the War. He performed duty in Pawtuxet, and elsewhere, in 1777-8-9.

Reuben Smith of Cranston, R. I., aged 85, testified 24 Dec. 1845 to service in Capt. Frederick Williams' Co., and was at Pawtuxet and Warwick. Stephen Waterman also served at these times, but, owing to his broken memory, Smith declines to state months or years.

Elizabeth Arnold of Cranston, R. I., in 77th yr., born and brought up in Pawtuxet. During the Revolution, there was a Fort there where soldiers were stationed. Was well acquainted with Frederick Williams, who was a Captain of Militia of Cranston, and his Company was often stationed there. Stephen Waterman was a Private in this Company and was stationed at "our house" on one occasion when the Company was on a march to Warwick Neck. She recalls two other times in particular when Stephen Waterman was on duty there. When the British Commander Wallace burnt the houses on Providence Island, 1775/6, he was in Capt. R. Williams' Co. "In June, when Gen. Barton took Prescott at Newport—my father was a Lieutenant on board the Frigate Providence under Commodore Whipple;—in 1778." Capt. Williams lived in the neighborhood of Pawtuxet, and his Company was often stationed in the Town. On one occasion, he took a large part of them into our house, and I remember Stephen Waterman saying to my mother—"Do not be alarmed. We are all friends and neighbors." My father was the oldest Lieutenant in the American Navy at the time of the Revolutionary War.

Sally Waterman, of Scituate, R. I., aged 74, a sister of Stephen Waterman, who married Marcy Thornton, testified 3 Dec. 1845 to seeing her brother go off on duty with gun and knapsack in Capt. Frederick Williams' Company. Stephen's death and Marcy's remarriage and second widowhood are related.

Thankful Vallett, of Johnston, R. I., now in 80th yr., testified 3 Dec. 1845 that she was well acquainted with Jeremiah and Marcy Winsor. She remembered the marriage of Stephen Waterman and Marcy, although she did not see it; was about 10 years old then. Her aunt, Ruth Lake, was a bridesmaid and talked about the wedding. The death of Stephen and Marcy's remarriage are related.

Richard Thornton of Johnston, R. I., aged 32, son of Borden Thornton, who took Marcy Winsor to make her first application for pension—nine or ten years ago—and on his return said that she could not get one owing to her having remarried.

Elizabeth Arnold deposed again 27 Nov. 1846 and gave additional details. Stephen was twice quartered at Father's house. Should think he was on duty fully half of time in 1776, 1777 and 1778. Recalls that Charles Lippett was a Commissary and supplied troops on Warwick Neck with provisions. Samuel Aborn was a Commissary stationed at Pawtuxet. Reuben Smith was a member of Capt. Williams' Company.

Last payment was made 30 Sept. 1851, through Nathaniel Waterman, her attorney.

In the Census of 1860, Lydia Waterman, aged 84, was listed as residing in the poorhouse at Cranston, while Nathaniel Waterman, aged 67, born in R. I., was living with a colored family in Cranston, probably a rooming house.

Children of Stephen and Mercy (Thornton) Waterman, all born at Cranston, except youngest at North Providence, R. I.:

i. LYDIA,[7] b. 2 Aug. 1776; d. at Cranston, 16 May 1862, unm.

3+ii. RICHARD, b. 18 Mar. 1778; d.

iii. ANSON, b. 25 Dec. 1779; d. at Savannah, Ga., mate of the Schooner Hope, 27 Oct. 1806, in 27th yr., unm. He was a master mariner. Administration on the estate of Anson Waterman, late of Providence, was granted, 25 May 1807, to Cyrus Waterman; sureties, Henry Cushing and John Barton, Jr. [Probate Rec. Providence, Proceedings, 1-433; Wills, 10-465.] The epitaph on his memorial stone in Cranston (Edgewood), R. I., reads: "He was a firm friend to his country and the great family | of mankind in general. His care and kindness to his | mother his young and helpless brothers and sister will | long be held in grateful remembrance. | For |

None know their grief but they who loved so well.
They only they can half their sorrows tell.
These only these can pity weep and melt.
Those cannot sympathize who never felt."

iv. CYRUS, b. 31 Oct. 1781; d. at Johnston, R. I., 3 Sept. 1832, unm. He was a farmer.

v. WILLIAM, b. 14 Apr. 1783; d. at Cranston, R. I., 7 June 1803, unm.

4+vi. NEHEMIAH, b. 10 Dec. 1784; d. 3 Aug. 1819.

vii. FANNY, b. 14 Oct. 1786; d. 19 Oct. 1786.

viii. FREELOVE, b. 26 Nov. 1789; d. at Zanesville, Wis., 3 Dec. 1852; m. at Simsbury, Conn. (reported in Providence Gazette, and Phenix, issue of 12 Dec.) 1807, (DR.) SAMUEL POPE. Children:

I. James,[8] a Baptist clergyman.
II. Cyrus.
III. Anson Waterman.
IV. Samuel Dryden.
V. Virgil.
VI. Olive.
VII. Benjamin F.

ix. PARDON, b. 10 Dec. 1789; d. at Kingston, Jamaica, 2 Jan. 1812, unm; a mariner.

x. NATHANIEL, b. 7 June 1793; d. at Providence, R. I., 19 Sept. 1865 ae. 72, unm.; a farmer.* Although described as unmarried in the death record, he was probably widower of Rebecca ———. On 18 Apr. 1829, Nathaniel Waterman of Providence conveyed, his wife Rebecca signing the deed. [Land Rec. Providence, 56-233.] It should be noted that just a month later, on 20 May 1829, Nathaniel Waterman of Chenango, Broome Co., N. Y., purchased 50 acres in Union, Broome Co., which with Rebecca his wife he sold 14 Apr. 1830.

* One Nathaniel Waterman m. at Rehoboth, Mass., 18 Aug. 1839, Elizabeth Simmons, "both of Rehoboth." Although Nathaniel was described as unmarried in the death record, he may have been a widower; his sister Lydia was described at death as a widow, but was certainly a maiden lady. But note that Nathaniel[7] Waterman of the Robert Waterman family [Vol. II, p. 301] m. at Kingston, Mass., 19 Aug. 1838, Lydia Simmons; a remarkable coincidence of name and date, if nothing more. Most likely the Rehoboth record is an incorrect version of the Kingston marriage.

[Deeds, Broome County, 11-484; 12-320.] He has not been found further in Broome County records, which would accord with his return to Providence.

58-2. OLNEY[6] WATERMAN (Stephen,[5] Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born about 1759, died at Foster, R. I., 4 Mar. 1836; married MARY PITCHER, born about 1761, perhaps died at Cranston [Providence Phenix of 6 Feb.] 1813, in her 52d yr., daughter of (Capt.) John and Mary (———) Pitcher, of Cranston, R. I.*

On 25 Apr. 1794, it was reported to the Town Council of Cranston that Olney Waterman is absent and left his wife and children so they are likely to be a public charge. Nathaniel Carpenter, "the present overseer of the poor," is required to look up suitable places to bind out to apprenticeship the two children viz.: "John Pitcher Waterman aged nine years the second day of March 1794, and William aged three years old the 12th day of August last past." On 26 Sept. 1795, William Sprague of Cranston, to whom the son John P. Waterman had been bound apprentice, having died, he was bound to William Sprague, son of the deceased William Sprague. [Council Records, Cranston, 3-135, 180.]

Pension Records, S 21552. Declaration for pension, Providence, R. I., 30 Mar. 1818. A certificate signed "Jno. Dexter, late Major in Regt. commanded by Col. Israel Angell, R. I. Line, Cont'l Establishment," stated the service of Olney Waterman as Private and Sergeant from his enlistment in 1777 to 15 June 1783.

Olney Waterman deposed that his service is stated in this certificate and his discharge signed by Gen. George Washington was left in the office of the Secretary of War.

5 June 1820. Olney Waterman, aged 60; was resident of Cranston, R. I.; stated that he had no property, and was a cripple.

In 1833 Olney Waterman, of Foster, asked an increase of pension under Act of 1832. He served as Orderly Sergeant for three years, with Capt. Stephen Olney in Col. Jeremiah Olney's Regt. and Gen. Varnum's Brigade, Continental troops.

Sergeant Olney Waterman died 4 Mar. 1836 at Foster, R. I.

On 30 Dec. 1813, William Waterman of Cranston conveyed to his brother, John P. Waterman of Cranston, who, with his wife Martha, gave a deed in exchange. [Land Rec. Cranston (in Providence), 200-234, 235.]

60. (COL.) JOHN[5] WATERMAN (Joseph,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born about 1728, died at Johnston, R. I., 19 Aug. 1812, aged near 84; married first, SARAH FENNER, born about 1732, died at Johnston, R. I., 17 Oct. 1770, in 39th yr. (gravestone), daughter of Edward and Amey (Borden) (Thornton) Fenner; married second, at Johnston, R. I., 13 Jan. 1772, ALICE (FENNER) STEVENS, born about 1738, died at Cranston, R. I., [Patriot of 22] Sept. 1832, aged 94, sister of his first wife.

He kept a tavern on the road to Warwick, seven miles from Providence. The Marquis de LaFayette breakfasted there in 1824, when on his way to Providence. He was buried with Masonic honors. In the 1790 Census, his family at Johnston consisted of three males over 16 years, one male under 16, and four females.

He was Town Auditor for the years ending June 1772 and 1774. In 1776, to prevent the Providence records from falling into the hands of the British, they were carted from the town to his house where they remained nearly two years.

He was Town Moderator 3 Apr. 1767, 20 Apr. 1774, the first Monday of June 1774, 2 Oct. 1779, 16 Oct. 1779, 3 June 1793, 27 Aug. 1793, 7 Sept. 1793, 26 Sept. 1793, and the last Tuesday of Aug. 1796. He was a large land owner in Johnston, and Surveyor of Highways for the years ending June 1775 and 1797.

He served as Deputy, May 1764, May 1766, Oct. 1774;* and as Assistant, May 1768. He was Recruiting Officer for Johnston, July 1780. [R. I. Col. Rec., 6-523, 543; 9-129.] He was chosen by the General Assembly, May 1755, 1756, 1757, and June 1758, Lieutenant of the 2d Providence Company, and after Johnston became a town, was appointed Aug. 1759, Captain of the Johnston Militia; May 1765, Lieut.-Colonel of Providence County Militia; and May 1766, Colonel of the same. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-173, 181, 191, 200, 209, 256, 259.]

In Aug. 1777 and July 1780, he was appointed by the General Assembly Recruiting Officer for Johnston. He was also the first Justice of the Peace for the Town of Johnston, approved May 1759. [ib., 1-214, 356.]

Col. John Waterman of Johnston was a director of the lottery, Feb. 1791, to repair the road from Providence to Norwich, Conn. [R. I. Col. Rec., 10-415.]

The will of John Waterman, of Johnston, dated 19 Apr. 1809, proved 12 Sept. 1812, gave to wife Alice the income from half the homestead; to wife Alice and to daughter Elizabeth Gorton, a widow, dwelling house and other buildings; to grandson, Stacy Waterman, a house with 25 acres; to son Edward Waterman, 20 acres and half the remainder; mentions his four daughters, Wait, Amey, Sarah, and Elizabeth, and two grandsons, Joseph Burton and James Burton; to four daughters, $100 each; son Edward Waterman and son-in-law John Potter, executors. Witnesses: Benoni Pearce, William Harris, C. Harris. [Probate Rec. Johnston, 4-302.]

On 7 June 1849, real estate of John Waterman was appraised and divided. This was after the death of John's widow Alice and son Edward; mention was made of the widow Prudence Waterman [she was Edward's widow]. Stacy Waterman took a sixth part, Sarah Manchester formerly Waterman (deceased) a sixth, heirs of James Burton a sixth, heirs of Waite Potter a sixth, heirs of Amey Fenner formerly Waterman a sixth, and Joseph Burton a sixth. [Land Rec. Cranston, 20-343.] This appears to relate to the legacy in John Waterman's will to his four daughters and two grandsons (Joseph and James Burton). In this distribution, Stacy Waterman took the sixth which was due to Elizabeth, and the will of Prudence Waterman [given hereafter under Edward[6]] calls Stacy son of Elizabeth Waterman. We have placed the parentage of Stacy[7] Waterman on the basis of these records.*

* The Collection of William H. Waterman gives to John[5] another son, John,[6] who is stated to have married Elizabeth Gorton and to have been father of Stacy[7]. But no record of any John[6] has been found, and it was John[5]'s own daughter whom he called Elizabeth Gorton in his will. We think the records bear out our interpretation of the parentage of Stacy Waterman.

His date of death is given in the Collection of William H. Waterman, which however tells nothing further about him, his place of residence, or wife or children. His two sons were named in the will of his brother Benjamin in 1816. When the son Benjamin died at Scituate, the names of the parents were stated as Christopher and Sarah.

William B. Harris was appointed guardian, 12 Mar. 1815, of Sarah Waterman, of full age. [Probate Rec. Scituate, 4-392.]

Scituate, 5-264; 7-29.] Since Comer Waterman was this man's uncle, the references are evidently to him, and the inference is that he was not of capable mentality. Cranston records show that on 12 Dec. 1857 the Overseer of the Poor petitioned for the removal of Benjamin Waterman, "he being a resident of Scituate." The order for his removal was returned served, 20 May 1858. That is the last we hear of him, except that the Census of 1860 shows him still in Cranston, or returned there:

64-2. STEPHEN[6] WATERMAN (Richard,[5] John,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Scituate, R. I., 13 Mar. 1773, died at Angelica, Allegany Co., N. Y., 29 Nov. 1811, aged 39; married PHEBE ———.

No issue.

At the first town meeting in Angelica, April 1805, he was elected an overseer of the poor.

Census of 1810, Angelica, Allegany Co., N. Y.: Stephen Waterman, 1 male and 1 female aged 26 to 45, and 1 male aged 16 to 26. The younger male in the family was probably his brother A. Smith Waterman.

Stephen Waterman of N. Y. State bought land in Angelica from Philip Church and John Barker Church by Philip Church his attorney, 17 Oct. 1805 and 23 Apr. 1807. Stephen Waterman and Phebe his wife of Angelica sold land, 15 Apr. 1808, to William Melrose of Angelica, and Stephen bought again from the Churches, 17 Dec. 1810 (deed executed 2 Feb. 1811). Vial Thomas and Phebe Waterman sold by order of the Surrogate, 29 Aug. 1814, to Moses Van Campen, in presence of Anne Van Campen and Philip Church, and the same dates Moses Van Campen (with wife Margaret) sold to Phebe Waterman. [Deeds, Allegany County, A-37, 39, 45, 240, 483; B-1, 6.]

On the petition of Vial Thomas, Administrator, and Phebe Waterman, Administratrix, of the estate of Stephen Waterman, 25 Jan. 1814, his real estate was ordered sold to pay debts. Distributors were appointed to set off land for the dower of his widow, not named. [All that has been preserved of records of this estate, Surrogate's Office, Allegany County, N. Y.]

On 10 Feb. 1813, Richard Waterman of Scituate conveyed for love to his two granddaughters, Phebe and Elizabeth Waterman, daughters of "my son Comer Waterman," all right in land in Angelica, being the same lands of which "my son Stephen Waterman" late of Angelica died seized. Witnesses: John Westcott, A. Smith Waterman. [Deeds, Allegany County, A-373.]

Pension Files, W 2287; B.L.Wt. 9405-160-'55. Declaration for pension, 24 Aug. 1832, Windsor County, Vt. Abram Waterman, born 9 May 1756 in Rhode Island. Resided in Plainfield, Conn., during the Revolution, and for past forty years in Royalton, Vt. Enlisted in the winter of 1775-6 at Plainfield in the Conn. State Troops for two months, and joined Capt. Gordon's Co., Col. Douglas' Regt., at Cambridge, and served the full term there, during which the British evacuated Boston. He enlisted in the Spring of 1776 for eight months in the State Troops as Private, and served with Capt. John Dixon, Col. Sage, and Gen. Wadsworth; went through Conn. to New York,and White Plains, N. Y. He enlisted in the Spring of 1778 for two months, and went to Rhode Island with Capt. Butts and Lieut. Dunlap.

Rev. Asahel C. Washburn and Col. Billings testified to their acquaintance with the Petitioner, and their credence in his statements, as well as the general belief of his service held by the people in the community.

Philip Spalding of Plainfield, Sullivan County, N. H., aged 77, testified to the services of Abram Waterman as stated for the first two terms, and that they served together for the full terms, except the last month of the eight-month term, when he was taken ill.

William Waterman of Royalton, Vt., aged 74, testified to his service with his brother Abraham during the first two terms mentioned. William was wounded at White Plains. William had enlisted for a three-year term and was not at home when his brother enlisted for the third term.

Windsor County, Vt., 9 May 1853, Hepzibah Waterman, of Hartford District, Widow of Abraham Waterman, the pensioner, aged 76, made application for pension, and declared that Abraham died 30 Dec. 1842, at Royalton. They were married 14 Nov. 1822 at Waitesfield, Vt., by Rev. Amariah Chandler. Her maiden name was Perry. Sarah Phelps, Mathias T. Jones, and others witnessed the marriage.

30 May 1853. A copy of the Marriage Record, certified by Cyrus Skinner, Town Clerk of Waitsfield, Vt., gave the marriage of Abraham Waterman of Royalton, Windsor County, Vt., to Hepsibah Perry of Waitsfield, Washington County, Vt., on 14 Nov. 1822.

Harry Bingham and Bela Durkee testified to the cohabitation of Abraham and Hepzibah Waterman, and to the death of Abraham, as stated above.

26 Mar. 1855. Hepzibah Waterman of Royalton, aged 78, applied for Bounty Land Warrant, which she received entitling her to 160 acres. Her signature was witnessed by Ezra Waterman and Azro Waterman, who identified her as the widow of the soldier, Abraham Waterman.

Last payment of pension to widow, 8 Sept. 1863.

The Land Warrant was assigned by the widow to John M. Bennett, who presented it to the Land Office. In 1856 a letter from the Commissioner's Office stated that the Warrant had been mislaid. Later years developed an interesting story relating to the Warrant. Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana was the Commissioner of Land in 1856. He later became a Member of Congress, Governor of Indiana, and Vice-President of the United States.

In 1875 John M. Bennett of Hillsborough, Vernon Co., Wis., wrote asking whether, in view of the "peculiar conditions" attending the loss of the Warrant, the usual procedure of advertising the loss could not with propriety be omitted. Being an invalid, he could not come to Washington to attend to the claim. In 1883 Mr. Bennett was residing at Viroqua, Wis., and wrote the Land Office concerning the lost Warrant, No. 9405. He stated that he had bought the Warrant, and had sent it to the Land Office from Springfield, Vt., on 18 Feb. 1856, asking for location. He then moved to Wisconsin. A duplicate Warrant was issued 27 Aug. 1883, and on 29 Aug. 1885 was located at Aberdeen, Dakota, by Maggie Kenney. A Patent was issued in her favor, 17 Nov. 1888.

In 1896, a lady in Indiana wrote to the Land Office asking whether Bounty Land Warrant No. 9405 could be located. This paper had been found among some old papers belonging to her father, who had died in 1890. Her mother found this with some outlawed bills, and had presumed it of no value but kept it as a curiosity. For reference to her father's standing, she referred to "Thomas A. Hendricks, Judge Niblack, Senator Voorhees, Ex-Speaker Kerr, Ex-Speaker Reed, and others."

Replying to a letter from the Land Office, asking her father's name and other facts, the lady stated that her father was William Gillespie Whittlesey, who late in the 1850's went to Washington, D. C., and studied law in the office of Thomas A. Hendricks. He was in the Departmental Service (Land Office) until 1869, when he returned to the West. He did not practice law but entered mercantile business, and it had been presumed that the Warrant had been given him in payment for some debt. The name, John M. Bennett, is entirely unfamiliar to the family, and no papers have been found which bear his name other than this Warrant.

Abraham Waterman served as a Private in Capt. Dixon's Co., 3d Battalion, Col. Comfort Sage, Wadsworth's Brigade, 1776; William Waterman was in the same Company. [Conn. Men in the Revolution, p. 400.]

The will of Abraham Waterman of Royalton, Vt., signed 15 July 1841, filed 1 Feb. 1843, gave to wife Hepzibah two-fifths of the land "I now own of the Home farm on which I now live" . . . also two cows and ten sheep. To daughter Sarah Waterman three-fifths of the land of the home farm . . . also a privilege in my share of the house. To son Spaulding Waterman, $50.00. To daughter Eunice Back, $10.00. To daughter Hannah Waterman, $50.00. To daughter Laura Phelps, $20.00. To daughter Polly Waterman, $50.00. To sons John and Joel, $25.00 each. Harry Bingham to be sole executor. The inventory included 48½ acres of land belonging to the Home Farm, appraised at $500.00, and a small dwelling and 2 acres lying near the village in East Bethel, appraised at $150.00. After payment of all legacies, a small balance remained, which was divided between Spaulding, Joseph, Martin, Sarah and Ezra Waterman, Eunice Back, Hannah Waterman, Laura Phelps, and Polly, John and Joel Waterman. 66-2. William[6] Waterman (Abraham,[5] Charles,[4] Benjamin,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Glocester, R. I., about 1758, died at Royalton, Vt., 10 Mar. 1845, aged 87 (gravestone); married Phebe Howe, born at Plainfield, Conn., 19 Jan. 1759, died at Royalton, 30 Oct. 1842, aged 83, daughter of Jonas and Sarah (Wheeler) Howe.

Census of 1790, Royalton, Vt.: William Waterman, 1 male over 16, 1 male under 16, 1 female. Census of 1810, Royalton, Vt.: William Waterman, 1 male and 2 females over 45, and 1 female 16 to 26.

He first bought land in Royalton, 5 June 1782.

He had no children, but brought up his wife's nephew, Calvin Wheeler, son of Josiah Wheeler (from Plainfield, Conn.) by his second wife, Hannah W. Howe.

He enlisted 21 May, discharged 16 Dec., 1775, in the 4th Co. (Capt. Obadiah Johnson of Canterbury), 3d Regt. (Gen. Israel Putnam). He was a Private in Capt. Dixon's Co., 3d Battalion, Col. Comfort Sage, Wadsworth's Brigade, 1776; Abraham Waterman was in the same Company. He enlisted 25 Apr. 1777 for three years under Capt. Andrew Fitch of Lebanon; promoted Sergt., 1 Oct. 1778; Quartermaster Sergt., Jan. 1780; discharged 15 Apr. 1780. He was a pensioner in 1818, living in Vermont. [Conn. Men in the Revolution, pp. 55, 184, 400, 640.]

He received Town Bounties, 1777-79, as Sergt. William Waterman, of Plainfield; and was also mentioned as of Plainfield, in Capt. Joshua Dunlap's Co., enlisted for 3 years, 21st Regt. (Col. Durkee). [Conn. Hist. Soc. Coll., 12-76, 147, 159.]

Pension Files, S 19838. Declaration for pension, 8 Apr. 1818, Orange County, Vt. William Waterman, of Royalton, Windsor County, Vt., aged 60, deposed: Enlisted 1 May 1775 in Capt. Johnson's Co., and served 8 months. He resided in Plainfield. Soon after his return, he served another 2 months; was at the evacuation of Boston by the British. In the Summer of 1776, he enlisted and served 6 or 7 months in Capt. John Dixon's Co., Col. Page's Regt., Conn. Troops, near New York; was wounded in thigh and dismissed from hospital about 1 Nov. 1776, and returned home. He enlisted April 1777 for 3 years, and served entire time as Corporal, Sergeant and Quartermaster Sergeant in Capt. Andrew

Fitch's Co., Col. John Durkee's Conn. Line, Continental Establishment, and was honorably discharged 9 Apr. 1779. He afterward went on a voyage as a Privateer, and was taken prisoner. Was confined on board old Jersey prison ship, and during this time lost his Sergeant's Warrant and discharge.

23 Apr. 1819. William Waterman, of Royalton, deposed: Enlisted 1776, in the summer, in Capt. John Dixon's Co., Col. Page's Regt. During said service was dangerously wounded in right thigh, at battle of White Plains, and was sick at hospital until about 1 Nov. 1776. After the close of War, removed to Vermont. About 24 years ago, he prepared an application for Invalid pension, and had testimony of fellow soldiers who had knowledge of his being wounded: Abraham Waterman, Jr., was one, and Philip Spalding, Ord. Sergeant in Capt. Dixon's Co., was another. Certificates from Drs. Nahum Trask and Benjamin Green concerned his physical condition. These papers were placed in the hands of Mr. Hunt, Esq., of Windsor. Mr. Hunt died the following Spring, and Waterman had never been able to learn anything of what became of them, or whether they were presented. He now applied under Act of 1818.

In Winter 1794-5, he borrowed money of Benjamin Cole and went to Windsor, Vt., to make an application, taking with him Philip Spalding and Barzilla Spalding as witnesses, and applied to John Hunt, a lawyer, for assistance. The papers were made out in Court, and authenticated by Judge Stephen Jacobs. Drs. Trask and Green made the physical examination and report. Hearing, the next Fall, of the death of Mr. Hunt, he tried to learn of the papers, but failed. Being too poor to take the journey necessary to prosecute the claim, he despaired of receiving a pension. After the Law of 1818 was passed, he applied to Dudley Chace, Chief Judge of Supreme Court, for assistance in the matter, and when the declaration was forwarded a letter came asking whether he was the William Waterman who was already on the roll for a wound. Further inquiries from Waterman brought no word.

1821. Brazillai Spalding, of Morristown, Orleans Co., Vt., testified to the accuracy of the statements concerning the preparation of the papers. He had known Waterman since 1775, and knows he is the soldier who was wounded in Battle of White Plains.

Philip Spalding, of Plainfield, N. H., deposed to the same.

6 Feb. 1821. Thomas Bingham, of Royalton, testified to having lived near William Waterman for 20 or 30 years, and knew of his applying for a pension.

1832. William Waterman, of Royalton, Vt., aged 74, deposed: Amplifying statements in former declarations, he was at battle of Germantown, and wintered at Valley Forge. Was detached April 1778, with about 100 under command of Capt. McLane, and placed as Guard around Philadelphia. He joined the Army in New Jersey a few days after the Battle of Monmouth, and wintered with the Army at Reading, near Danbury, Conn. After being confined in the prison ship Jersey for a few days, he took advantage of a favorable wind, and escaped through a porthole. He swam about three miles to Long Island, made his way to Connecticut, and reached there with a fever, which lasted some time. Soon after this, he removed to Royalton, Vt., where he has since resided.

9 June 1851, Windsor County, Vt. Dexter Waterman, of Royalton, appointed an attorney, Stephen Thomas, of West Fairfield, Vt., to prosecute claim for increase, for his late Brother, William Waterman, who died without leaving a widow. One Ingraham enlisted, served, was captured, and escaped with William Waterman.

He had been in Capt. Waterman's Co., but was detached from the 21st Regt., 12 July 1780, to join the Continental Army. [Conn. Hist. Soc. Coll., 12-201, 224; Conn. Men in Revolution, p. 191.]

Pension Files, W 4611. Declaration for pension, 27 July 1832, Belmont County, Ohio. Charles Waterman, of Pease Township, aged 70. Enlisted as substitute for brother Abraham in Capt. Abraham Shepherd's Co., Col. Ledyard, in Sept. 1777, and was stationed at New Lebanon, repairing Fort Trumbull, for two months. He resided in Plainfield, Windham Co., Conn.

He again enlisted, 1 Aug. 1778, entering service in Capt. Benjamin Bacon's Co., Col. Mason's Regt. This regiment was employed in guarding the coast between New London and New York for two years. At this time, the British had possession of Long Island. The regiment was taken to Stratford in Dec. 1778 for the winter and was quartered with the citizens. They were discharged on 1 Apr. 1779.

About 1 May 1780, he was still residing in Windham County, and enlisted with many other of the citizens to take the places of the three-year men whose terms were expiring. He entered Capt. Webb's Co., Col. Sumner's Regt., under Gen. Washington, and joined the Army at Tappan, N. J. He was discharged by Capt. Webb's written order in Dec. 1780.

In Oct. 1781, he joined Capt. Robins' Co., Col. McLaren, and was stationed at Fort Griswold and Groton and engaged in repairing the Fort and building an abatis about the Fort, serving three months.

He was born 17 Nov. 1761 in Glocester Township, Providence Co., R. I. Since the War, had lived in Cheshire County, N. H., for about 13 years, and from there went to Ohio County, Va., and from thence to Washington County, Ohio. He then removed to Pease Township, Belmont Co., Ohio.

He named as references, Daniel Zenn, Moses Rhodes, David Allen, and Ebenezer Martin. Nathaniel Callender and Rev. William Lambden certified to their acquaintance with Charles Waterman, and their credence of his statements.

Oliver Aplin, of Washington County, Ohio, aged about 68, deposed that he had known Charles Waterman since boyhood. He now resides in Belmont County, Ohio, but during the Revolution resided with his father, Abraham Waterman, in Pease [should be Plainfield] Township, Windham Co., Conn. Charles entered service when about 16.

30 Mar. 1830, Washington County, Ohio. Joseph Barker, Jr., testified that he had known Oliver Aplin, Esq., of Grandview Township, for sixteen years, and that he is held in esteem by the citizens, and had been a Justice of the Peace.

22 Sept. 1834. Charles Waterman requested a transfer to the Pension Roll of Butler County, Ohio, where he had lately removed from Pennsylvania. Two of his sons had lately removed to Butler County, Ohio, and he wishes to join them. His name had been on the Pennsylvania Roll.

John A. Waterman testified to an acquaintance of over thirty years, and identified Charles Waterman as the Pensioner.

8 Oct. 1841, Butler County, Ohio. Sarah Waterman, aged 80, widow of Charles Waterman, who died 9 Feb. 1840, and was a pensioner of the United States, made application for pension. She was married in 1790, in the township of Cornish, Cheshire Co., N. H., to Charles Waterman, and they resided there for thirteen years. They then removed to near Wheeling, Va., and remained there for 21 years, and then moved to Ohio.

Joseph A. Waterman, aged about 43, son of Charles and Sarah Waterman, testified to the death of his father on 9 Feb. 1840, and presented a leaf from his Father's Family Bible which contained the Family Record. This record had been transcribed from the old Family Bible which had become much worn. He assisted in the transcribing and verifying the transcription, and certified to the exactness of the copy.

At the age of 45 he married a wife of 18. They had 6 children." school for three years in Connecticut and Iowa, he attended the University of Michigan Law School, receiving his LL. B. degree in 1889; and in 1922 the University of Vermont conferred on him an honorary LL.D. degree. The inventory of his estate set the value at $1,375,000, the bulk of it represented by stock of the National City Bank of New York and of Great Western Sugar Company. He left his estate to the University of Vermont after the death of his widow.

66-11. (Rev.) John A.[7] Waterman (Charles,[6] Abraham,[5] Charles,[4] Benjamin,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Cornish, N. H., 29 June 1790, died at Oxford, Ohio, 6 Aug. 1837; married ——— ———.

He was a native of Cornish, N. H., and in youth removed with his parents to near Wheeling, W. Va. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in his eighteenth year, and was licensed at Athens, Ohio, to preach, when he was about twenty-four. In 1815, his name appears among those who were admitted on trial, as members of the Ohio Conference. His appointment that year was Miami; in 1816, Mahonan; in 1817, Zanesville; in 1818, Union; in 1819, Short Creek; in 1821, Barnesville; in 1822, Steubenville. In 1823 and 1824, he was Presiding Elder of the Muskingum District. In 1825, he was at West Wheeling. In 1826, he fell into the Pittsburgh Conference, and was stationed at Wheeling. In 1827, he took the superannuated relation; but, in 1828, was again effective and was appointed to Pittsburgh. In 1829, he was on the Uniontown circuit; in 1830, at Brownsville; in 1831 and 1832, at the Washington station; in 1833 and 1834, at Wellsburg. In 1835, he was transferred back, by his own request, to the Ohio Conference, and in 1836 was appointed to Oxford, where he remained until his death.

He was of a tall, slender build, of a thin visage, approaching the cadav-erous, with dark, brilliant eyes and regular features. His mind was acute and of a philosophical cast, and he made himself a thorough master of such writers as Locke and Hume. He possessed fine powers of conversation, and was a preacher of power, though his sermons were directed more to the intelligent than to the multitude. He was of a very nervous temperament, and during the latter part of his life somewhat inclined to hypochondria. He died in middle life of a consumptive ailment; but continued his ministerial labors until within two days of his death.

66-12. (Rev.) Joseph Aplin[7] Waterman (Charles,[6] Abraham,[5] Charles,[4] Benjamin,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Cornish, N, H., 10 Mar. 1798, died at Oxford, Ohio, 13 May 1852; married first, in Washington Co., Ohio, 10 Mar. 1828, Susan S. Dana, born near Belpre, Ohio, 18 Oct. 1804, died at Oxford, Ohio, 9 Nov. 1839, daughter of Luther and Grace (Stone) Dana, of Newport, Ohio; married second, about 1840, Jane Bayless, born , died about 1841; married third, in 1842, Sarah Ann McGhee, of Oxford, Ohio, born in Center County, Pa., 3 May 1815, died at Davenport, Iowa, 7 Dec. 1895.

At the age of four he was taken by his parents to a farm near Wheeling, W. Va., where he lived and labored until he was twenty-three. His opportunities were limited educationally, but he improved every moment of leisure and carried his books even into the fields. He became qualified to teach school, and decided to study medicine. He began these studies in 1825 at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and attended a course of medical lectures at Cincinnati. He began to practise medicine in Sheppardstown, Ohio, but after marriage removed to Wheeling, W. Va.

Becoming deeply concerned with religion, he felt the call to preach, and in 1834 connected himself with the Ohio Conference, and was stationed on the Oxford Circuit. His fields of labor for the next ten years were, successively, Lebanon, Dayton, Columbus, Cincinnati, Hillsborough, New Haven, Dayton, Somerset station, Zanesville, and Oxford. In 1845, he joined the Kentucky Conference, and preached during that year at Louisville, and the next two years at Frankfort. Finding himself now embarrassed by the views he held on Church Government and on Slavery, he joined the Methodist Protestant Church, and in this connection preached two years at Lebanon, Ohio, and nearly two at Cincinnati.

During his latter years, he suffered not a little from dyspepsia and sore throat; and, although he continued to labor after he had become very feeble, he was compelled at length, by reason of excessive debility and the loss of voice, to retire from the active duties of the ministry altogether. He then returned to Oxford, Ohio, where he died.

Over six feet tall, he was noted in youth for his physical strength and endurance, and once walked sixty miles between sunrise and sunset. His health was broken at last by intense study and mental anxiety. Influenced by his parents, he early acquired a thirst for learning, which he acquired mainly through his own efforts. Teaching, laboring, and studying, he became a thorough physician; a student of law; familiar with the natural sciences, ecclesiastical history, and the various systems of philosophy and religion; a noted Biblical scholar; and a good Latin, Greek, and Hebrew scholar, with considerable knowledge of several modern languages. He was retiring in disposition; plain in habits; temperate in all things except study; grave and meditative, a little inclined to be melancholic; a preacher to the intelligent few, for his discourses were unsuited to the illiterate.

66-25. (Dr.) James Henry[8] Waterman (James H.,[7] James,[6] Abraham,[5] Charles,[4] Benjamin,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]), born at Ware, Mass., 11 Sept. 1836, died at Westfield, Mass., 23 Nov. 1887, aged 51; married first, at Westfield, Mass., 21 May 1861, Izetta Harrison, born at Westfield, Mass., 12 June 1840, died there 16 Dec. 1874, aged 34-6-4, daughter of (Hon.) Hiram and Martha (———) Harrison; married second, at Springfield, Mass., 28 Dec. 1876, Maria Louise Clarke, born at Hubbardston, Mass., abt. Feb. 1850, died at Northampton, Mass., 17 July 1901, aged 51 yrs. 4 mos., daughter of Abijah S. and Clara (Swan) Clarke.

His early education was obtained at Prescott, Mass., and at the New Salem (Mass.) Academy. He then taught school and completed his preparation for college at Monson Academy, Monson, Mass.

His father was a lumber merchant and also cut timber and sawed the logs. The tops of the trees were converted into charcoal, and in boyhood James Henry was employed in vending the charcoal to retail customers. One of these customers was Prof. Julius F. Miner, who took a liking to the bright boy of twelve. Several years later, Prof. Miner was practicing medicine in Buffalo, N. Y., and wishing to obtain a young man to study in his office, he sent for the former charcoal boy. He lived in the family of Prof. Miner until his graduation from the Medical Department of the University of Buffalo (M. D., 1860).

He began to practice medicine at Westfield, Mass., in 1860. He served in the Civil War as Surgeon of the 46th Mass. Infantry from 30 Oct. 1862 to 29 July 1863, and was with his regiment at the battles of Whitehall and Newberne.

After the death of his father-in-law, Hon. Hiram Harrison,* Dr. Waterman was impelled to devote himself for five years to manufacturing pursuits in order to save loss to the estate. Success attended the experiment and justified the boldness with which he entered upon a new and untried career. His object accomplished, he resumed his professional vocation and obtained one of the largest medical practices in western Massachusetts. He was admitted to membership in the Mass. Medical Society in 1866, and was also a member of the Mass. Medico-Legal Society and the American Medical Association.

In 1877 he was appointed Medical Examiner for the Western Hampden District. For sixteen years he was a member of the Westfield School Committee, and served as chairman for part of that time.

Petition for administration on the estate of Izetta H. Waterman of Westfield, Mass., states that she died 16 Dec. 1874, leaving a husband and minor children, Clarabel and Patty Lee Waterman. James H. Waterman gave

* The newspaper entry of her death (which calls her "daughter of the venerable Benjamin Waterman, who is now in his 92d year") describes her, mistakenly we think, as wife of Jonathan Harris. There was a Jonathan Harris who d. at Smithfield, 27 Nov. 1830, aged about 70, but the place is wrong, and he probably was the Jonathan who married Mary Jenckes in 1785.

† The next child was entered as the fourth child in Providence records, hence we know a third child must have been born about 1859; and the age of Cynthia in the 1860 Census should doubtless have been read 1 instead of 9.

‡ Charles Brighton in death record.

Children, b. at Providence (res. Johnston):
A. Nancy Ette,[11] b. 15 Dec. 1932.
B. Gideon Brown, b. 2 Nov. 1933.

3. Ida May, b. 29 Oct. 1902; m. at Seekonk, Mass., 26 Mar. 1925, Henry Lionel Hunter, a mechanic, b. at Warwick, R. I., abt. 1900, son of Fred T. and Alice (Nicholes?) Hunter.

II. George Gilbert, b. at Providence, 10 Oct. 1845;* d. at Providence, 27 July 1936 ae. 87-9-17; m. (1) at Providence, R. I., 27 Feb. 1867, Mary Elizabeth Briggs, b. at Coventry, R. (2) at Boston, Mass., Bessie Brown Cahoon, b. at River Point, R. I., abt. 1886, dau. of Frederick A. and Phebe E. (Brown) Cahoon; separated 1922 or earlier. He served as Private in Co. B, 7th R. I. Vols.; enlisted 25 July 1864; mustered out 13 July 1865; enlistment accredited to Johnston, R. I. He was special officer in the Government Hospital at Providence at the time of his death. Children by first wife, first b. at South Scituate, second and third at Providence:

(1) Henry Herbert,[9] b. abt. 1868;† m. at Warwick, R. I., 27 Jan. 1890, Margaret Ellen Mahoney, of Natick, R. I., b. in Ireland, 1 Sept. 1863, d. at Providence, R. I., 27 Feb. 1937 ae. 73-5-26, dau. of Daniel and Mary (———) Mahoney.‡ Children, first three b. at Providence:

1. Mary Adelaide,[10] b. 12 June 1891; res. (1937) Providence, R. I.; m. at East Providence, R. I., 27 Feb. 1922, Eugene Sebastian McKenna, patrolman, b. at Providence, 7 Mar. 1889, son of Francis and Mary (McGovern) McKenna.

2. Grace Marion, b. 5 Jan. 1893; res. (1937) Whitesboro, Texas; a nurse; m. at East Providence, R. I., 5 Jan. 1924, Walter Leo Keefe, b. at Andover, Mass., 31 Aug. 1900, son of James F. and Bridget (Maroney) Keefe.

* His age at death as turned in by his daughter would make him born 10 Oct. 1848, and at his first marriage he stated his age as 19, but in pension records he said he was really 21 at first marriage and usually gave 1845 as his birth year, but once made the year 1850. However, he also stated that his first marriage occurred in the fall of 1866 when it was actually 27 Feb. 1867, and that his first wife died 1900, later corrected to 1903, when the correct date was 1907. He had no written records, and evidently a poor memory, hence the birth date may be correctly 1848. If so, his younger brother Benjamin Franklin was not born 1847, a date which comes from George Gilbert's pension file.

† Probably the child born at Scituate 11 Jan. 1868, recorded at Providence as son of George W., ae. 21, b. at Providence, and of Mary E., ae. 19, b. at Coventry. The name of this child was entered as "Leodovic Segesman," but an error of some kind is suspected. The father, in Civil War Pension files, gave his son's birth date as 11 Dec. 1867.

‡ The four daughters below were named as heirs-at-law of the estate of Margaret E. Waterman in 1937. [Probate Rec. Providence, 310-284.]

No issue.

He was admitted a Freeman in Smithfield, R. I., 19 Apr. 1786. He was one of the petitioners from Smithfield to the General Assembly in Feb. 1792 for a charter to form the "Federal Protectors" of that town. In the 1790 Census, his family at Smithfield consisted of two males over 16 years, one male under 16, and two females.

Pension Files, S 21560. Providence, R. I., 23 July 1832. Benjamin Waterman, born 9 Dec. 1749, at Providence (now Johnston), R. I., and lived there at enlistment. Since the war had resided in Johnston, Glocester, and Smithfield. Enlisted May or June 1775 for 7 months, in Capt. John Angell's Co. of State Troops. Coxwell Olney was Lieutenant, and Stephen Olney was Ensign. He went to Camp at Roxbury, near Boston, Mass., and served the term. Israel Angel was Major, and he thinks Col. Hitchcock was in command. The Battle of Breeds Hill was fought on 17 June, and in July Gen. Washington arrived at Cambridge and reviewed the troops. Gen. Warren was killed at Breeds Hill, and Dr. Church, our principal Surgeon, turned traitor and was sent off. Gen. Gates and Gen. Lee were with Gen. Washington. In the Spring of 1777, he was drafted in a Company of Militia under Lieut. Daniel Angell, and stationed on the Island of Rhode Island, below the fort of Buth Hill, for one month. He served another month during that year. In Sept. 1778, he was in Capt. Angell's Co. for 3 months, and was stationed on the shore of the Bay below Pawtuxett, R. I., watching the British ships. "The particular circumstances are gone from me like a dream; I am very old and feeble, but I distinctly recollect serving three months."

Joseph Mowry and Otis Mowry certified their acquaintance with the petitioner, and the general belief in the community, that he was a Revolutionary soldier.

Ziba Whipple, of Burrillville, Providence Co., R. I., testified in Aug. 1832, that he was well acquainted with Benjamin Waterman, now deceased. He was found dead in his bed on the morning of 24 July 1832. He left a widow, Anna, but no children.

Benjamin Waterman and Anna his wife, of Smithfield, and Duty Smith, of Glocester, for $90.00, conveyed 7 July 1806 to Daniel Mathewson of Smithfield, yeoman, two acres in Smithfield; "It is our Right and Share that we hold or Claim Out of the Land that our Honoured Father Daniel Smith late of Smithfield Deceased owned"; Sarah Smith, wife of Duty, also signed; witnesses, Benjamin Mowry, Anna Aldrich. He was propounded for Freeman in Johnston, R. I., 5 Aug. 1795, and was made free, 28 Nov. 1795. We fail to find him listed in the 1790 Census, and perhaps he was then unmarried and living with one of his brothers.

On 12 Mar. 1817, George F. Waterman, executor, and Nancy Waterman, executrix, of the last will of Richard Waterman, dec'd, sold the south half of Lot No. 74 in the 11th township in the Town of Plymouth, beginning at the southeast corner, reserving 30 acres willed to Samuel Waterman, son of the dec'd, for $900.00, to Nathan Philips of Plymouth. Witnessed by Samuel Lewis, who on 24 Mar. 1817 testified that he was well acquainted with Nancy Waterman, before N. Chamberlin, Master of Chancery; and on 20 June 1817, Lewis swore that he was well acquainted with George F. Waterman, before Casper M. Rouse, Judge. A corrected version of the same deed was recorded 27 June 1820, signed by Nancy Waterman, James Waterman, and G. F. Waterman. [Deeds, Chenango County, W-218; BB-162.]

Samuel Waterman of Plymouth, and Anna his wife, on 30 Jan. 1816, conveyed for $210.00 to Anon Place of Plymouth, 30 acres, being the west end of the south division of Lot No. 74 in said Town. [ib., U-128.]

In the Spring of 1778, the company was divided for three years' service, and he was drafted for a month under Capt. Olney and Col. Amos Atwell. He was drafted again and went to Pawtuxet. In August, they went to Tolland under Capt. Olney and served twenty days. Early in 1779, he went to Pawtuxet, under Lieut. BOYLE, born at Paisley, Scotland, 13 June 1835, died , daughter of John and Catharine (Devlin) Boyle.

About 1847 he adopted a sea-faring life, and was first mate and captain. In 1851 he traded in seal, oil, eggs and furs at San Francisco. In the New London Hotel at Havre, France, he met and married Catharine Boyle, sister of the landlady, the marriage being performed by U. S. Chaplain E. N. Sawtelle.

During the Civil War he settled in Saginaw, Mich., where he was engaged in the cooperage business until 1864, when he traveled to Gallatin Valley, Montana, where he took up 160 acres of Government land, which he later increased to 1800 acres. His wife and child went out there in 1865 via the water route to San Francisco, and made the perilous trip to Virginia City, Montana (then Idaho). They lived here eleven years.

He went to Maryland for several years for his health, but returned to Montana, settling in Bozeman in 1889. Mrs. Waterman was a Roman Catholic. Mr. Waterman owned documents showing the Revolutionary service of his grandfather, David[5] Waterman.

76. (Lieut.) John[5] Waterman (Richard,[4] Richard,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Providence, R. I., [say 1728], died at Valley Forge in the American Army, 20 or 23 Apr. 1778; married at Providence, R. I., 3 Oct. 1751, Martha Dyer, born about 1730, died at Greenfield, Saratoga Co., N. Y., 17 Mar. 1807.

John Waterman (son of Richard) of Cranston was made free of the Colony, June 1756. [R. I. Col. Rec., 5-495.]

His monument at Valley Forge bears the inscription: "Near this spot lies Lieutenant John Waterman, Died April 23, 1778, whose grave alone of all his comrades was marked."

He died 20 April 1778, of smallpox, at Valley Forge; pension paid his widow, Martha Waterman, with computed interest, up to 1 Apr. 1786; Resolve of Congress, 24 Aug. 1780. [State Record Commissioners, Providence, R. I.; see also R. I. Col. Rec., 10-159.] He was appointed Regimental Quarter-Master, Mar. 1777, and died 20 Apr. 1778. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-444; 2-670.]

At the December 1778 session of the General Assembly of Rhode Island: "Whereas, Thomas Waterman, a second lieutenant in the Continental battalion raised by this state, under the command of Col. Israel Angell, preferred a petition and represented unto this Assembly, that John Waterman, his father, was quartermaster of the said regiment, and his family was supplied with articles at the stated price, to the amount of one-quarter of his wages, to the 14th day of December 1777, when he was appointed an assistant commissary of issues to General Varnum's brigade; from which time he never drew any thing for the support of his family at the stated price, until the time of his death, which happened on the 24th day of April, 1778, he being then in the service of his country.

"That during that period, the family was greatly distressed; his said father's wages not being, by any means, adequate to their support.

"That he being the only son of his father, the care of the family is now devolved upon him; and that his wages as second lieutenant, so far from enabling him to contribute to their relief, is insufficient to support him according to his rank; and thereupon the said Thomas Waterman prayed this Assembly to direct that his father's family be supplied with the necessaries of life at the stated prices, to the amount of one-quarter part of his said father's wages, from the said 14th day of December, 1777, to the said 24th day of April, 1778; and from that time, to the amount of one quarter part of his the said petitioner's wages, at the same rate; on consideration whereof,—

"It is voted and resolved, that the prayer of the said Thos. Waterman, in his aforesaid petition contained, be, and the same is hereby, granted." [R. I. Col. Rec., 8-484, 485.]

Martha Waterman, widow of John Waterman of Johnston, deceased, was granted administration, 9 Feb. 1782. The inventory of the estate of John Waterman, Esq^{r}, who died 23 Apr. 1778, was appraised 1 Mar. 1782 by Jonathan Arnold and John Brown; value, £75.3.3. [Probate Rec. Johnston, 1-146, 147.]

"Mrs. Martha Waterman, Consort of John Waterman, Esq., died March 17, 1807, ae. 77 years. Monument reared by filial love." [Mitchell Cemetery, Greenfield, N. Y.]

The estate of Martha Waterman late of Greenfield, Saratoga Co., N. Y., was appraised 13 June 1807 by Nathan Medbery and Thaddeus Curtis at the request of Mary Mitchell, Patty D. Manville, and Phebe Mathewson, administrators of the estate. Paper signed by Joseph Mitchell and Mary his wife, Abram Manville and Patty D. his wife, Joab Mathewson and Phebe his wife, Jonathan Lapham and Thadeus Curtis, all of Greenfield, the last two probably bondsmen. No other document. [Probate Rec. Saratoga County, Box 004-15.]

"His descendants are now found in Oregon," wrote Mr. William H. Waterman.

Children of John and Martha (Dyer) Waterman:*

i. THOMAS.[6] He was appointed an Ensign in the Second Battalion, Oct. 1776 (Col. Daniel Hitchcock, Lt.-Col. Israel Angell) and Feb. 1777 (Col. Israel Angell), and appears to have been Ensign of Capt. Coggeshall Olney's Co. in 1776 and of Capt. Christopher Dyer's Co. in 1777. He seems later to have been 1st Lt. of Capt. William Allen's Co., Col. Angell's 2nd Continental Battalion, and resigned June 1779. He presented a bill for money paid recruits, Aug. 1779. [R. I. Col. Rec., 8-11, 127, 583; see also Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-338, 343, 381.] He has not been identified as listed anywhere in the 1790 Census.

* Elizabeth Waterman, daughter of John and Martha (Dyer), b. 13 Aug. 1762, d. 24 Aug. 1827, m. 26 Sept. 1783, Peleg Eddy, b. at Providence, 1 Mar. 1762, d. 26 Dec. 1827 in 66th yr. (Bible record), son of Esek and Mary (Perry) Eddy, and had five children, according to Ruth S. D. Eddy: The Eddy Family in America (1930), p. 303. This may be correct, but has not been verified. The list of children given herein is from the Collection of William H. Waterman, and the three married daughters in the text are proved by their mother's probate.

† It is likely that his name in the probate record was misread and that he was Adrian Manville, bapt. at Woodbury, Conn., 26 Feb. 1749, son of Nicholas and Mary (Murray) Manville, who was living in 1790 in Ballston, N. Y. In 1792 Milton was set off from Ballston, and Greenfield, where Mrs. Waterman died, was formed from Milton and Saratoga in 1793.

‡ The dates of birth of Joab Madison and his wife Phebe Waterman of Saratoga County, N. Y., were given in a letter from Lyman H. Weeks, New York City, 1920.

77. WILLIAM[5] WATERMAN (Resolved,[4] Richard,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born about 1732, died at Pawtuxet, R. I. [reported in Providence Phenix, 12 July] 1817, aged 85; married ——— ———.

He may be William Waterman who was listed at Providence in the Census of 1790 with a boy under 16 years and two females.

Records of this branch of the family are meagre. The deed (quoted below) from William of Cranston in 1803 to his son Rhodes, mentioning his own father Resolved, proves the male succession for the three generations.* This deed shows that William owned land located on a highway from Providence to Pawtuxet Bridge and on another highway running from the Pawtuxet Road to the landing place at Long Cove. In 1828 Rhodes Waterman lost a son Resolved by drowning in "Pawtuxet Cove." The newspaper notice of the marriage of Nathaniel Phillips to Robey Waterman calls her daughter of William "of Warwick," but the marriage occurred "at Pawtuxet." Descendants of Nancy (Waterman) Henry know that she had a sister Robey who married a Phillips. Robey Phillips named sons William and Resolved. These two daughters have therefore been assigned to this William Waterman, there being no other William who could be their father, and this William being the one who was connected with Pawtuxet.

William Waterman of Cranston, R. I., cooper, for 62 Spanish dollars, conveyed 22 Sept. 1794 to Field Dalee, Jr., of Providence, "now residing in Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., School-Master," land in Providence. Witnesses: Jonathan Bradshaw, Jno. Tillinghast. [Land Rec. Providence, 25-30.]

William Waterman of Cranston, cooper alias yeoman, for love, conveys to his son Rhodes Waterman of Cranston, yeoman, "Two small Lots of Land being the two Lots my Father Resolved Waterman purchased of Jeremiah Field, as may appear by deed dated 18th March 1757, and recorded in the first Book of Land Evidences Folio 119. Butted and Bounded as follows. Westerly on the Highway leading from Providence to Pawtuxet Bridge, Southerly & Easterly on Land belonging to William Field & Northerly on a Highway leading from the Pawtuxet Road to the landing place at Long Cove formerly so called, and are Numbered 7 & 8 in the plot of said Land, be the same more or less. Also one other Lot of Land lying and being in the aforesaid Town of Cranston with a dwelling house thereon standing being my homestead where I now reside. Butted and Bounded as follows. Southerly on a Lot of Land belonging to John Davis, Easterly on a Highway leading from the Distill house Lane to the long Neck so called, Northerly on a Gangway & Westerly on land belonging to Heirs of Zacheriah Tucker."

* William, his son Rhodes, and the descendants of Rhodes, are entirely omitted in the Collection of William H. Waterman.

Dated 18 May 1803, recorded 20 Oct. 1807. Witnesses: Charles Remington, Patience Smith, Benj. Smith. [Land Rec. Cranston, 201-319; kept at Land Record Office, Providence.]

He may be the William Waterman who was appointed 1st Lieutenant of the Warwick Alarm Co. (under Capt. Robert Rhodes), June 1779. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-380.]

Children:*

i. ROBEY,[6] b. [say 1760]; m. at Pawtuxet, [Providence Gazette, issue of 13 Feb.] 1779, NATHANIEL PHILLIPS of Boston, Mass.; the marriage occurred 7 Feb. 1779 at Warwick, according to records of Warren, R. I. Children, recorded at Warren (first b. at Johnston):

9. Elsie, b. 7 Jan. 1804; m. Orin Carpenter, of Valatie, N. Y.

* See the text for the placing of i. ii and v: iii. iv and vi are hypothetically placed here. The names Robey and Rhodes occur among the children of Thomas and Esther Potter of Cranston who were married in 1755. and that may be a clue to the wife of William[5] Waterman.

† Great-grandparents of Miss Louise Hardenbrook.

x. Julia, b. 3 Oct. 1806; m. (Dr.) ——— Coventry, of Stockport, Columbia Co., N. Y.

iii. "HANNAHRITTA" [Henrietta?], b. [say 1770]; called "of Coventry, R. I.," m. (recorded at Sterling, Conn.), by Rev. Israel Day of Killingly, 1 Nov. 1792, JAMES HENRY, Jr., of Voluntown, Conn.* Children, b. at Sterling:

v. Francis, b. 12 Apr. 1803.
vi. Hannahritta, b. 12 May 1806.

iv. SUSANNAH, b. [say 1775]; m. (called "of Warren, R. I.") at Rehoboth, Mass., 29 Oct. 1797, ASAHEL HIX, of Rehoboth, b. there 16 Sept. 1770, son of Nathan and Sarah (———) Hix.†

1+v. RHODES, b. [say 1780].

vi. WILLIAM, b. abt. 1782. He is placed here hypothetically, simply because of his name, and because there is no other branch of the family into which he can easily be fitted. In the Census of 1850, Marquette County, Wis., we find William Waterman, ae. 68, b. in R. I.; with Mary Ann, ae. 53, b. in N. Y., and Jennet, ae. 21, b. in N. Y. Oddly enough, Mary Eugenia Waterman, b. at Baltimore, Md., abt. 1845, residing at Newport, Ky., and described as dau. of William and Mary Ann Waterman, m. at Providence, R. I., 23 Nov. 1863, Oliver P. Stokes, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a Civil War soldier, b. at Bellefontaine, Ohio, abt. 1841, son of William and Harriet Stokes. A Daniel Waterman of Marquette County, Wis., may have been a son of William, otherwise is unplaced.‡

77-1. RHODES[6] WATERMAN (William,[5] Resolved,[4] Richard,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born [say 1780], died ; married HANNAH SMITH, born (probably at Rehoboth, Mass.),§ about 1786, died at Cranston, R. I., 9 May 1872, aged 86, daughter of Stukeley and Susan (Matthews) Smith.||

* "Hannahritta" is placed here because she was probably sister of Nancy Waterman who married John Henry and was then living in Voluntown, Conn.

† Susannah is placed here because Robey (No. i) was then living in Warren, and no other branch of the family is known to have been connected with Warren at that time. Nancy and Rhodes each named a daughter Susan.

‡ Daniel Waterman, b. [say 1830], d. of pneumonia at Milwaukee, Wis., 13 Mar. 1862; m. at Berlin, Marquette Co., Wis., 14 June 1854, (he and bride both of Berlin), Ann Lawrence, who d. 21 Dec. 1861. Earnest in whatever he understook, he showed at times the warmth of a partisan. . . . He belonged to that class of men who make more demand upon their minds than upon their bodies for the pleasure of the passing hour, and was a lover of books and of the society of intelligent and cultivated persons. 79. (Col.) Resolved[5] Waterman (Resolved,[4] Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born [say 1726], died at Smithfield (Greenville), R. I., 5 June 1772; married first, before 1755, Joanna ———;* married second, Mercy Smith, born about 1738, died at Greenfield, R. I., 10 Mar. 1820, in her 83d year (gravestone).

He was admitted a Freeman in Smithfield, R. I., 18 Apr. 1744; free of the Colony, 1 May 1744 [R. I. Col. Rec., 5-82]. He was chosen by the General Assembly, June 1748, Ensign of the 3d Co. of Smithfield Militia; June 1749, Lieutenant of the same, May 1750, Captain of the same; May 1751 and 1752, Major of Providence County Regt.; May 1753 and 1754, Lieut-Colonel of the same; and May 1755 and 1756, Colonel of the same. He bought land in Glocester, R. I., in 1750. He was one of a committee of three in 1755, who ran the dividing line between Glocester and Scituate, R. I.

In 1757, "This Assembly do vote and resolve and it is voted and resolved that Colonel John Andrews be and he is hereby appointed to sue Colonel Resolved Waterman of Smithfield for the Colony's money which he received for paying bounties." [R. I. Col Rec., 6-108.]

Coln[1] Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, for £1,900, conveyed 22 Nov. 1756 to Benjamin King of Glocester, 100 acres in Scituate, the southeasterly

* The first wife is omitted in the William H. Waterman Collection and other sources, but proved by deeds. She could have been mother of the older children, but Mercy was certainly mother of the youngest daughter, Lydia, and quite likely of all three daughters. The identity of Joanna has not been ascertained. In Smithfield, Joanna dau. of Daniel and Joanna Jenckes was born 1 May 1737; Joanna dau. of John and Rebecca Wilkinson was born 12 Sept. 1732.

part of the farm "on which John Brown Jun^{r} and Obadiah Brown ye third did dwell"; witnesses, William Dean, Matthew Adams. On 28 June 1755, Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, Gentleman, for £1,260, conveyed to Ephraim Whipple of Providence, one acre in Scituate; Joanna Waterman, wife of Resolved, signed the deed; witnesses, Elisha Sayls, Joseph Chillson. Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, yeoman, for £1,200, conveyed 45 acres in Providence to Christopher Angell of Providence, blacksmith, 25 May 1753; witnesses, William Rhodes, John Corbin, Jr. On 13 July 1756, Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, yeoman, for £18,000, conveyed to his brother, Andrew Waterman of Smithfield, yeoman; witnesses, Thomas Steere, Mary Steere. Resolved Waterman was in financial trouble in 1761 and left the Colony; suits were brought against him, and sales he had made to Andrew and John Waterman were invalidated by Court order; on 9 Nov. 1761, a Sheriff's deed of his 600-acre farm, for £22,200, was made to John Waterman of Providence. Apparently the difficulties were ironed out and the farm regained, for on 26 Apr. 1768, Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, gentleman, for £439.14.0, conveyed to Samuel Winsor of Smithfield, Esqr., the farm of 600 acres "whereon I now Dwell," bounded by land of Andrew and John Waterman, being "the homestead Farm That my Hon^{d} Father Resolved Waterman Deceased Did Live on"; witnesses, Daniel Mowry, Daniel Mowry, Jr. On 4 July 1770, Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, yeoman, conveyed land in Smithfield, for school use. [Land Rec. Smithfield, 3-444; 4-48; 5-160, 295, 362, 363; 7-1.]

The inventory of the Estate of Col. Resolved Waterman, who died 5 June 1772, taken by John Waterman and Abram Winsor, and dated at Smithfield 22 June 1772, amounted to £415.6.4. [Wills, Smithfield, 4-43.] On 12 Jan. 1773, John Waterman of Providence, paper maker, and John Smith, Jr., of Smithfield, yeoman, Administrators of the Estate of Resolved Waterman of Smithfield, deceased, for £273.11.0, conveyed to Andrew Waterman of Smithfield, 6¼ acres. [Land Rec. Smithfield, 7-47.]

On 13 Apr. 1790, Lydia Waterman of Smithfield, single woman, for one shilling, conveyed to "my Brother Obed Seavour of Smithfield aforesaid Yeoman And Joanna Seaver Wife of the said Obed," all claim to land part in Smithfield and part in Johnston, which are parcels of "the Homestead Farm that Our Honored Father Resolved Waterman, Esqr. Deceased Died Seized." Witnesses: Elisha Smith, Abraham Mathewson. On 14 Apr. 1808, Marcy Waterman of Warwick, Daniel Tucker and Lydia his wife of Smithfield, and Obed Seavour and Joanna his wife of Smithfield, for $90.00, conveyed two acres in Smithfield to Duty Winsor of Smithfield; witnesses, Daniel Winsor, Wait Seavour, William Tucker. Mercy Waterman of Smithfield conveyed 11 Apr. 1812. [Land Rec. Smithfield, 8-429; 12-12, 203.]

Mercy Waterman [printed as Mary] was listed at Smithfield in the Census of 1790, as head of a household of two females, one boy under 16, one slave, and one free Black.

Smithfield, 16-317.] Since she was described as wife of Obed Seaver in deeds in 1790 and 1808, the use of her maiden name would seem indicative of a divorce. Child (perhaps others):

Slack Family

The Slack family was from Attleborough, Mass., where Dr. Benjamin Slack was born 28 Apr. 1728. He settled in Scituate, R. I., and died there 30 Apr. 1791 in 63d yr.; married first, Phebe Fenner, born 11 Dec. 1725, daughter of (Hon.) Joseph and Wait (Harris) Fenner; married second, at Scituate, 5 Mar. 1767, Hannah Harris, born about 1738, died at North Providence, 21 Nov. 1820, in 83d yr. The Slack Family (1930) states of Benjamin Slack that he had children, Levina, who married a Brown and had two daughters; Sukey, who married an Anthony; and Joseph, who had a son Resolved. This was based on information supplied in 1882 by Charles Wesley Slack of Boston; and since the family knew that Joseph was the father of Resolved, it follows that Joseph was the husband of Mercy Waterman.

80. (CAPT.) JOHN[5] WATERMAN (Resolved,[4] Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born about 1728, died at Johnston (Olneyville), R. I., 7 Feb. 1777; married at Providence, R. I., 17 Jan. 1750, MARY OLNEY, born 3 Nov. 1730 [New Style], died at Providence, R. I., 5 Sept. 1763, aged 32 yrs. 10 mos. 2 days, daughter of (Capt.) Jonathan and Elizabeth (Smith) Olney.

In early life he was a sailor and master mariner, and made China voyages. Having a taste for mechanical pursuits, he engaged in manufacturing. He operated a mill for finishing cloth and a chocolate mill, and was called "Paper Mill John." He erected a paper mill, probably the first in Rhode Island, and one of the earliest in New England. In 1769 he bought a printing press and types, and engaged in printing and publishing. An early edition of the famous "New England Primer" bears date of "Providence, Printed and sold by John Waterman at the Paper-Mills, 1775."

He was chosen, May 1747, June 1748, and May 1749, Lieutenant of the 3d Co. of Providence Militia; and May 1750, 1751 and 1752, Captain of the same. The General Assembly chose him Justice of the Peace for Providence, May 1757 and 1758, and for Johnston, May 1759. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 1-119, 127, 134, 140, 146, 153, 196, 205, 214.]

He was Selectman (Providence) in 1755, 1756, 1757 and 1758. He was Deputy in 1759, May 1760, Oct. 1762, May 1764, and Oct. 1767. In Johnston he was Surveyor of Highways for the years ending June 1768 and 1769; member of the Town Council for the year ending June 1769; and Assessor of Taxes for the years ending June 1769 and 1770.

He gave £6 towards the erection of "Rhode Island College," and his name occurs in the Charter of Brown University.

He owned land in Glocester, R. I., and is said to have made paper there in 1750. His home was a gambrel-roofed brick house in Olneyville Square; it was razed in 1902 and the site afterwards occupied by the Post-Office Building. He is said to have been the wealthiest man in Rhode Island at the time of his death.

In Feb. 1776, he was appointed by the General Assembly, one of a committee of two to erect a powder mill in Providence County at the charge of the Colony, and the following May his committee was authorized to purchase a place to erect the mill as soon as possible, £150 being granted for that purpose. In June 1776, the General Assembly ordered him paid £8 for eight reams of paper for printing lawful money bills. The General Assembly resolved, Sept. 1776, that the several Inspectors immediately deliver the saltpetre they have on hand to Mr. John Waterman; that they from time to time deliver whatever they may hereafter receive to the said John Waterman, who is appointed to receive the same and make it into powder for the use of this state, and that the expense of transporting the saltpetre to the said John Waterman be paid by this state. In March 1777, the General Assembly ordered to be paid to the Executors of John Waterman, deceased, £324.11.8, for his time, labor and sundry material by him provided for building a powder mill for the use of this state.

His wife was buried in the North Burial Ground in Providence, with her daughter the first Mary. The inscription on her stone reads: "In Memory | of Mary the wife of | Capt. John Waterman | and eldest daughter of | Capt. Jonathan Olney, | who departed this life | Sept. 5, A. D. 1763; | aged 32 Years 10 | Months and 2 Days."

80-1. JOHN OLNEY[6] WATERMAN (John,[5] Resolved,[4] Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Providence, R. He succeeded his father in business, and inherited a large fortune. A maternal uncle had charge of it during his minority and, it is claimed, profited by the trusteeship. John Olney was of a remarkably benevolent disposition, and is said to have dissipated much of his inheritance. He spent much of his time in hunting and other recreations. He is spoken of in Adventures of Christopher Hawkins. Much of his wife's wedding outfit was ordered from England. She was a great beauty and a woman of fine, strong character.

John Olney Waterman of Providence, yeoman, for £621.7.0, conveyed 16 Jan. 1787 to Arthur Fenner, Jr., Esq., and John White, merchant, both of Providence, a certain farm lying in the Towns of Smithfield and Johnston, 80-2. JOHN[7] WATERMAN (John Olney,[6] John,[5] Resolved,[4] Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Olneyville, R. I., 22 Mar. 1786, died at Johnston, R. I., 26 Oct. 1879, aged 93-7-4; married at Providence, 7 June 1810 (intention, 29 Apr. 1810, Canton, Mass.), SALLY WILLIAMS, born at North Providence, R. I., 1 Mar. 1787, died suddenly, at Johnston, 10 Apr. 1862, aged 75, daughter of Stephen and Anne (———) Williams, of North Providence, R. I.

He learned two trades in boyhood, those of carpenter and machinist. He early manifested the restless energy, perseverance, and self-reliance which characterized his career. His first enterprise was in 1808, in Canton, Mass., where he embarked with an Englishman in the manufacture of cotton yarn. In 1812, in company with Henry P. Franklin, he built the Merino Mill in Johnston, just beyond Olneyville.

Mr. Waterman did not confine himself to manufacturing. He made frequent trading expeditions to the South and New Orleans between 1812 and 1818. In the year 1816, the "year without a summer," when all crops were killed by the frost, he chartered a vessel, went South, and purchased a cargo of corn for local use.

In 1818 he leased the Union Mill in Olneyville. He went to the Pitchers in Pawtucket, told them that he had leased a big mill and wanted to purchase machinery, but had no capital except his industry and honesty. They replied, "We have heard of you, Mr. Waterman," and trusted him with $2,500.00's worth. In 1822, Brown & Ives, having heard of Mr. Waterman's success in Olneyville, employed him as their resident agent at the Blackstone Company's Mills. While there, Mr. Waterman lost his health, and Brown & Ives furnished him with a vessel to go South. After regaining his health, he remained several years at the South, buying cotton for Northern markets.

In 1829 or 1830, he, in company with Mayor Thomas M. Burgess, built the stone mill in Olneyville known as the Eagle Mill, and about 1836 he, with Mr. Burgess, built the large mill in Olneyville, afterwards run by Taft & Weeden, which they continued to operate until 1856 or 1857. Mr. Waterman next made several excursions to the South, purchasing cotton, and about 1860 or 1861 retired from business and devoted himself to the management of his property. When over ninety, there was no apparent decay of his bodily faculties or mental vigor. He was known for his untiring energy, an indomitable will, and perfect intrepidity.

He was appointed Justice of the Peace for Johnston, June 1843. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 2-609.]

The will of John Waterman of Johnston, dated Apr. 1873, proved 13 Dec. 1879, gave to daughter, Sarah A. Waterman, $10,000; to grandson, John Waterman, and to granddaughter, Carrie F. Waterman, "children of my son John O. Waterman of Warren," R. I., $100. each; to two grandsons, Byron H. Waterman and John A. Waterman, also to two granddaughters, Ada A. Rounds, wife of Everet Rounds, and Mary F. Waterman, "all children of my son Albert Waterman late of said Johnston deceased," $400. to be divided; to great-grandson, John H. Waterman, son of Byron H. Waterman, $1,000 when he is 21; to son, John O. Waterman of Warren, R. I., the remainder, and to be executor. Witnesses: Zuriel Potter, Robert Wilson, William D. Sherman. [Probate Rec. Johnston, 11-437.]

John Waterman and Sally his wife, Henry M. Sessions and Harriet his wife, all of Johnston, Andrew Williams of Providence, John Williams and Stephen Williams, both of North Providence, and Henry C. W. Angell of Cranston, for $5.00, conveyed to Lydia Williams of North Providence, a lot of land in North Providence as "delineated on the plot of the Anna Williams estate," 15 June 1857. [Land Rec. North Providence, Land Record Office in Providence, 260-443.]

John, Sarah A., Byron H., Ada A., John A., and Mary Frances Waterman, all of Johnston, and John O. Waterman of Warren, R. I., conveyed to Elisha S. Williams of North Providence, all title to land described "on a plat of the Division of the Real Estate of Anna Williams late of said North Providence deceased," 23 Aug. 1870. [ib., 279-342.]

acres in Johnston, built a large dam and a mill, put up farm buildings, and laid out an orchard of 12 acres. For a time prospects were bright; then came a period of business depression. This led to his going to California in 1849 with his son Alfred. He sailed from Bristol, R. I., in Jan. 1849, in the ship Hopewell. It was a voyage of nine months around Cape Horn, and he lived about six months after reaching his destination. 80-6. JOHN OLNEY[8] WATERMAN (John,[7] John Olney,[6] John,[5] Resolved,[4] Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Canton, Mass., 4 Nov. 1810, died at Warren, R. I., 24 Apr. 1881, aged 70-5-24; married first, at St. Paul's Church, Narragansett, 21 Mar. 1839, CAROLINE FRANCES SANFORD, born 8 Nov. 1815, died at North Providence, 23 Apr. 1841, aged 25-5-15 (gravestone), daughter of Joseph C. and Frances (———) Sanford, of Wickford, R. I.; married second, at Providence, R. I., 26 June 1849, SUSAN JOHNSON BOSWORTH, born 22 Mar. 1828, died at Warren, R. I., 16 Mar. 1897, daughter of (Col.) Smith and Sarah (Tripp) Bosworth.

He was made Free in Johnston, R. I., 18 Apr. 1832. He learned the mill business in the Union Mill at Olneyville, R. I., where his father was Agent, and at the Blackstone Mill. Until he was eighteen, he alternately attended school and worked in a cotton mill. A part of 1829, he attended the Plainfield Academy at Plainfield, Conn.

He was a member of the Common Council of Providence for the year ending June 1848. He served as Representative for Providence, May and Oct. 1845, and May and Oct. 1846. He was president of Fire Wards in Providence in 1835 and for many years after.

In 1830 he went to New Orleans to join his father, and the following spring returned to Rhode Island and was appointed, on arriving at his majority, agent of the Eagle mills for John Waterman & Co. This position he held, and ably discharged its duties, until 1847. While holding this position, he resided in Providence and took an active interest in civic affairs.

In 1848 he removed to Warren, R. I. This town for a century had been interested in little but whaling, and some of its leading citizens realized the need of adding to and diversifying its industries. They prevailed on Mr. Waterman to join them in 1847 in the building of the first cotton mill in the town. It proved a very remunerative investment, and in 1860 another mill was erected by the company, and a third in 1870. At the time of Mr. Waterman's death, the number of spindles was 58,000, and the number of looms, 1400, and the company represented a capital of $600,000. The whole of this business, from 1847 until his death in 1881, was under the sole management and supervision of Mr. Waterman as agent and treasurer.

In 1875 Mr. Waterman was chosen a director of the Old National Bank of Providence, and was subsequently elected its president, an office he held until his death. He was also a director of the Equitable, Firemen's, Merchants, and Blackstone Insurance Companies, and a member of the Providence Board of Trade. He was vice-president of the First National Bank of Warren, and also trustee in the Warren Institution for Savings.

His industry, perseverance, and integrity, brought him a position of leadership in the community. He died very suddenly, of a heart ailment, while still in active business life. His will, dated 3 Aug. 1869, was presented to the Probate Court of Warren, 6 June 1881; his son John Waterman and John T. Barton were appointed administrators with the will annexed. He gave to his sister, Sarah A. Waterman, $10,000; to his wife, Susan J. Waterman, the homestead in Warren with all the furniture, pictures, plate, etc.; life estate in certain property to his father, John Waterman; $3,000. each to Byron, Adah, John and Frances, children of brother Albert Waterman; and the residue to his legal heirs. George T. Gardner of Warren, and William T. Barton of Providence, executors. [Probate Rec. Warren, 8-515.]

His widow left $2,000.00 to St. Mark's Church in Warren, and $1,000.00 to George Haile Free Library in Warren. Her will, dated 18 June 1895, proved 3 May 1897, named her son John Waterman; daughter Caroline F. Waterman; Eliza R. wife of Charles A. Pierce; Frances Bosworth wife of Cyrus W. Eddy; Esther Bosworth and Mary S. wife of Edward F. Jarvis, daughters of her brother Thomas; Sarah Elizabeth wife of Dr. B. H. Burrell and Rose Rousmaniere wife of John O. 80-7. (Lieut.) Franklin Alonzo[8] Waterman (George,[7] John Olney,[6] John,[5] Resolved,[4] Resolved,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Johnston, R. I., 16 Feb. 1844, died at Providence, R. I., 6 Apr. 1886, aged 42-1-20; married at Providence, 30 May 1867, Hannah Waterman Eddy, born at Glocester, R. I., 26 July 1847, died at Providence, 21 Aug. 1890, aged 43-0-26, daughter of Cyrus Tourtellot and Eliza Ann (McGee) Eddy.

Col. G. W. Adams, in "Reminiscences of Battery G of Rhode Island," wrote: "One of the officers who reported to me for duty in the year 1864 was Lieutenant Frank A. Waterman. . . . He brought with him a thorough knowledge of the duties and drill of our arm of the service, and very soon his great but inflexible firmness, his steady and officer-like bearing, placed him in my estimation far in advance of many who had worn their shoulder straps for a year or more. His fair and just treatment of the men while performing his duties as Officer of the Day was noticeable to all the battery, and especially was he distinguished for marked coolness and bravery in action. His record in Battery D is very fine and he added to it by great gallantry while with us in the battles of Winchester, Cedar Brook, and Fisher's Hill, and in other engagements. . . ." He was also present at First Groveton, Second Bull Run, Antietam, First Fredericksburg, and Fort Saunders.

He became a dealer in pictures, and was known for his excellent taste and discriminating judgement in matters of art. In his intercourse with the profession, he showed the kindliest sympathy and liberality. He was a member of Slocum Post, No. 10, G.A.R., Providence; and of What Cheer Lodge, F. and A. M., Providence. Republican.

He spent his youth in Coventry, R. I., and in the early part of the Revolution enlisted on board of an American privateer which was afterwards captured by the British and taken to St. John, where he with others escaped and were rescued by an American vessel that took them to Baltimore, Md., where they came down with smallpox. Some of them died, among them John's cousin Richard Waterman. He barely survived, and when better, set off insufficiently clothed for Rhode Island. He was unable to wear a hat, and had to tie something about his head. His hair came out, and he suffered from mortification of his toes. He afterwards enlisted, and after the expiration of his term removed to Cheshire, Mass., in 1777. He was drafted and had further service as a minuteman. [Collection of William H. Waterman.]

John Waterman. Private, Capt. Daniel Brown's [Lanesboro, Berkshire County] Co., Col. Benjamin Simond's Regt.; service, 6 days; company marched on the alarm at Berkshire of 13 Oct. 1780. [Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Revolution, 16-687.]

He settled in Cheshire, Mass., about 1777; bought a farm in Adams [North Adams], Mass., in 1803; removed to Williamstown in 1829. He was considered a trustworthy, intelligent and honest man. He held many positions of public trust in Adams, and was often a referee, administrator, and appraiser of estates. His education was limited, but he read books of solid worth, and read the Bible much in his later years. He was Representative for Adams in 1810 and 1813, and a Delegate from Adams to the Mass. Constitutional Convention in 1820. He was placed on the town's Committee of Public Safety and Correspondence, 24 July 1812.

The will of John Waterman of Adams, Berkshire Co., Mass., made 10 Apr. 1829, proved 7 Sept. 1830, gave to his wife Ann, all the household furniture, a horse, two wagons, a cow, and provisions, and the life use of a third of his realty; to the children of his deceased daughters, Nancy Brown* and Waity Wilmarth, $5.00 each; to sons William, George T., and Nathaniel G., the residue of his estate; and appointed William and George T. 84-3. (COL.) 84-4. GEORGE TOWNSEND[7] WATERMAN (John,[6] Thomas,[5] John,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Cheshire, Mass., 2 Jan. 1796, died at Barrington, Ill., 13 Sept. 1880; married at Stamford, Vt., 8 Mar. 1821, EUNICE HASKINS, born at Adams, Mass., 12 Oct. 1796 (or 16 Oct. 1799), died at Barrington, Ill., 29 Sept. 1860, daughter of George Haskins.

He was tall, straight and well-proportioned, and usually weighed about 200 lbs. He had the rare faculty of making friends among all classes. He had a story, a song, or a joke adapted to the company, the time or the occasion. But if angered, his voice would be high and the flow of words like a mountain torrent. He had a good voice and was an excellent singer until he reached his fifties. In story telling he had few equals; he could mimic in gesture or voice to perfection, and his memory seldom or never failed him. He had good sense, sound judgment, and unquestioned integrity. He was not a scholar, and his mode of spelling was phonetic and peculiarly his own, but he had a fair knowledge of arithmetic, and was a general reader of books and newspapers; he was well informed, and retained his mental faculties in old age. For many years, he suffered severely from rheumatism.

In the War of 1812, he was drafted and marched with the Berkshire soldiers to Boston, where they were encamped in the Fall of 1814. He was Captain of an Independent Co., of Infantry raised in Adams and vicinity about 1824 or 1825. In the Spring of 1829, he removed from North Adams to the adjacent town of Clarksburg, where he served as Justice of the Peace, also as Selectman and Assessor. In 1835 or 1836 he returned to North Adams, where soon after he was Selectman and Assessor. He removed to Barrington, Ill., in 1842, and was Postmaster there in 1854 and 1855; Justice of the Peace some years (before 1857); Township Trustee of Schools several years; and Collector of Taxes in 1857.

He was born in the Berkshire House in Adams (now North Adams), Mass., and when eight years old moved with his father's family to Williamstown, where all his adult life was spent.

He was Selectman for the years ending Mar. 1857, 1868 to 1871 inclusive, and 1874 to 1890 inclusive; Special County Commissioner for the terms ending 31 Dec. 1880, 31 Dec. 1883, and 31 Dec. 1886; once declined the nomination (from the Whigs and Democrats) of Representative; one of the executive committee of the Hoosick Valley Agricultural Society. For twenty years he was chairman of the Board of Selectmen and the town owed much to his economy and far-sightedness. The town was made a model of neatness and attractiveness, not only for the college students but for the hundreds of wealthy people who made Williamstown their summer home. Under his wise management, the roads were made equal to any in western Massachusetts. All the bridges were painted white, the lawns were tidily kept, and he was active in the removal of all the unsightly fences.

After 1854 he entered the livery business with Thomas Sabin, and the firm conducted livery stables at both ends of the village street. Later Mr. Waterman bought Mr. Sabin's interest and for a time conducted these liveries alone, but afterward disposed of all except the stables at the lower end of Main Street.

M. M. Waterman of Troy, N. Y., was appointed administrator of the estate of James M. Waterman of Williamstown, 19 May 1894; the only heirs were himself and the widow, Jane Waterman.

Original Letter

Warwick October 10. 1775.
6 O'clock Evening

Honored Sir:

This moment returned from Prudence Island and intended to have come myself but finding myself much indisposed through fatigue have sent Lieut. Wickes.

By this inform your honor that early this morning the inhabitants of said island with field officers and other gentlemen from Greenwich held a consultation concerning taking off the stock and finally concluded that the corn and hay was of as much consequence to them as stock and desire that it may all be guarded but your honor must determin that. The troops that was on this evening amount to 220 or thereabouts. Those of the militia being chiefly farmers are exceedingly uneasy as in their absence their business suffers at home. I pray your honor to take this into your consideration. If forces are to be kept there let them be minute men or some that can leave home. I applied to C. Slocum on Patience that he would send his Cheese off to Providence. He answered that if I would make good all damages and be accountable therefore I might take it and stock also. Please to send word concerning that. I shall be desirous of a little spirit and some cider sent on from Providence if it be agreeable. The piratical fleet lay around Hope Island this day and I expect have cleared it of everything. I purpose to go early in the morning and am with due obedience your honors very humble servant.

John Waterman, Coll.

Nicholas Cooke, Esq.

He owned 600 acres of land in Coventry, R. I., which he bought of his cousin, John Waterman of Nantucket.

87-5. RESOLVED[7] WATERMAN (Benjamin,[6] John,[5] Benoni,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Coventry, R. I., 27 Dec. 1782, died at Matanzas on board the ship Gen. Jackson [Providence Gazette of 26 May] 1821; married at Coventry, 23 May 1813, NANCY PEARCE, daughter of Wheeler and Nancy (Barney) Pearce, of Rehoboth, Mass.

He was appointed, May 1811 and 1812, Ensign of the Warwick and Coventry Guards. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 2-168, 183.]

The Resolved Waterman who died at Matanzas was described as "of Olneyville." He is not otherwise identified, and the date seems to fit this Resolved who married eight years earlier and left but two known children.

Children of Resolved and Nancy (Pearce) Waterman, born at Coventry:

i. ELI PEARCE,[8] b. 19 Feb. 1814; m. at St. Charles, Ill., 12 June 1845, AMANDA MELVINA WALDO, b. at Willoughby, Ohio, 16 Aug. 1820, d. at Walnut Grove, Ariz., 15 Sept. 1897, dau. of Eber and Olive (Sprague) Waldo. He was a sailor for many years in the whaling service. He gave up the sea, and after a residence in New York State removed to Oswego, Ill., and worked at his trade. He removed to Kansas, and located a homestead claim of 400 acres. A railroad survey was made through his farm, a road built, and a station located (Wichita). He sold his farm at a high valuation, and lived in comfortable circumstances. Later he went to Arizona, to find a son who had gone there to look after a gold and silver mine. Children:

* There may have been more children. No probate was found for Benoni, and this branch was omitted in William H. Waterman's Collection.

† The moronic clerk at Pawtucket for years entered in the deaths of married women the given names of parents, but not their surnames. We thus know where Sarah S. was born, her approximate date of birth, and the first names of her parents, but not her maiden name!

‡ Gravestone in Coventry. A child, Mary E.[9] Burlingame, b. 1833, d. 1841 (g. s.).

i. Sylvester Mead,[9] b. 7 Oct. 1846.

Waterman [No. 87-13] was working for the Chicago and Northwestern R. R. Co., he accidentally met her there, and located a town site on the line of the Northwestern Road which became Brookins, about a mile from where she lived.

87-7. John B.[7] Waterman (Benjamin,[6] John,[5] Benoni,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Coventry, R. I., 7 Apr. 1792, died at Athens, Calhoun Co., Mich., 19 Jan. 1847; married 12 Sept. 1813, Betsey Gleason, born at Thompson?, Conn., died at Athens, Mich., 28 Apr. 1863, probably daughter of John and Anna (Holmes) Gleason.

He served in the War of 1812. When a young man, he went to Penn Yan, Yates Co., N. Y., where he lived with relatives, the Arnolds and Potters.

John B. Waterman of Middlesex, Yates Co., N. Y., bought land in Jerusalem, 20 Mar. 1826, from Elijah Malin and Deborah his wife of Jerusalem. His lands in Jerusalem were seized by the Sheriff, 29 July 1831, to satisfy various claims, and were sold by the Sheriff to Benjamin Tyler, 1 Aug. 1833. [Land Rec. Yates County, 2-261; 8-446, 447.] John B. Waterman (ae. between 30 and 40) is listed with his family in the Census of 1830 at Jerusalem, Yates County.

In 1837 he removed from Yates County, N. Y., to Jackson Prairie, Steuben Co., Ind.; and in 1839 to Athens, Calhoun Co., Mich.

87-8. (Hon.) John Robinson[7] Waterman (John,[6] John,[5] Benoni,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Warwick, R. I., 19 Feb. 1783, died there 23 June 1876 ae. 93-4-4; married first, at Warwick, by Rev. Mr. Littlefield, 3 Nov. 1805, Isabel Warner [No. 44, iii, 1, (1)], born at Warwick, 13 Sept. 1783, died there 24 Jan. 1832, in her 49th yr., daughter of Thomas and Mary (Hill) Warner; married second, at Swansea, Mass., 1 Jan. 1833, Phebe (Slade) Slade, born in Mass., 18 May 1785, died at Warwick, 4 Nov. 1867, aged 82 (aged 83 by gravestone, North Swansea, Mass.), daughter of Jonathan and Mary (Chace) Slade, and widow of (Rev.) Philip Slade.

He was made Free of the Town, 18 Apr. 1804. He was drawn Petit Juror, 20 Nov. 1805, 28 Aug. 1821, and 5 June 1826; and Grand Juror, Aug. 1817. He was Surveyor of Highways for the years ending June 1819, 1820, 1825, 1826, 1827, and 1848, and Nov. 1853; Town Auditor for the year ending June 1825; and was Town Moderator, 25 Nov. 1825, 21 Apr. 1826, 1 Nov. 1841, and 27 Nov. 1841.

He was chosen by the General Assembly, Lieutenant of the 1st Co. of Warwick Militia, June 1804 and June 1805; Captain of the same, June 1806, June 1807, and June 1808; and 2nd Major of the 5th Regt. of Militia, June 1809, but declined the last appointment. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 2-73, 86, 98, 111, 124, 139.]

He served as Representative, May 1810, May and Oct. 1826, Oct. 1827, and May 1828; and State Senator, May and Oct. 1821, May and Oct. 1822, May and Oct. 1823, May and Oct. 1824, and May and Oct. 1825. He was candidate for State Senator, for May 1846, but was not elected.

Upon election to the Senate, Mr. Waterman introduced a resolution upon the subject of improved education, but it was rejected. He then turned his attention to the finances of the State, with the determination to improve them without increasing the direct tax. He was one of the earliest, if not the first, to move in behalf of a tax upon banks, which was carried after great exertions. At the session of Jan. 1822, the laws of the State were revised during a prolonged session of three weeks, and Mr. Waterman was energetically engaged in this labor. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1824, but the Constitution framed was not adopted by the freemen. In June 1825 he was one of a committee of two from the Senate which met with a House committee to devise and report means for the redemption of the public debt; at the Jan. 1826 session a bill was reported which passed the House and was sent to the Senate for concurrence on the afternoon of the last day of the session, too late to be acted on; it was continued to the next session, but before that time arrived it was lost from the Secretary's Files, and never found.

From July 1829 to May 1841, Mr. Waterman lived in Providence, having been appointed weigher and measurer by Walter R. Danforth, Collector of the Port. Here he was among the working and controlling members of the Democratic party, taking an intelligent interest, and giving safe and judicious counsel. He was an ardent adherent of the cause of Free Suffrage in Rhode Island, and a strong personal friend of Thomas W. Dorr.

He was a director of the Arcade Bank, Providence, R. I.

John R. Waterman of Warwick, R. I., bought land in Middlesex, Yates Co., N. Y., in 1823; he sold with wife Isabella, 24 Sept. 1830, and again 10 Nov. 1834 with wife Phebe. Apparently he never occupied the land personally. [Deeds, Yates County, 1-81, 86, 87, 137; 5-214, 286.] The land was in Potter, which was set off from Middlesex in 1832.

87-11. HORATIO NELSON[7] WATERMAN (William,[6] John,[5] Benoni,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Coventry, R. I., 23 Feb. 1806, died at East Greenwich, R. I., 16 June 1891, aged 85; unmarried; buried in Coventry.

He was appointed Brigade Inspector, 4th Brigade, Kent County, June 1835. [Civil and Military List of R. I., 2-522.] He was a hard worker, could handle large gangs of men successfully, and worked for the Spragues many years, having charge of outside work around the mills and farms. He was very saving, and dressed poorly, spending little on himself, but those who knew him were surprised at the size of his estate when he died, for it was appraised at nearly $100,000.00.

The will of Horatio N. Waterman, made 21 May 1891, proved 27 July 1891, gave legacies to his niece Harriet Waterman, daughter of Oliver G. Some of the heirs contested the will, but it was eventually sustained.

87-12. GEORGE GREENE[8] WATERMAN (Daniel,[7] Benjamin,[6] John,[5] Benoni,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Coventry, R. I., 19 May 1814, died at Aurora, Ill., 5 Feb. 1855; married MARY ANN GRIFFITH, born at Albany, N. Y., 12 Oct. 1814, died , daughter of John and Mary (———) Griffith.

He learned the tinsmith trade, but went into the business of making and distributing hats, with his brother-in-law, Joseph Griffith, at Waterloo, N. Y.

On 9 Apr. 1835, John Stewart and Lucy his wife of the Village of Waterloo, Seneca Co., N. Y., sold to George G. Waterman and Joseph Griffith of Seneca Falls, land in the Village of Waterloo on which is situated No. 7 of Waterloo Central Buildings, hitherto used by said Stewart in the hatting business. [Land Rec. Seneca County, C[2]-322.]

The business failed, ruining those connected with it. He left Seneca Falls, N. Y., 8 Oct. 1839, arriving in Chicago, 20 Nov. 1839. He took up a government claim on the Prairies adjoining a body of timber land along a stream known as Big Rock Creek, and engaged in farming, in which he was unsuccessful. He then procured a set of tinner's tools and a stock of tinplate, copper, sheet-iron and stoves, and began working at his trade in what became the city of Aurora, Ill., then a place of about 200 inhabitants. By close and long application to business, he succeeded and at his death left a considerable estate. His death was caused by a fractured skull, sustained by falling down stairs.

In New York State, he belonged to an association of "Free Thinkers," but in Illinois joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was an active and prominent member.

87-13. (HON.) DANIEL BOWEN[8] WATERMAN (Daniel,[7] Benjamin,[6] John,[5] Benoni,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Rochester, N. Y., 21 Apr. 1821, died at Aurora, Ill., 26 Mar. 1904; married in 1852, ANN WHITE, daughter of Harry White of Blackberry township, Ill.

In 1840 he went to Aurora, Ill., where he engaged as clerk to his brother George in the hardware business. He remained in this position for nine years, except part of a year when he returned East for the benefit of his health. In 1849 he opened a hardware store in West Aurora, investing about $3,000.00 in the business. He carried this on successfully until 1854, when he disposed of it at a valuation of over $18,000.00.

He then removed to Burlington, Iowa, where he purchased an interest in the large hardware firm of White and Pierce, becoming their junior partner. This firm was wrecked in 1857 by the financial panic of that year and the dishonesty of a firm with which it had large dealings.

Waterman returned to Aurora, started anew, and in 1859 opened another hardware store, with the promised assistance of local bankers; but the Civil War broke out in 1861, causing the collapse of the banking house which dealt largely in the bonds of Southern States. The new promising business was badly affected, but Waterman remained with it until he had liquidated its debts dollar for dollar, and in 1867, nearly ruined himself, he closed the business and turned his attention to farming.

In 1869 a charter was granted to the Chicago and Iowa R. R. Company, and he was elected by the management General Agent of the road. He immediately gave it his personal attention, and in Aug. 1870 completed the business by disposing of enough stock for construction to begin. In three months he had raised over $800,000.00 for the road. He was appointed a director of the road by Gov. John M. Palmer, under the existing laws to represent the interests of the cities, counties and towns through which the road passed. A thriving village on the line (Waterman, Ill.) was named in recognition of his services. He remained a director until 1880, when the board of directors elected him president.

In 1875 he built a road from Rochelle, Ill., to Rockford, Ill., which as president he leased for twenty years as a feeder to the Chicago and Iowa R. R. Company.

He was in the employ of the Chicago and Northwestern R. R. Company for twenty years, having charge of the construction of new lines in the states of Iowa and Minnesota and the territory of Dakota. His duties were to provide for the different corps of engineers, locate all stations, and purchase the land for them, and in general represent the Company at the front. At the age of sixty-eight, he wearied of this frontier work and resigned.

He was vice-president and trustee of Jennings Seminary of Aurora, Ill., and president of the Aurora Board of Public Works.

He engaged in real estate transactions on his own account, and acquired considerable wealth.

In 1854 he ran on the Whig ticket for the Legislature, at a time when Illinois was strongly Democratic, ran far ahead of his party, and lacked only a few votes of election. In 1862 he was elected Alderman from the First Ward of Aurora, receiving every vote except his own; and continued in that office for nine successive years. In 1871 he was elected Mayor of Aurora for a year, but declined renomination. He was an earnest member of the Republican Party from its inception, and was a delegate to most of his state and county Conventions.

He was a member of Aurora Lodge, No. 154, F. and A. M.; received his degrees in Jerusalem Temple Lodge, No. 90, F. and A. M., of Aurora; member of Aurora Chapter, No. 22, R. A. M.

89. RESOLVED[5] WATERMAN (Resolved,[4] John,[3] Resolved,[2] Richard[1]), born at Warwick, R. I., 23 Jan. 1736/7, died at Boston, Mass., 10 June 1771; married at Boston, 27 Mar. 1768, ANNA SHEPARD. She was perhaps born at Boston, 6 July 1742, daughter of Thomas and Hannah (———) Shepard.

Rhode Island Watermans Not Connected

THOMAS WATERMAN OF NEWPORT, R. I.

THOMAS WATERMAN was received as a freeman of Newport, Rhode Island, 22 May 1655. The Sachem Ninicraft was to be entertained by Thomas Watterman of Newport, 24 July 1669. On 20 May 1671, the inhabitants of Acquidnesitt, including Thomas Waterman, inquired whether the Colony laid claim to their possessions, and were assured the Colony did not. [R. I. Colonial Records, 1-302, 303; 2-265, 391.]

The will of Caleb Carr, Sr., of Newport, made 8 Mar. 1693/4, gave to his son Caleb, along with other bequests, "land I bought of Jireh Bull that Thomas Waterman and Richard Dummer now dwells on." [Favor of Miss Genevieve N. Dougine, New Rochelle, N. Y.]

It must not be forgotten that Thomas Waterman with thirty-one others petitioned in 1645 to be allowed to plant a town in the territory of the Sachem Pumham [ante, 1-11], and in view of the early date, we have supposed that the petitioner was Thomas Waterman of Roxbury, Mass., who was the only Thomas Waterman to appear at that period in Massachusetts records. However, the petitioner of 1645 may have been a different man of the name. Certainly the Roxbury man did not settle in Newport, and he died in 1676 leaving a will made in 1670, whereas Thomas of Newport was still there in 1671 and 1694 as the above records prove.

It seems quite possible, although unproved, that Thomas of Newport was the missing son of Thomas of Roxbury. The unfortunate loss of the early Newport records makes it difficult to learn much about him. Nothing has been found to indicate that he had children, and whether he did or not, it seems almost certain that he left no sons to carry on the name in Newport.

JOHN OLNEY WATERMAN FAMILY OF VERMONT

JOHN OLNEY WATERMAN, born before 1755, died July 1814; married first, at Norwich, Conn., 10 Dec. 1775, EUNICE MANNING, born at Norwich, Conn., 24 Jan. 1756, died there 15 Oct. 1781, daughter of Samuel and Anne (Winship) Manning; married second, at Lebanon, N. H., 30 Dec. 1781, FAITH ———, born 15 Sept. 1764, died . She married second, at Brookfield, Vt., 2 May 1833, Jacob Foster, who died in 1842.

John "Almy" Waterman enlisted 4 Sept. 1777, dismissed 22 Oct. 1777, under Capt. Eben Lathrop of Norwich, Col. Jonathan Latimer's Militia Regt. [Conn. Men in Revolution, p. 507.] Ezekiel Waterman served in the same Company.

"Nathaniel Patten the Son of Eunice Manning was Born May 24th 1775.

Diah the Son of John Oney Waterman and of Eunice his Wife was born May 7th 1777"

These two entries occur together in Norwich Vital Records, 1-473. Eunice Manning had a brother named Diah. She was granted a divorce March 1780, stating that on 10 Dec. 1775 she married "John Waterman alias John Olney Waterman" and that he deserted her, Jan. 1777. [Superior Court Records.] The inscription on Eunice's stone in Norwich Town Burying Grounds reads: "In Memory of Mrs | Eunice Waterman | wife to Mr John | Waterman she Depart | ed this Life Octbr | 15th 1781 in ye 26th | Year of her Age | Behold my friend as you Pass by | as you are now so once was I | as I am now so you must be | Prepare for Death and Follow me."

On 25 Dec. 1780, John O. Waterman of Hartford, Vt., bought land there from Eliezer Robinson of Hartford, which he sold 7 Nov. 1783 to Peter Rider of Barnstable, Mass. [Hartford Land Rec., B-24, 42.]

John O. Waterman was listed in the 1790 Census at Brookfield, Orange County, Vt., having in his family (besides himself) two males under 16, and two females. In 1800, he was listed at Brookfield, over 45, with wife under 45, one male and one female 10 to 16, and one male and two females under 10.

Pension Files, R 3684. Declaration for pension, 1 Mar. 1852, Essex County, N. Y. Faith Foster, aged 87 years on 15 Sept. 1851, applied for pension, and deposed that she was formerly widow of John O. Waterman, who was a resident of old Norwich and was engaged as a captain, conductor, or master of a certain number of teams engaged in transporting military stores, provisions and baggage belonging to the Army. He was under the command of General Wadsworth, and served three years to the best of her belief. His commission as Captain or Master of Teams, and his discharge, were preserved until about 1810. She was married to John O. Waterman in Lebanon, N. H., 30 Dec. 1781, by Rev. Isaiah Potter of the Congregational Church, and her husband died in July 1814. In 1829, she married Jacob Foster, who died in 1842, and she has since remained a widow. She has no documentary evidence, was eighteen years old at the time of her marriage, a year or two before the termination of the Revolution. She has seen the commission of John O. Waterman many times, and is positive as to his serving as Conductor, or Captain, of teams.

Essex County, N. Y., 1 Mar. 1852. Mary Phelps, born 26 April 1810, child of Faith Foster and her former husband, John O. Waterman, deposed the service of her father. She had seen his commission many times. Her parents had eight children older than she. The eldest, if now living, would be 69 years of age on 29 Nov. 1851, being some 28 years older than deponent. From her mother, she has understood that this child was born eleven months after the marriage.

John Waterman of Brookfield, Vt., a minor, son of John O. Waterman, late of Brookfield, chose William Sprague of Randolph, Vt., for his guardian, 20 Aug. 1816. [Probate Rec. Orange County, 5-7.]

THE CHARLES HENRY WATERMAN FAMILY OF PAWTUCKET

Henry Waterman married Mary ———.

This may have been Henry[8] Waterman (1817-1863) [No. 61-2, ii, 1] and a first wife. One Henry Waterman married at Cranston, 10 Nov. 1842 (by the minister of the Freewill Baptist Church at Smithfield), Ann Maria Wood of Cranston, and it may have been this Henry and the father of Charles Henry; but see Henry[7] Waterman [No. 80-3].

Census of 1860, Warwick, Kent Co., R. I.:

	age	born
John O. Hozie	25	R. I.	Farmer
Eliza A. "	27	" "
John O. " Jr.	6	" "
Maria F. "	3	" "
Charles Waterman	13	" "
Sarah Sherman	69	" "

Mary wife of Henry Waterman died at Warwick, 18 Oct. 1868, aged 50; she was Mary Arnold, born at Warwick, daughter of Oliver and Sally Arnold. Administration on her estate was granted, 14 Dec. 1868, to Henry Waterman; see No. 81-4. These could not have been the parents of Charles Henry (b. 7 Dec. 1846), whose parents in his death record are stated as Henry and Mary. Moreover, if the Charles in the above census record is Charles Henry—and the age corresponds and the census Charles has not been otherwise identified—we should conclude that he was an orphan in 1860, rather than that both his parents were then living.

Child of Henry and Mary (———) Waterman:

i. CHARLES HENRY, b. at Cranston, R. I., [7 Dec. 1846]; d. at Pawtucket, R. I., 17 Sept. 1914 ae. 67-9-10; a machinist; m. at Warwick, R. I., 25 Nov. 1869, SARAH ANNA LOCKWOOD, b. at Warwick, 11 June 1851, d. at Providence, R. I., 5 Sept. 1931 ae. 80-2-24, dau. of Abraham and Sarah Ann (Carr) Lockwood. Her will, dated 10 July 1930, named various Lockwood relatives. [Probate Rec. Providence, Proceedings, 265-182.] Children, b. at Warwick, except third, at Providence:

   I. Albert Frederick,[9] (twin), b. 26 July 1870; d. 12 Aug. 1870.

   II. Edward Nelson (twin), b. 26 July 1870; d. 12 Aug. 1870.

   III. Charles Frederick, b. 29 Nov. 1871; d. at Putnam, Conn., 25 Apr. 1919 ae. 47-4-26; m. at Boston, Mass., 1 Jan. or 12 June 1895, Isabella Frances Rowe, b. at Pawtucket, R. I., 20 Feb. 1871, d. at Providence (res. Pawtucket), 6 Feb. 1925 ae. 53-11-14, dau. of William H. and Elizabeth A. (———) Rowe. The will of Isabel F. Waterman of Pawtucket, dated 26 Apr. 1919 (when she was of Putnam, Conn.), proved 18 Feb. 1925, gave her estate to her sister Ethel Elizabeth Rowe of Pawtucket; the waiver names John W. Rowe as the only other heir. [Probate Rec. Pawtucket, 56-307, 308.]

   IV. Son, stillborn 7 Feb. 1874.

   V. Percy Lawrence, b. 21 June 1877; d. at Putnam, Conn., 10 Dec. 1916 ae. 39-5-19; m. at Pawtucket, R. I., 19 Jan. 1916, Helen Cardiff, of Providence, b. at Boston, Mass., 30 Sept. 1891, dau. of John E. and Susan (———) Cardiff. He removed as a boy with his parents from Warwick to Pawtucket; attended schools there and at Providence, being graduated from the Pawtucket High School. He settled in Putnam in 1901 and went to work for the French River Textile Company at Mechanicsville, starting as a designer. He left there to become assistant designer at a mill in Manton, R. I., from there went to the mill of Simpson & Kirby, in Woonsocket, and later returned to Mechanicsville, where his brother was agent in the mill. Percy became superintendent. In the latter part of 1912, the brothers left the Mechanicsville mills and organized the Waterman Worsted Company in Putnam. They secured a mill there, and in Jan. 1913 began the manufacture of high grade worsted. The business prospered. Mr. Waterman was a member of Quinebaug Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; the Columbian Commandery, K. T., Norwich, Conn.; the Sphinx Temple of the Mystic Shrine, Hartford; and the Putnam Lodge of Elks.

DESCENDANTS OF ROBERT WATERMAN OF MARSHFIELD

ADDITIONS TO VOLUME I

Page 86. Elizabeth Bradford, born 23 Sept. 1747, wife of Melatiah Holmes, was not daughter of Simeon Bradford, but of Peleg and Lydia (Sturtevant) Bradford.

Page 136. "Mrs. Barsheba Waterman" died at New London, Conn., death reported in New London Gazette, issue of 22 Jan. 1779. She was doubtless Bathsheba (———) (Smith) Powers, wife of JOSEPH[4] WATERMAN [No. 71].

Page 138. ZEBULON[4] WATERMAN [No. 72] married MARTHA CAHOON, born at Warwick, R. I., 25 May 1715, daughter of Nathaniel and Jane (Jones) Cahoon or Cohoone. She was granddaughter of Thomas Jones or Joanes of New London, Conn., and niece of Thomas Jones of Colchester, Conn. Nathaniel Cahoon settled in Colchester and died in 1731, leaving several daughters. Zebulon Waterman of Norwich bought the interest of several of the heirs to the Cahoon realty, 9 Mar. 1736. Of Martha's sisters, Sarah married Samuel Chapman, Deliverance married Joseph Taylor, Ann married Jabez Jones, and Mary married Benjamin Rathbone. [Manwaring's Digest, Hartford Probate Rec., 3-28; Land Rec. Colchester, 3-376, 417; 4-182, 254.]

Page 147. SAMUEL[5] WATERMAN [No. 80] had two more daughters: Huldah, b. probably 1751-3, m. Henry Stever of Worcester, N. Y., b. abt. 1750, living 1838; and Anna, b. abt. 1757, m. Feb. 1778, Timothy Lord, her first cousin [see pages 149-50]. The husband of the daughter Elizabeth [No. 228, p. 325], Silas Crippen, was son of Jabez[3] (Jabez,[2] Thomas[1]). We are indebted to Mrs. Charles H. Watson of Evanston, Ill., for the information in the pension papers of Elizabeth (Waterman) Crippen. She was allowed pension on her application dated 29 Oct. 1838. She stated that her brother, John Waterman, was an Ensign in the Revolution; her sister Anna Waterman married Timothy Lord at the same time and place that she married Silas Crippen; her brother, Samuel Waterman, was 71 years old in 1838, then living in Maryland, Otsego Co., N. Y.; Henry Stever, aged about 88 in 1838, and living in Worcester, married her sister, Huldah Waterman; finally, Lt.-Col. Waterman in Col. Whiting's N. Y. Regt. in 1777 was uncle of the widow Elizabeth Crippen. These statements beautifully confirm the analysis and many of the conclusions set forth in Vol. 1, pp. 73-76.

Page 177, No. 107, and Page 285, No. 189. SAMUEL[5] WATERMAN was on the Wellfleet town committee to carry into effect the resolves of the County

Congress and to see that the inhabitants subscribe the association agreed on by the Continental Congress. On 20 Aug. 1778, Eleazar and Samuel Waterman were among those selected "to receive subscriptions for Rev. Mr. [Isaiah] Lewis in consideration of the depreciated currency." [Frederick Freeman: History of Cape Cod, 2-666, 672, 673.] Unless Eleazar is an error or misreading of the record (and Eleazar's name has not been seen in other records of Wellfleet), it is hard to identify him except as Samuel's third cousin, Eleazer[5] Waterman of Norwich, Conn., whose history is very obscure. It is possible, but not very likely, that he lived transiently in Wellfleet, Mass.

Page 191. The second wife of DANIEL[5] WATERMAN [No. 120] was BETHIA (BLANCHARD) MOULTON, b. at N. Yarmouth, Me., 31 Mar. 1774, d. abt. 1858, daughter of Nathaniel and Bethia (Mitchell) Blanchard, and widow of Jonathan Moulton who d. 16 June 1830. [Courtesy of Mr. J. Crawford Hartman, Brooklyn, N. Y.]

Page 222. WILLIAM[5] WATERMAN [No. 148] died 30 June 1792 in his 67th year. He had six children: Gladding, b. 11 Feb. 1757; Jemima Carey, b. 22 Oct. 1759; Charlotte, b. 28 Mar. 1762; Parthena, b. 11 June 1764; Rebecca, b. 14 Mar. 1774; and William [No. 412], b. 11 June 1777. These (and other dates which we already had from other sources) are from a Bible record handed down in the Holdridge family, communicated to us by Mrs. Emma B. Hawley of Cleveland, Ohio.

Pages 240 and 290. Records of the Court of Common Pleas, Dutchess County, N .Y., show that JAMES ELDERKIN [husband of BETTY[5] WATERMAN, No. 155, p. 233] and DAVID[5] WATERMAN [No. 196] sued Barent Lewis, Court of 16 May 1775; and that Stephen Thorn sued FLAVIUS[5] WATERMAN [No. 159] and James Elderkin, Court of 4 Jan. 1776. [Adriance Memorial Library, Poughkeepsie; courtesy of William Herbert Wood.]

Page 246. ADONIJAH[5] WATERMAN [No. 160], by his second wife, RACHEL BAGG, probably had also a daughter: Rachel, who m. John Wheeler Ingalls, b. at Rehoboth, Mass., 5 July 1774, d. at Earlville, N. Y., 17 Feb. 1858, son of Ebenezer and Rachel (Wheeler) Ingalls. They had six children born at Brookfield, Madison Co., N. Y.: Roxy (1805), David Watterman (1808), Sophronia (1811), Freelove (1813), Dewitt (1818), and Fitch Hudson (1822). [For full record, see Charles Burleigh, Ingalls Genealogy (1903), p. 81.] Rachel was presumably born by 1781, and named for her mother who died in 1781. She would be sister of David Waterman [No. 443], who was living in Brookfield at the time Rachel's children were born there. The inscription on her stone reads: "Rachel | wife of | John W. Ingalls | Died July 29, 1851 | Aged 69 Yrs."

Page 255. EZRA[5] WATERMAN [No. 167]. On Ezra and his descendants, we have received a few corrections and valuable additional data, from Rev. Dr. Charles N. Shepard of Bristol, Conn., based on family records and knowledge and his own researches.

The second wife of Ezra died at Bolton, Conn., not at Colchester. The third wife, by an old family statement, was a widow Rhoda Porter of Coventry. The exact position of the son Shubael in the order of births has always been perplexing. Dr. Shepard presents sound reasons for the conclusion that the youngest recorded child (Ezra, bapt. 30 Dec. 1781) was really Shubael and that the minister erred in entering the name. Two earlier sons had been named Ezra, and another Azariah (or Ezariah as spelled on the gravestone), all of whom died young. The Bolton inscriptions in the Hale Collection [State Library] indicate that there were three inscriptions to sons named Ezra (the third having no date), and that led the editor to suppose [Vol. 2, p. 8] that this was the stone of the third Ezra (bapt. 30 Dec. 1781) and that he had died young. However, it was more likely a footstone which had been found, belonging to the grave of the first Ezra (1765-1776).

Charles[6] Waterman [No. 461, p. 522] married Anna Waterman, who died 20 Oct. 1820 [not 1823]. Of his children:

Anna[7] Waterman [No. 1028, p. 523; Vol. 2, p. 508], born 1 [not 11] June 1793, died at Bolton, Conn., 26 July 1841; married (by the Andover minister, recorded in Bolton), 16 Mar. 1826, Eleazar Fox, who died at Bolton, 1 Nov. 1869, aged 82 yrs. 9 mos. Children:

i. Cornelia Ann,[8] b. 28 Jan. 1828; living 1897; m. 28 Jan. 1846, Henry Backus, who d. 13 Nov. 1886. Nine children.
ii. Frederick Hyde, b. 26 May 1830; d. at Albany, N. Y.; m. (1) Helen Smith of Binghamton, N. Y.; m. (2) Hannah Dingham.
iii. Frances Richardson, b. 9 Oct. 1831; d. 19 Mar. 1834.
iv. Lucy Maria, b. 20 July 183-; m. 10 Oct. 1855, Hiram Bidwell. Two children.

Benjamin[7] Waterman [No. 1029, p. 523; Vol. 2, p. 508] had the two children given:

i. Charles Porter,[8] who m. (1) 18 Mar. 1858, Lectana Fenton, dau. of Caleb Fenton; and (2) 27 Apr. 1868, Eliza A. Kingsley; she m. (2) Charles E. Harris.
ii. Elizabeth Jane, b. 15 Jan. 1836; d. 2 Feb. 1841.

Mary[7] Waterman [No. 461, v, p. 523], born 29 June 1801; died 6 Apr. 1866, aged 65 (g. s., Bolton); married Aug. 1848, Lewis T. Porter, of Springfield, Mass.

Laura[7] Waterman [No. 1031, p. 523; Vol. 2, p. 509] married Lucius Hinkley as stated. A family record states that they lived successively at Rockville, Conn., Troy, N. Y., Wapum and Pine Grove, Wis., and Marcus, Iowa, and that they had children:

i. Jane Grey,[8] b. at Rockville, 2 Dec. 1831; m. 6 Sept. 1856, Henry Wilson [William Henry Wilson, by D. A. R. Lineage Books].
ii. Lucius Dwight, b. at Rockville, 8 Nov. 1834; m. Dec. 18—, Lola Gillet.
iii. Julian Wisner, b. 12 Mar. 1838; m. May 18—, Victoria Carrington.

iv. Laura Maria, b. 13 Jan. 1842; m. Mar. 18—, J. Harmon Livingston.

v. Mary Amelia, b. 14 Feb. 1844; m. 8 Nov. 18—, Timothy W. Atwood.

vi. Myron Edward, b. 15 Feb. 1846; m. Jan. [1874], Amelia Briggs [Ann Williams Briggs, by D. A. R. Lineage Books].

Shubael[6] Waterman [No. 462, p. 524] was, most probably, the child baptized (and entered as "Ezra"), 30 Dec. 1781; died in western New York, summer of 1813; married at Bolton, Conn., 28 Nov. 1805, Chloe Chapin, whose record is correctly stated. Shubael went to western New York in 1809, and settled at Vernon, where his two younger children, Azariah and Phebe, were born, although their births were recorded at Bolton. He was lost, presumably drowned, when Phebe was nine months old. According to family tradition, he was engaged in carrying supplies to the U. S. forces on the Canadian border. His father, Ezra,[5] brought his family back to Bolton, and installed them in the part of the house which he had previously made over to Shubael, and took a father's care of them. The executions against Shubael's property in Bolton in 1821 and 1822, and the granting of administration on his estate in 1824, misled the editor to conclude that he died in 1824. His widow Chloe supported the orphaned family as a tailoress. She later lived as a housekeeper with friends in East Hartford; in 1851 she sold the property in Bolton which her son Azariah had made over to her in 1849, and bought a place on Silver Lane in East Hartford, where she with her daughter Phebe's family lived until after the death of Francis Shepard in 1858, when they removed to Bristol. Of the children:

Edna Juliana[7] Waterman [No. 1032, p. 524; Vol. 2, p. 509], born at Bolton, 21 Nov. 1806, died at Manchester, Conn., 9 [or 12] Apr. 1876; married first, at Bolton, 31 Jan. 1832, Solomon Symonds, born at Manchester, 5 Sept. 1796, died there in 1835 (administration on his estate granted 10 Nov. 1835), son of John Symonds; married second, at Manchester, 7 Nov. 1842, Chester McKee, baptized at Bolton, 11 Dec. 1796, died at Manchester, 1 Sept. 1850, aged 54, son of Nathaniel McKee. Mr. McKee was widower of Lucretia Marsh. A child by the first husband:

i. Juliana,[8] d. in infancy.

Children by the second husband:

ii. George Chester, b. 9 Dec. 1844; d. at Warehouse Point, Conn., 6 Apr. 1935; m. at Warehouse Point, 2 Sept. 1911, Martha Washington Thompson, living 1944. He was employed as a gauger by the Dept. of Internal Revenue for many years. No issue.

iii. Mary Elizabeth, b. 12 Feb. 1850; d. 14 Apr. 1935, bur. at Thomaston, Conn.; m. at Hartford, Conn., 17 July 1884, as his second wife, William Simpkin (name originally Simpkins), b. 5 Feb. 1850, d. 14 Oct. 1927. He was employed for many years as foreman of the machine department of the Seth Thomas Clock Company at Thomaston. Before marriage, she had occupied a responsible position at the Hartford Hospital, and had received many favorable notices as an artist.

Daniel Brewster[7] Waterman [No. 1033, p. 524; Vol. 2, p. 510] died at Buffalo, N. Y., 7 Nov. 1885, buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo. He had a prosperous stage line from Hartford to Litchfield until railroad competition in 1850. After working in Albany for a time, he settled in Buffalo, where for many years until his death he was proprietor of a small family hotel. He and his wife were active members of St. John's Episcopal Church in Hartford and afterwards of St. John's Church, Buffalo, where he was senior warden for 18 years. No children.

Phebe Asenath[7] Waterman [No. 1035, p. 524; Vol. 2, p. 512], was born at Vernon, N. Y.; the Census of 1850 corroborates this, in listing her family at Bolton, Conn.:

	age	born
Francis Shepherd [sic]	37	Conn.	Stone cutter
Phebe A. "	36	N. Y.
Frederick W. "	14
Francis C. "	12

Her husband, Francis Shepard, died at East Hartford, where the family then lived, although his name and death record are on the family monument in Bristol. Page 276. Nicholas Cook[6] Waterman [No. 493], b. at Norwich, Conn., 15 Nov. 1787, d. at Barrington, R. I., in 1813, unm. His will, dated 17 July 1810, proved 5 Apr. 1813, gave all his property in Barrington to his brother Asa Waterman, whom he named executor; $50 to brother Amariah Lilly. [Probate Rec. Barrington.]

Page 285. Eleazer[5] Waterman [No. 189], born 11 Dec. 1736, married 23 Aug. 1757, Susanna Fountain, and had a child born 7 Jan. 1758. These facts were certified by Elizabeth Waterman and Hannah Wright, 20 Jan. 1758, and the item was noted when searching the unindexed files of the New London County Court by Mr. W. Herbert Wood, who kindly communicated the information. This confirms our conclusion that Eleazer Waterman, Jr., married and had a child. The Elizabeth Waterman who witnessed in the case was Eleazer's stepmother, and doubtless mother of Susanna Fountain, who may have been born about 1735, before the recorded Fountain children listed on page 122.

Page 301. FOSTER[6] WATERMAN [No. 200, iv], according to the records of St. Andrew's Church, Scituate, Mass., died 8 Oct. 1843, aged 75, and was buried 10 Oct. from the house of his brother, Samuel Waterman. [Church and Cemetery Records of Hanover, Mass., 2-129.]

His mother's family, the Studleys, were of Scituate, Mass. On 5 Mar. 1852, Benjamin S. Waterman was admitted to the church in Hanover, Mass., by letter from the First Trinitarian Congregational Church in Scituate; was dismissed to the Scituate church by letter, 19 Feb. 1855, but moved back to Hanover, and on 11 Apr. 1858 was given a letter to the Congregational Church in Abington Centre; and in 1861 was back in Scituate. [Church and Cemetery Records, Hanover, Mass., 1-84, 174, 175, 178.]

Page 403. (MAJOR) BARNABAS[6] WATERMAN (1776-1839) [No. 341], described as a carpenter and builder, has won acclaim in recent years as an architect. Mr. Charles Messer Stow, who wrote a column for the New York Sun entitled "The Quester," wrote in June 1942:

> When Barnabas was born he inherited, along with New England solidity (sometimes known as stubbornness) an awareness of wider horizons and a certain hunger for new ideas.
> Barnabas grew up to be an architect and builder—the distinction then was slight—and in and about Hudson, across the river in Athens and back a few miles to the east in Kinderhook he built homes for men of means. Those which still stand are regarded with approving eye by connoisseurs of houses. . . . He did not copy the designs of Asher Benjaman of Boston, as most western builders did, but used them as a starting point. Then he added imagination and so contributed an illustrious share to that style of architecture we call Federal.

Examples of his work are pictured by Cortlandt Van Dyke Hubbard and described by Harold Donaldson Eberlein in the recent book sponsored by the Hudson River Conservation Society, "Historic Houses of the Hudson Valley." None there discussed receives more praise than the one now called the House of History in Kinderhook, headquarters of the Columbia County Historical Society.

Now to discover and develop in an old house the possibilities put into it by an architect with imagination calls for a bond of understanding between the long dead builder and the present-day user, a certain acceptance of intent and willingness to carry it out. That bond quite potently exists between Barnabas Waterman and the president of the historical society, James E. Leath.

Waterman's restraint and refinement evident in his designs for the woodwork are enhanced by Col. Leath's taste in selecting the right shade of paint to stress their delicacy. Waterman's emphasis by understatement in setting the house quite a way back from the street is maintained by Col. Leath's choice of the surrounding planting. Finally, arrangement of the rooms to open into one another for entertaining has been expanded by making the house a real community center. Col. Leath spoke a few days ago over WGY in Schenectady on the old houses of Kinderhook and naturally gave the House of History its due, not because of its historical importance—other houses in the town have greater value of that sort—but because in its restoration and furnishing it stands as an incentive to Columbia County to make its homes more beautiful. Barnabas Waterman built into it, said Col. Leath, the beginning of a tradition of good living and elegance, and it is a good thing, he felt, for the present generation to be able to visualize just what those things entail in the way of furnishing. . . .

There is no customary special exhibition in the House of History this summer, but it is open for those who may be able to pass that way and stop to see how Barnabas Waterman built, not only for his own day, but for all the years to come.

Page 406. DANIEL[6] WATERMAN [No. 345]; it was doubtless his wife Abigail (Coggeshall) who was admitted to Second Baptist Church, New York City, 26 Dec. 1804, by letter from Tiverton, R. I., and was dismissed 29 Dec. 1819 to New Bedford, Mass.

Page 451. DARIUS[6] WATERMAN [No. 415] married first, ANNA ———, as stated. She was undoubtedly the "Mrs. Waterman" who died at Cortland, N. Y., 20 Oct. 1826, aged 58 [Cortland Observer, 25 Oct. 1826]. He married second, "in Cortland village," 5 Mar. 1827, "Miss Rhoda Platt," by Rev. William Bacon [ib., 14 Mar. 1827], but she was certainly a widow, and in the pension papers her name and that of her son were consistently read as Pratt instead of Platt.

Page 455. HANNAH[7] WATERMAN [No. 870], called Parish in her father's will, m. JOSHUA PARISH, and his marriage, 28 Aug. 1790, to Abigail Waterman is an error of the Franklin Church records [see p. 222]. They went to Otsego County, N. Y., and in 1816 to Wethersfield, Wyoming Co., N. Y.; had five children, and traditionally raised a girl, Faith Waterman, presumably a niece of Hannah. iv. EMMA, b. 16 May 1877.
v. CLARA, b. 8 (or 3) May 1880.
vi. DORA, b. 13 Apr. 1884.
vii. EDWARD, b. 21 Sept. 1887 (or 1886).

In 1917 Alexander Waterman swore that his father was Simeon, his mother Clara; that he had brothers, Alonzo, Lafayette, and Albert, and in June 1850 and June 1860 [Census dates] he lived with parents and brothers Lafayette and Albert, all four deceased by 1917. The census record (page 341) evidently errs as to names of two of the brothers, or else they had middle names not stated. Alexander's brother John C. Waterman is probably the man of that name who served in the Civil War in Co. E, 153d N. Y. Inf., as a Corporal, and filed for a pension in 1875, his widow Sarah C. filing in 1891.

In 1906 his widow applied for a pension and curiously enough stated Alvin's parents as Ezra Clark and Betsy Waterman, and Alvin's death certificate enters his parents as Esary C. Waterman, born Vermont, and Betsey Hall, born Ohio, but there is no doubt that the father's first name was Elijah.

Page 545. ARUNAH[7] WATERMAN [No. 1093] is undoubtedly the man, as surmised, who was listed in the 1870 Census at Covington, Kentucky. His older children by then had left home. A great-granddaughter, Mrs. Gerald H. (Edna Mae) Castle, Waterman School, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes (1953, while this volume is going through the press, too late for us to get full details) that Arunah lived at one time in Erie, Pa., and that he had four sons: William C.; Vesuvius; Norah; and Joseph Erastus, b. in Buten Co., Pa. [there is no such county in Pa.], 15 Oct. 1840; and three daughters: Kate; "Lou" (m. a Terrel); and Emma. It will be noted that "Kate" corresponds to Catherine of the Census record; "Norah" (a son!) is probably correctly Noah, as in the Census record; "Vesuvius" is not strictly a personal name, but could have been a nickname derived from the "Ves" in Sylvester, the name of a son according to the Census record. Also, it will be noted that the middle name of Joseph, Erastus, was the name of a brother of Arunah.[7] Mrs. Castle also writes that it was one of the sons of Arunah who established the steamship line out of Mobile, Alabama. Efforts some years ago to enlist the interest of the Alabama branch were unproductive.

gelina II" in an air raid, and was shot down 5 Nov. 1943. He escaped with his life, but was made a prisoner of war.

Page 659. NEDRA LUCRETIA[10] SHEPARD [No. 1240, viii, v, (1)] adopted the name of Akin when she started training at General Hospital, Los Angeles, in 1937; graduated 1939 and became a Registered Nurse. She was in the receiving ward until April 1940, when she became a Stewardess for United Air Lines. She resigned to m. 11 July 1941, HOWARD G. SALISBURY, b. 15 Apr. 1912. They sailed for Hawaii on their wedding day. After the attack on Pearl Harbor, she aided by nursing for a year at the Wahiawa Emergency Hospital. Her husband was promoted from Captain to Major in the Provost Marshal section, 29 Apr. 1943. Their son, Howard G.[11] Salisbury III, was b. 20 Apr. 1943.

Her mother, Mrs. GRACIE L.[9] SHEPARD, found a unique way to be of service in the war. The Los Angeles Herald-Express ran a department called "Southern California Boys at War." She began clipping these notices and sending them to the homes of the men the stories were about, and that received so much appreciation that she expanded the service and sent clippings to the men on the fighting fronts. In five months, up to August 1945, she sent out more than 2,000 clippings, and received letters of thanks from all over the world, including letters commending this service from nine Generals. [Herald-Express, 7 Aug. 1945.] Lt.-Gen. H. M. Smith, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific Area, wrote: "Allow me to thank you on behalf of all those who have received them for the interesting clippings which you have been sending to various commands and individuals in the Pacific. These items have served to keep our fighting men informed of recent news events and have therefore been a fine morale factor." [Los Angeles Times, 12 Aug. 1945.]

Mrs. Shepard's other daughter, Sylvia,[10] was employed in the engineering office of the Lockheed Aircraft Factory, Burbank, Calif., and is an airplane pilot. Mrs. Shepard's son, Marshall,[10] and two nephews, had service overseas.

MOODY LYMAN[9] BOOKER [p. 657], although over 40, served in the Army. His brother, Karl,[9] had a daughter, Anna Karl,[10] born 18 July 1943.

References and Note

Grace Marie[10] Waterman, Indian Springs, Tenn., 1940. The data in this letter, written to Mrs. Gracie L.[9] (Booher) Shepard of Los Angeles, Calif., were not received from the latter until 1942, too late to be used in Volume II.

Edward Levi[8] and Samuel David[8] were brothers. See Volume II, page 667, where the name of Edward Levi is incorrectly given as William Edward. They are there entered as sons of Alfred Preston[7] Waterman [No. 1244], on the authority of Mrs. Shepard. The Collection of Charles C. P. Waterman, who obtained names but not dates of this branch in the 1880's, assigned two children to Alfred Preston[7]: William E. and Mary Isabel. There may have been younger children born after this information was obtained.

Miss Grace Marie Waterman, granddaughter of Edward Levi, gives him as son of J. David and Letitia. J. David is clearly identical with David Jervis[7] Waterman [No. 1243] who married 23 Nov. 1859, Letitia Childers; see Volume II, page 666, and they are there recorded as parents of Edward L.[8] They had no son Samuel David at the time information was furnished to Charles C. P. Waterman. He may have been the youngest child and born later.

We therefore conclude that the above Edward Levi[8] and Samuel David[8] belong in the family of David Jervis[7] Waterman [No. 1243]. The only known children of Alfred Preston[7] Waterman [No. 1244] were William E. and Mary Isabel.

Page 679. RUTH (STOCK), wife of FRANK WATERMAN, died at Mt. Morris, near Flint, Mich., 26 Aug. 1937, aged 35. The newspaper clipping names her six children, omitting Kenneth and Russell, and from this omission and her age at death we infer that they were children by a former marriage. The 1937 directory of Flint listed Kenneth J. Waterman, a salesman, with wife, Helen, also Russell Waterman, a printer.

5. AUGUSTUS WATERMAN (James, Robert), born near Trinity Church, New York City, 14 Apr. 1821, died 9 June 1869; married first, at a Presbyterian Church on the corner of Houston and Thompson Streets, New York City, MARY JANE MAZE, born 18 May 1825, died 30 Dec. 1860, daughter of Abram and ——— (McCall) Maze; married second, MARIA (———) COLLINS.

He lost his father when he was very young, and in youth he ran away from home and shipped on a whaling vessel, being gone three years. In adult life, he was in the wholesale paper business with Cyrus Field in New York City. He invested money with the first Atlantic cable, but sold his stock after the cable broke twice, before the venture succeeded. Cyrus Field gave him a watch engraved on the back with a picture of the vessel that laid the cable; it was stolen after his death.

He owned a large farm in Sullivan County, N. Y., near Monticello, containing about 1200 acres. A part was purchased 29 Oct. 1853 from D. W. Clark of Hartford, Conn.; part, 2 Jan. 1855, from Lucien B. Howk of Mystic, Conn.; and another part, 6 Dec. 1853, from J. P. Jones of Monticello. It was sold at auction after his death, on 4 Jan. 1872, and was bought by a Singer of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It had a lake on it, and afterwards became a summer resort. He also owned the place where they lived on Church Street, Bloomfield, N. J. When the family was at Monticello, Mr. Waterman was home only week-ends, going to his business in New York City.

His first wife's father, Abram Maze, was a dealer in books and stationery on Bleecker Street, New York City. His second wife was a widow with two children.

CHARLES WATERMAN OF HARTFORD, CONN.

1. CHARLES WATERMAN, born about 1760, died at Hartford, Conn., 15 Oct. 1816, aged 56 (gravestone), "kicked by a horse" (Second Church records); married ANN STARR, born at Middletown, Conn., 19 Mar. 1761, died at Farmington, Conn., 18 Oct. 1829, aged 69 (gravestone), [Conn. Observer, 16 Nov. 1829], daughter of Nathaniel and Ann (Rice) Starr.

He was listed at Hartford in the Census of 1800, his family consisting of himself and wife aged 26 to 45, and 1 boy and 2 girls under 10. In 1810 he and his wife were over 45, and only a girl under 10 was living with them.

Family tradition, transmitted by his grandson Francis W. Waterman, now (1936) 92 years old, makes him a Hessian soldier who deserted the British cause, and credits him with becoming an orderly to Gen. Wadsworth. The Hessian tradition is found also in other branches of the family, and we feel must be accepted.

His wife's brother, James Starr (b. 25 Jan. 1753, d. 17 Feb. 1822) left his property by will to his sisters, brother, and a nephew.

On 18 Apr. 1826, Loudon Bailey, Sarah Bailey, and Nathaniel Starr, all of Middletown, and Anna Waterman of Farmington, Conn., for $1,500, sold to Asa Richardson of Middletown, land "that James Starr late of Middletown deceased did by his last will and testament give to Sarah Bailey, Nathaniel Starr and Anna Waterman." Thomas Lamb of Farmington, Administrator of the Estate of Anna Waterman late of Farmington, deceased, for $500, released to Asa Richardson a mortgage made to Sarah Bailey and Anna Waterman, 7 Dec. 1829. [Land Rec. Middletown, 53-467; 55-555.]

Charles and his wife were buried in the South Burying Ground, Hartford.

4. JAMES H. WATERMAN (James Benjamin, Charles), born at Windsor, Conn., 22 Sept. 1834, died at Hartford, Conn., 19 Apr. 1914, aged 79-6-27; married at Hartford, 16 Oct. 1879, MARY A. (STARKEY) CHAMPLIN, a widow, born in England about 1853, living (1940) Hartford.

He was living in Hartford in 1870, ae. 36, driver for Adams Express Co., living with William H. Greenleaf (ae. 55) and Mary A. Greenleaf (ae. 50).

* A member of the family stated that James H. Waterman died without issue. The newspaper obituary of James Nuttal Waterman in The Hartford Courant, 26 May 1940, states that he left surviving his mother, Mrs. Mary Waterman, of Hartford, and a brother, William A. Starkey, of East Hartford. The compilers have received no statement from the immediate family, and hence cannot state whether James Nuttal Waterman was an adoptive son of James H. Waterman, and a son of Mrs. Waterman by a previous marriage, as appears likely from the facts of record.

He moved to North Bend, Neb., where his older children were born in a log cabin; he and his wife were the first couple to be married in the settlement. About June 1864 the family started for California in a prairie schooner which traveled in a caravan. Every man was armed with rifles, and at night the wagons were formed into a barricade, the men taking turns at watch, to guard against Indian raids. They arrived in Santa Cruz, Sept. 1864, and the family was sheltered by Mr. Waterman's maternal uncle, Nathaniel Guild. The youngest child was born here, but Mrs. Waterman contracted a cold and died the following March, the baby dying three days later.

After his second marriage, the family moved to the Santa Cruz Mountains, where they lived on a ranch. Mr. Waterman's brother William joined him, and they operated in partnership; but he sold out to William and moved to Los Gatos in March 1875, to give the children an opportunity for schooling, which did not then exist in the mountains.

He had no deeds recorded in Southbury, nor in Woodbury, from which town Southbury was set off in 1787. His son Joseph C. (known as Charles) in the 1880 Census gave the birthplace of both parents as Germany. That may be true of John Mitchell Waterman, although Mitchell was an old Woodbury name, but it is doubtful whether it was true of his wife. Anna Squire has not been identified; the surname Squire was common in Woodbury and Southbury.

Census of 1800, Southbury, Conn.:

OLIVER WATERMAN OF BERNE, NEW YORK

1. OLIVER WATERMAN, born about 1750, died at Berne, Albany County, N. Y., 1811; married ELIZABETH ESMOND.

Oliver Waterman of Dutchess County refused to sign the General Association in Beekman's Precinct, in 1775. In the Census of 1790, he was listed at Beekmantown, Dutchess County, his family consisting of himself, 5 males under 16, and 4 females. At Beekmantown we find in the Census of 1790, Thomas Esmond (himself and wife apparently), and directly under him Joseph Esmond (with a boy under 16 and two females); also a Jacob Esmond with a very large family.

On 13 Aug. 1795, Oliver leased land of Stephen Van Rensselaer; in 1799, was a trustee of the Watervliet Methodist Society near Niskayuna; in 1799 sold the leased land to Ezekiel Mulford; on 25 Jan. 1800, purchased the Helderberg property; was entered in the Electoral Census, 1807.

In the 1800 Census, Oliver was listed at Berne, Albany County, his family consisting of himself (over 45), 1 female (26 to 45), 3 males (16 to 26), 2 females (10 to 16), and 2 males (under 10). At Watervliet, Albany County, were listed: Samuel Waterman (26 to 45), with 1 female (16 to 26), and 1 boy and 1 girl (under 10). Next to him, Zepheniah Waterman, with 2 males, including himself (26 to 45), 1 female (26 to 45), and 1 male (under 10). Also, Leman Waterman (26 to 45), with 1 female (16 to 26), and 1 boy and 1 girl (under 10).

Administration was granted on Oliver's estate, 6 May 1811. The widow Elizabeth, of Berne, and Zephaniah Waterman, of Watervliet, were administrators.

Albany County records indicate that Oliver may have had relatives there. Not only was Leman Waterman at Watervliet in 1800, but in 1801 "Lemman" Waterman was paying rent there of 40*s*. Lemuel Waterman (conceivably a variant form intended for Leman) rented land of 40*s*. value in 1807 in the Town of Guilderland. In 1801 Swan Waterman owned property of £200 value in Watervliet. In the lack of other mention of Swan Waterman, we might be tempted to believe, since S and L are so readily mistaken for each other when written, that "Swan" might be a misreading for "Leman," were it not that Oliver Waterman named his youngest son, born in 1797, Lyman Swan Waterman. That suggests the possibility that Leman (Lyman) and Swan were relatives, perhaps brothers, of Oliver.

Children of Oliver and Elizabeth (Esmond) Waterman:

Reference: George Thurston Waterman, Albany, N. Y., collected data on this family for many years and is the primary source of our account, though we have obtained additional data on some groups of descendants from other sources, acknowledged under each family.

2. SAMUEL WATERMAN (Oliver), born 1775-6?, died at Watervliet, N. Y., 1 May 1806; married ESTHER ———, born , died at Watervliet, 18 Aug. 1842.

Samuel and Hester Waterman with thirty-two others were members of Joseph Whitehead's class, Methodist Episcopal Church Union, Watervliet, 8 June 1804.

Administration on the estate of Samuel Waterman of Watervliet was granted to his brother Zephaniah Waterman, and Joseph Whitehead of Watervliet, blacksmith, 5 June 1806. Papers on file dated 1821 state that Samuel died on or about 1 May 1806, and that he leased in 1805 a farm from John Herkimer for eight years. Gilbert Waterman said he did not know that his father hired the farm. Gilbert Waterman of Watervliet and Johnathan P. Horton of Easton, Washington County, next of kin and heirs of Samuel Waterman, asked for an accounting. [Surrogate's Rec. Albany County, 2-43; Files.]

He was listed in the 1810 Census at Watervliet, Albany Co., N. Y., his family consisting of 2 males and 1 female aged 26 to 45, 1 female 16 to 26, 1 female 10 to 16, and 2 males and 2 females under 10.

The will of Zephaniah Waterman of Watervliet, dated 3 June 1843, proved 21 May 1844, gave the usual dower to his wife Polly; $6.00 to daugh-

The petition of Samuel Waterman on 21 May 1844 named the heirs as himself, Chauncey Waterman, Lois wife of Jacob Van Vranken, Giles Waterman, Elizabeth wife of Alonzo Wilbur, Perlina Waterman, Joseph Waterman, Hiram A. Waterman, and Isaac V. Waterman (a minor), all of Watervliet. [Surrogate's Rec. Albany County, 12-160 to 163.]

4. Benjamin Waterman (Oliver), born 1779, died after 1850; married Rebecca White.

According to descendants of his brothers, he removed to the "Black River Country." This refers to the valley of the Black River in Jefferson and Lewis Counties, New York. Here Benjamin located, in Ellisburgh, about 1815. His son Ismond was obviously named after his mother, whose name was stated as Elizabeth Esmond by descendants of his brothers.

He was listed as head of a household in the 1830 Census at Ellisburgh, Jefferson Co., N. Y.: 1 male 50 to 60; 1 female 40 to 50; 1 male 15 to 20; 2 females 10 to 15; 1 male and 1 female 5 to 10; 1 female under 5. Also in the 1840 Census: 1 male 60 to 70; 1 female 50 to 60; 1 male and 1 female 20 to 30; 2 females 15 to 20.

5. JOSEPH WATERMAN (Oliver), born [say 1782], died .

We have no record of Joseph, but it is possible that the following records pertain to his family.

Zephaniah Waterman bought land in Leroy, Genesee Co., N. Y., in 1835, and with wife Ruth sold in 1845. With several others he acquired land, 1 Jan. 1842, to be used as a burial ground at Leroy. He bought a right of way with several other men in 1839. Orville J. Waterman sold land in Leroy in 1865, with his wife Ellen M. [Deeds, Genesee County, 35-334; 51-326; 68-315; 99-365. Joseph D. Waterman bought land in Leroy in 1856. [Ibid., 96-81.]

* Of the three missing daughters, one may have been mother of Alice Piromer, listed as niece of Ismond Waterman in the 1855 Census. The missing son may be William T. Waterman (see end of Oliver Waterman Family for his records). George Thurston Waterman did not trace Benjamin's descendants.

Possible children of Joseph and ——— (———) Waterman:*

i. Zephaniah, b. abt. 1811, d. after 1860. [See end of Oliver Waterman family.]
ii. Solomon Southworth, b. 13 Dec. 1813; d. 25 Apr. 1889. [See end of Oliver Waterman family.]

6. John E. Waterman (Oliver), born [say 1784], died ; married first, Nancy Delanay; married second, Esther Moore; married third, Lydia (Richards) Dix, born in Conn., about 1792, daughter of Simeon and Anna (Wright) Richards of Newington, Conn.

Albany, especially in the section of the city called Arbor Hill. He became interested in genealogical research in 1894, and collected much data on the Waterman family. The present work is indebted to his extensive collection for all the data of Charles C. P. Waterman (which Mr. George T. Waterman copied in its entirety), and for most of the descendants of Oliver Waterman (his own branch), as well as many items relating to other branches.

WATERMANS OF RENSSELAER COUNTY, N. Y.

WATERMANS OF STEPHENTOWN, N. Y.

ELISHA WATERMAN of Stephentown, N. Y., was born in 1792, both his age in census records and his stated age at death on his gravestone agreeing. His place of birth was stated as Connecticut in the 1850 Census during his lifetime, and also in the 1880 listing of his son Ira. The Watermans in Connecticut were not numerous at the time of Elisha's birth, and most of the family groups are completely known.

In Volume I, page 338, records were given which indicate that Zebedee and Betsey (Cornwell) Waterman had a son born between 1786 and 1790, who was still living in 1800. His name has not been learned, nor whether he survived.

Not very much is known about the children of Zebedee. His wife was daughter of Elisha Cornwell, so it would have been natural for them to name a son Elisha. Against this is the fact that Zebedee had moved from Conn. to Mass. between 1789 and 1790, before Elisha's birth, and that the unknown son of Zebedee was slightly older than Elisha, born 1792. Although both these objections are invalid if Elisha was actually born before 1790, it seems more likely that he was connected with the family mentioned in the next paragraph.

Proof will be given below that Stephen (b. abt. 1794), Esther (b. 1799) and Eveline (b. abt. 1811) were a brother and two sisters, born in Rensselaer County. Of these, Esther married a Sackett, and "The Sacketts of America" states that she was daughter of Elihu and Hannah (Morgan) Waterman. No Elihu has been found in Rensselaer County records, and no Elihu of proper age in any of the Waterman families. It is quite likely that the name "Elihu" in the Sackett book was a mistake for "Elisha." It is likely, but unproved, that Elisha, born 1792, was a member of the same family group.

The earliest mention of Watermans in Rensselaer County is found in the Census of 1790, which lists the following heads of families in Stephentown, then in Albany County, from which Rensselaer County was set off the following year:

	males over 16	males under 16	females
Samuel Waterman	2	2	3
Elisha Waterman	1	2	2
Oliver Waterman	1	1	2

The given names do not correspond, as a group, to known groups in the families of either Robert[1] or Richard[1] Waterman. The family of Cyprian[6] Waterman (Volume I, pages 263-4) of New London, Conn., disappears from Conn. records during or shortly after the Revolutionary War. Among his children were Lemuel (b. 1759) and Elisha (b. 1762). If Samuel is intended for Lemuel, the three Watermans in Stephentown in 1790 could be sons of Cyprian. However, the original sheets have been examined, and the name is certainly written Samuel, whatever it may have been intended for.

We have not learned whence these Watermans came, whither they went, or indeed whether they were really Watermans at all; for some surnames were misunderstood and written in strange ways by the census enumerators. No Watermans were found in Stephentown in 1800.

Whatever the origin of the Stephentown Watermans, it is likely that the head of this family was:

1. ELISHA or ELIHU WATERMAN, said to have married HANNAH MORGAN. If named Elisha, he could have been the son of Cyprian.[6]

iv. EVELINE, b. abt. 1811; living in New Lebanon, N. Y., 1855, unm.

2. ELISHA WATERMAN (Elisha or Elihu?), born in Conn., about 1792, died at Stephentown, N. Y., 10 Mar. 1865, in his 73d year; married CYRENA ———, born probably in N. Y., about 1797, died at Stephentown, 29 July 1861, aged 63.

DANIEL AND EDWARD WATERMAN

Isaac and Margaret Allen, on 7 Sept. 1831, assigned to DANIEL and EDWARD WATERMAN all their interest in certain lands described in Book 21, p. 58. No residences stated. [Deeds, Rensselaer County, 28-262.] This land had been leased in 1791 by Stephen Van Rensselaer to Hezekiah Lockwood, and was later sold by George and Susannah Smith of Sand Lake to Isaac Allen. [ib., 21-58.]

On 5 Nov. 1835, Aaron and Sally Morey of Sand Lake conveyed to Henry and Calvin Fether and Daniel Waterman of the same, 58 acres, Lot 15 on Stephen Van Rensselaer's map; and on 15 Apr. 1841, Henry and Calvin Feathers and Daniel Waterman, conveyed the same land to Stephen M. Waterman; signed also by Sarah wife of Henry, and Mary Jane wife of Calvin, Daniel having no wife. [ib., 40-123; 54-64.]

Edward Waterman and Elceda L. his wife assigned, 24 Sept. 1841, to Daniel Waterman, the land described in Book 21, p. 58. [ib., 69-511.]

Samuel Stoel and Harriet his wife, of Grafton, assigned to Calvin F. Waterman of Sand Lake, for $200, on 6 Oct. 1847, land in Grafton. On 11 Sept. 1848, Daniel Waterman of Poestenkill and Hannah his wife conveyed to Calvin F. Waterman all right to the undivided half of "homestead farm on which said Daniel Waterman now lives," and another parcel known as Oak Hill Farm on Poestenkill Creek. [ib., 67-450, 510.]

In the absence of probate and vital records, the precise relationships of members of this family are hard to determine. It seems reasonably certain that Daniel was the eldest of this group and that he was father of Calvin F.; and probably he was father also of Edward.

The above conclusions are partially confirmed by the following census records.

Census of 1840, Sand Lake, Rensselaer County, N. Y.:

Darius Waterman	1 male and 1 female aged 50 to 60
	1 male and 1 female aged 20 to 30
	1 female aged 10 to 15
	1 male aged under 5
Calvin Waterman	1 male and 1 female aged 20 to 30
Edward Waterman	1 male and 1 female aged 20 to 30
	2 females aged under 5

The ages of Calvin and Edward correspond to what we have learned from other sources. The older man is evidently intended for Daniel. It is unlikely that Daniel's name was misread in the several deeds in which he appears; no Darius appears in the deeds of the period, so that name is probably a mistake or a misreading for Daniel. "Darius" may have been living with a married daughter and her husband; or the male listed in his family as aged 20 to 30 may have been a son rather than a son-in-law, perhaps the Stephen M. Waterman whose name appears in deeds of this family.

1. DANIEL WATERMAN, born between 1780 and 1790, died probably between 1848 and 1850; married first, ——— ———, probably a sister or daughter of Calvin FEATHERS; married second, between 1841 and 1848, HANNAH ———.

Probable children by first wife, born in New York State:

3+ii. CALVIN F., b. abt. 1817; d. June 1887.
iii. STEPHEN M.

Estate of Hannah M. Freiot of Lansingburgh. Harvey J. King appointed guardian of Anne J. Dater and M. FRANK WATERMAN, 12 Sept. 1884. Service of citation upon M. Frank Waterman of West Troy, 4 Aug. 1884 (he was a minor over 14). Petition of A. C. Comstock, administrator, 4 Aug. 1884, mentions M. Frank Dater, a legatee of the will, since married and now known as M. Frank Waterman.* [Surrogate's Rec. Rensselaer County, 107-600: File 199.]

* Apparently not a Waterman by birth.

Harvey Waterman was listed in the 1850 Census at Stephentown; aged 22, born in Vermont; with wife Jane, aged 23, born in New York. Harvey was still living in Stephentown in 1862. Possibly he was another son of Elisha, but more likely he was Harvey[8] Waterman [No. 993-4, Vol. II, p. 472], who was born at Norwich, Vt., 8 June 1828. The age and Vermont birthplace correspond, and that Harvey's only known wife, Ellen Jane Servosse, was not born until 1844, making it possible for him to have had a first wife Jane.

Sarah Waterman, a teacher, aged 25, born in New York, boarded in 1880 with William J. Sheldon, a merchant, and Permelia W., his wife, both born in New York.

Waterman James of Stephentown, N. Y., bought land in 1804 in Augusta (now Potter), Yates Co., N. Y., from Edward Crafts, Jr., of that place.

Ethel G. Waterman, born at Stephentown, N. Y., about 1890, daughter of Fred Grant and Hartie Waterman, married at Cheshire, Mass., 23 July 1917, John H. Buckheimer, born at Cleveland, Ohio, about 1889, son of George and Margaret (Beck) Buckheimer.

Harry A. Waterman enlisted 2 May 1898, at Troy, to serve two years; aged 23; mustered in as Private, Co. A, 17 May 1898; mustered out with company, 25 Oct. 1898, at Troy. [New York in the Spanish-American War (1900), 1-649.]

WATERMANS OF TIOGA AND BROOME COUNTIES, NEW YORK

"Tradition is that three brothers came from England . . . James, Henry and John." By another account, "John Waterman, of English descent, came from Peekskill, N. Y., 1800, and settled on what is known as the Wright farm in Smithboro" [Tioga County]. "Tradition says the family originally came from near the great iron works of England."

Peekskill is on the Hudson River, in Westchester County, just south of Dutchess County (the part now Putnam County). John Waterman, by the family account, was father of James or James H. Waterman, and according to the N. Y. Census of 1855 James Waterman (aged 58) was born in Dutchess County. A John Waterman was one of those who signed the Association at Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, in June and July 1775. The U. S. Census of 1790 lists no Watermans in Dutchess County except Oliver of Beekmantown; but in Cortlandt, Westchester County, N. Y., were found:

William Waterman	1 male over 16	2 females
	1 male under 16
John Waterman	1 male over 16	1 female

These appear to be young, recently married, men; John was probably the John Waterman who married Jane Cronk at Yorktown, N. Y., 20 Oct. 1790 [Journal of Rev. Silas Constant, pp. 169, 375].

The U. S. Census of 1800 shows the following heads of families at Owego, Tioga Co., N. Y. [Owego is not identical with the present town and city of Owego, which it did not include, but it did include the present Nichols]:

Thomas Waterman	1 male over 45	1 female over 45
William Waterman	1 male 26 to 45	1 female 16 to 26
		3 females under 10
John Waterman	1 male 26 to 45	1 female 26 to 45
	2 males under 10	1 female under 10

The above John Waterman is undoubtedly the father of James of Tioga (born in Dutchess County 1796). It will be seen that in 1800 he had three children, all born after 1790 when John of Cortlandt, Westchester County, married. The presence in Tioga of John and William in 1800, and the tradition that John came to Tioga from Peekskill, suggest their identity with the John and William who were of Cortlandt in 1790. It must be admitted that the two Williams do not correspond so well as the two Johns, for the William of 1790 appears to have had two children born before that date, while the three children of the William of 1800 were all born after 1790. However, the first two children of William may have died between 1790 and 1800.

It will be noted that William and John in Tioga County were accompanied by a Thomas Waterman, who seems to have been an older man whose household consisted only of himself and wife, both born prior to 1755. If born about 1745 or earlier, Thomas could have been the father of William and John.

In the New England Waterman families, the only Thomas Waterman who seems to be available as possible father of William and John of Tioga County was Thomas[5] (Job,[4] Benjamin,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Richard[1]). This Thomas, of Johnston, R. I., is said in the William H. Waterman Collection to have married first, Thankful Hawkins, second Phila daughter of Thomas Eddy, and third Amey Lewis, and to have removed to Plymouth, Chenango Co., N. Y. No children are stated. Records of Chenango County, so far as consulted, fail to reveal his presence there; but he was brother of Richard Waterman who did settle in Plymouth, Chenango County, also of David Waterman who settled in Hartland, Niagara Co., N. Y.

On 13 Sept. 1804, Hannah Coe, widow of T. Coe of Union, Tioga Co., N. Y. [Union was in Broome County after the county was set off in 1806], for $4.00, conveyed to Benjamin Norton, Elisha B. Bradley, Medad Bradley, Elnathan Norton, Amasa Norton, Homer Norton, Abner Rockwell, David Rockwell, Stephen Stoddard, James Ketchum, Daniel Howard, Amos Howard, Nehemiah Crawford, Samuel Crawford, Isaac Lamb, Edward Ward, William Waterman, William Coe and John Tubbs of the towns of Union and Tioga, Tioga County, farmers, "for the use of a publick burying Ground," part of the south half of Lot No. 99 called Nanticoke Township, containing ¼ acre. [Deeds, Tioga County, 6-130.]

That William Waterman actually lived in Union, Broome County, is indicated also by the foreclosure of a mortgage. A mortgage had been given, 17 Jan. 1807, by William Waterman to Rebecca Park and John Ingersol, surviving executors of Warham Park dec'd, and was foreclosed and the premises sold at auction, 18 Mar. 1818. They were 128 acres in Lot No. 89 in the "township of Nanticoke in Boston Purchase," in Union, Broome County. [Mortgages, Broome County, 2-444.]

It is barely possible that the widow of William Waterman was the Pheby Waterman who was listed in the 1820 Census at Union, Broome Co., N. Y.: 1 female 26 to 45; 1 female 10 to 16; and 1 male and 1 female under 10. If so, the older boys must have been living in other families.

WILLIAM WATERMAN very probably was father of:

A+i. ALPHEUS B., b. abt. 1802.

B+ii. JOHN C., b. 11 Jan. 1805; d. 11 Aug. 1883.

And possibly of:

C+iii. NATHANIEL.

iv. W. [?] S., listed (together with Alpheus B .and John C.) as head of a household in Union, Broome County, in the 1840 Census; 1 male and 1 female 20 to 30; and 1 female under 5.

John Waterman, with other children unknown, was father of:

D4i. JAMES, b. 12 Jan. 1796; d. 12 June 1859.

Census of 1830, Tioga, Tioga Co., N. Y.:

Samuel Waterman	1 male	30 to 40	1 female	30 to 40
	1 "	15 to 20	1 "	15 to 20
	1 "	10 to 15	1 "	10 to 15
	1 "	5 to 10	1 "	5 to 10
	1 "	under 5	1 "	under 5

This SAMEUL WATERMAN has not been found in other Tioga County records, hence probably did not reside there long. His age makes identification possible with Samuel son of Richard Waterman of Plymouth, Chenango Co., N. Y., which Richard was brother of Thomas Waterman who may possibly have been the father of William and John.

A. ALPHEUS B. WATERMAN (?William), born in New York State, about 1802, died ; married BETSEY LASHIER, born in New York State, about 1806.

On 8 May 1826, Alpheus B. and John C. Waterman of Union, Broome Co., N. Y., bought from Daniel Kimball of the same, for $750.00, the south half of Lot 102 in "township of Nanticoke" in Boston Purchase, containing 64 acres, also a strip of the north half of said lot of 5 rods wide. John C. Waterman (Marget Waterman signed with him) conveyed his share of this property, for $400.00, 22 June 1835, to Alpheus B. Waterman. [Deeds, Broome County, 17-160, 161.]

Alpheus B. Waterman and Betsey his wife of Union, on 18 Apr. 1840, sold for $1100.00 to Ebenezer Blakely, 1st, of Butternuts, Otsego Co., N. Y., the south half of Lot 102 in "Township of Nanticoke" in Boston Purchase, containing 64 acres, also an adjacent strip of 5 rods in the north half of this lot, reserving ditch which conveys water from Nanticoke creek to mill, known as Waterman mill, the water privileges granted to owner of the mill forever. [ib., 22-224.]

On 29 Oct. 1835, John C. Waterman purchased for $140.00 from Asa Fanning, Jr., (and Phebe Ann Fanning) of Union, the equal undivided north half of Lot 103 in "Nanticoke Township" except one equal undivided half of the sawmill privileges. On 30 Nov. 1835, John C. Waterman of Union for $600.00 sold the same (containing 64 acres) to Gordon Hewitt of Owego, Tioga Co., N. Y., being "the same farm where sd Waterman now resides." [ib., 17-351, 418.]

Both Alpheus and John seem to have acquired other parts of Lot 103, though their purchase deeds have not been seen. On 28 Apr. 1840, Alpheus B. Waterman and Betsey his wife, of Union, sold to James Hamm, of Union, land in Union, part of Lot 103 in Nanticoke township of Boston Purchase, the undivided half upon which a certain sawmill stands known as the Waterman Mill, with half of said mill and privileges. [ib., 22-200.]

On 9 July 1853, John C. Waterman and his wife Margaret (signed Marget), of Union, sold for $100.00 to Aaron Heath, all right to part of Lot 103 in Nanticoke township of Boston Purchase, beginning at stake between Peter Thorn and Waterman's standing south of sawmill, being same land as conveyed by John Tubbs to said Waterman, and 200 inches of water from Waterman's mill dam, etc. [ib., 39-447.]

Census of 1830, Union, Broome Co., N. Y.: Alpheus B. Waterman, 1 male and 1 female 20 to 30; 1 male and 1 female under 5.

Alpheus seems to have removed after his deed of 1840, but was listed as A. B. Waterman at Union in the 1840 Census: 1 male and 1 female 30 to 40; 1 male and 1 female 10 to 15; 1 female 5 to 10; and 3 males under 5.

There were no Watermans in Albion, Mich., in the 1850 Census.

2. Bradley Waterman (Alpheus B., ?William), born about 1827, died at Albion, Mich., 17 Aug. 1914; married at Bethel, Ontario Co., N. Y., 13 Oct. 1850, Ann Elizabeth Wilbur, born about 1832, died 16 Jan. 1920.

Civil War Pensions, WC 783,167. On 8 Sept. 1914, Ann E. Waterman, aged 82, of Albion, Calhoun Co., Mich., widow of Bradley, applied for pension. She married him as Ann E. Wilbur, at Bethel, N. Y., 13 Oct. 1850. Witnesses, Charles S. Loud, Ruth Wolcott.

The soldier had been a pensioner, and in 1898 filled out a questionnaire giving his marriage and the births of his four living children.

On 15 Oct. 1914, Lewis Waterman, aged 78, of Homer, Mich., says that Bradley and his wife lived in Hopewell, but went to the neighboring town of Bethel to be married. Oliver C. Monroe, aged 81, of Albion, testified 1914 that Bradley and Ann settled in Hopewell, N. Y., and in four or five years removed to Homer, Mich., "where soldier's parents had preceeded them." Mary Leonard of Homer, aged 75 in 1914, gave the name of the minister who married Bradley as Rev. Mr. McGlascher of Bethel, N. Y.

Bradley enrolled 22 Feb. 1864 at Homer, Mich., in Co. I, 2d Regt., Mich. Inf.; discharged 28 July 1865 at Delaney House, D. C. He gave his age as 60 in 1887.

He enrolled 9 Sept. 1861 at Homer, Mich., in Co. M., 2d Mich. Cavalry; mustered out as Corporal, 8 Oct. 1864, at Detroit, Mich. In 1915 he stated his birth-place as Union, Tompkins Co., N. Y., but Union is in Broome County, and the deeds mentioned in the account of his father herein prove that the family lived in Broome County at the time of his birth. A grandson called him Lewis J. Waterman, but the pension records and marriage and death records give him no middle initial or name.

B. JOHN C. WATERMAN (?William), born in New York State, 11 Jan. 1805, died at Union, Broome Co., N. Y., 11 or 12 Aug. 1883; married first, 1 Jan. 1827, MARGARET HUTCHINSON, born in New York State, 17 Feb. 1807, died at Union, 18 Sept. 1873, daughter of William and Mary (Breese) Hutchinson; married second, JANE C. ———.

He purchased land in Union, Broome Co., N. Y., together with Alpheus B. Waterman, in 1826, and seems to have been engaged with Alpheus in the operation of a sawmill known as the Waterman Mill.

William Hutchinson, his father-in-law, was a Revolutionary soldier. In the 1840 Census, J. C. Waterman is listed at Union with the following family: 1 male and 1 female 30 to 40; 1 male 15 to 20; 1 male 10 to 15; 1 male and 2 females 5 to 10; 1 male and 1 female under 5.

C. NATHANIEL WATERMAN (?William), married REBECCA ———.

On 20 May 1829, Nathaniel Waterman of Chenango, Broome Co., N. Y., purchased 50 acres in Union, the east half of Lot 138 in Chenango township of Boston Purchase, from Joshua Whitney and Julia Whitney his wife, of Chenango. Nathaniel Waterman of Union, Broome Co., N. Y., and Rebecca his wife, sold the same, 14 Apr. 1830, to Samuel Twining of Union. [Deeds, Broome County, 11-484; 12-320.]

This Nathaniel may be identical with No. 58-1, x, of the Richard Waterman family, who sold out in Providence, R. I., 18 Apr. 1829.

D. JAMES H. WATERMAN (John), born in Dutchess County, N. Y., 12 Jan. 1796, died at Nichols, Tioga Co., N. Y., 12 or 13 June 1859; married LUCINDA SMITH, born in Orange County, N. Y., 1 Apr. 1801, died at Nichols, 1 Apr. 1875, daughter of Wait and Rachel (Newman) Smith, and granddaughter of Ezekiel Newman, a Revolutionary soldier.

Wait Smith was listed at Goshen, Orange Co., N. Y., in the 1790 Census, with a wife and young son; the Goshen Smiths derived from Jamaica, L. I. Ezekiel Newman lived at Salem, Westchester Co., N. Y., in 1790.

"Waterman characteristics in this branch: strong taste for music; men enjoy hunting and fishing, and were land owners and blacksmiths. Complexion: pronounced blond."

On 15 Apr. 1820, Wait Smith and Rachel his wife of Tioga, Tioga County, for $600, sold to James Waterman of the same, 100 acres in Tioga, half of a lot deeded to Wait Smith by Ezra Canfield in 1816, part of Lot No. 6 in Light's and Miller's Patent. [Deeds, Tioga County, 29-185.]

E. Thomas Waterman, born between 1760 and 1770, died at Chenango, Broome Co., N. Y., in 1844; married first, ——— ———; married second, Polly Meeker, born about 1789, died at Chenango, N. Y., Dec. 1850.

On 10 Feb. 1816, Thomas Waterman of Chenango, Broome Co., N. Y., for $335.00, bought Lot No. 2 in Hornby tract in Chenango, containing 110½ acres, from Joshua Whitney. Acknowledgment taken by Thomas G. Waterman, Master in Chancery. [Deeds, Broome County, 5-117.]

It is a curious coincidence that Thomas Waterman settled in Chenango, where Thomas Glasby Waterman [Vol. I, p. 557] already lived.

Thomas Waterman of Chenango, for $330.00, sold the above lot, 3 May 1817, to Robert Meeker. Thomas of Chenango bought, 12 Apr. 1826, for $100.00, from Joshua Whitney, about 2 acres in the southwest corner of Lot No. 27, Bingham's Patent. On 9 Mar. 1831, Thomas and Polly his wife sold, for $60.00, to Oliver Ely, 1 acre in the lot originally known as Lot 27; both made their marks. [ib., 5-485; 12-90; 13-236.]

Thomas Waterman mortgaged the Lot No. 2 in Hornby tract to Joshua Whitney when he bought it on 10 Feb. 1816, and Whitney rebought the lot under foreclosure, 2 May 1820. [Mortgages, Broome County, 3-71.]

Thomas Waterman in the Census of 1820 was listed at Union, Broome Co., N. Y.: 1 male over 45; 1 female 10 to 16; 1 male and 3 females under 10. Pheby Waterman was also listed at Union: 1 female 26 to 45; 1 female 10 to 16; 1 male and 1 female under 10.

Census of 1830, Chenango, Broome Co., N. Y.: Thomas Waterman, 1 male 60 to 70; 1 female 40 to 50; 1 female 15 to 20; 1 male and 1 female 10 to 15; 1 male and 2 females under 5.

The will of Thomas Waterman of Chenango gave all his estate to his wife Polly "whose maiden name was Meeker." He signed with his mark, 19 Feb. 1844. Witnesses, William Chamberlain, Allen Austin. The latter swore that he and Chamberlain (now deceased) had witnessed the will, and that said Polly had placed this will in his hands in the Fall of 1850, and that Polly died shortly thereafter. It was not proved and placed on record until after her death. [Wills, Broome County, 1-658.]

Petition of Alpheus Finch, Jr., of Conklin, Broome Co., N. Y., 9 Sept. 1851; states that Thomas Waterman was a resident of Binghamton at the time of his death sometime in 1844; that he owned about 2 acres on Court Street in Binghamton; that he left a will and a widow Polly, sole legatee and executrix; that said Polly died in Dec. 1850; that said Thomas left at his decease: Hiram Waterman (by his first wife) who now resides somewhere in Tioga County; that said Polly was his second wife, and left as heirs at law: Phebe Jane Waterman, the wife of the petitioner, Alpheus Finch, Jr., Adaline Waterman, wife of Anthony Holmes; Lorilla Waterman; and Eliza [error for Louisa] Waterman. The last-named, all children of Thomas and Polly, reside in Broome County, except Adaline, who resides (he has been told) in Plattsburgh, Clinton County, N. Y. Other papers show that Charles W. Sanford receipted for a quarter of the estate, which Adaline Holmes had sold him; B. N. Loomis as Committee [Conservator] receipted for the shares of Lorilla and Eliza [sic] Waterman. The real estate was sold at auction by George Bartlett and Alpheus Finch, Administrators. [Probate, Broome County, File No. 155.]

WILLIAM (OR JOHN?) WATERMAN OF HERKIMER COUNTY, N. Y.

1. William Waterman (or more likely John Waterman, see below), born , died in Herkimer County, N. Y., in 1808; supposed migrated from Conn. to New York, and is said to have married Lydia Foster, born 1791?, daughter of Nathaniel and Lydia (Frisbie) Foster. Her parents lived in Johnstown and Salisbury, N. Y.

Solomon Waterman and wife Katharine sold 20 Jan. 1835 to Alvah Waterman; Solomon was of Salisbury, Alvah of Manheim. Solomon had bought from Amos Foster and his wife. [Herkimer County Deeds, 30-408; 33-250.] These were evidently the brothers Solomon and Alpha of the family record below.

"The story in the family is that William drove to town one day with a load of lumber, the horses and wagon returned without him and William was never heard of again."

Lydia Foster had a brother named Solomon. Her brother Nathaniel Foster stated that he was taught to write about 1810 by William Waterman, a merchant in Salisbury, Herkimer Co., N. Y. It seems likely that Lydia Foster was the mother of this Waterman family, but her date of birth as stated in the Foster Genealogy is probably too late.

The William Waterman who was a merchant in Salisbury around 1800-1810 was No. 412 of the Robert Waterman Family [Vol. I, p. 466]. It must have been he who taught Nathaniel Foster to write, and it is an odd coincidence if Foster's sister married a different William Waterman. But the merchant had a wife and a son born about 1808, which would seem to preclude Lydia as a first or former wife. It is not proved that the husband of Lydia and father of this family was named William.

Attention must be directed to John[6] Waterman [No. 468, Vol. I, p. 528] who died at Herkimer, 13 Oct. 1808 and who is stated to have left a son. He was old enough to have left several children. The father of Lydia Foster's children traditionally died when her son Solomon was a very small infant, which would be in 1808. The date and locality are right for this John[6] Waterman (instead of a William) to be the head of this family; furthermore, John's inventory shows sale of a cord of wood, which fits the traditional story.

Frederick L. Folger was appointed guardian, 1 Nov. 1820, to Edward L. Waterman, Elizabeth Waterman, Emma Waterman, and Peter H. Waterman. [Letters of Guardianship, New York County.] Daniel Waterman [No. 345, Vol. 1, p. 406] had just died, and these may have been children of his, though they are not named in the family records we have used. The name Folger also suggests the Nantucket branch, and if not children of Daniel, they may have belonged to one of his untraced brothers.

361. No dates or residence stated; but the parents of Jane Kip married in 1817, so she was probably born in the 1820's, and her relatives were of New York and Brooklyn. The husband could have been No. 1027, Vol. 1, p. 522, but nothing has been seen to indicate that he was. Perhaps a more likely candidate is No. 567, i, Vol. 2, p. 22.]

A general certificate was signed in Carroll County, Ark., 5 Feb. 1885, by his wife, aged 67, of Eureka, and daughter Fannie J. Morse, aged 39, of Eureka Springs and her husband, Frank J. Morse. H. REUBEN R. WATERMAN OF WATERFORD, OHIO

REUBEN P. WATERMAN of Morgan County, Ohio, married in Washington County, Ohio, 15 Feb. 1830, MARY ANN MCATEE of Waterford. Presumably he belonged to one of the branches of the Robert[1] Waterman family which settled in Washington County, but his parentage has not been ascertained. His middle initial was probably misstated or misread in the marriage entry. On 7 Feb. 1840, Theodore Coburn was administrator on the estate of Reuben R. Waterman of Waterford; most of the estate was set out for support of the widow and children; the rest was sold to pay debts, and among the purchasers was E. C. Waterman, probably a brother and perhaps the Ebenezer Waterman whose famliy next follows. [Probate Rec. Washington County, Ohio, 6-49 to 51; 7-14.]

A grandson states that Reuben Rolly Waterman of Muskingum County, Ohio, was father of:

EBENEZER WATERMAN OF MORGAN COUNTY

EBENEZER WATERMAN, born in Ohio, in 1813, died in Morgan County, Ohio, in 1859 [perhaps 1857]; married BENNY[?] COBURN, born in Virginia, in 1819, died in Morgan County, Ohio, in 1869 [perhaps 1866].

His grandson says Ebenezer was a carpenter, known as "Ebb," and died 1859 aged 47; that his father was a shipbuilder; that his wife was a Coburn, died 1869 aged 47; and that they raised three sons. Ebenezer died when his son Jason was ten, and his widow died when Jason was nineteen.

He was very likely brother of Reuben R. Waterman (vide ante), as his wife was a Coburn, and a Coburn was administrator of Reuben's estate; Ebenezer had a son Royal, and Reuben had a grandson Royal. The families originated in the same vicinity in Ohio.

AN OHIO-INDIANA FAMILY

1. JOHN WATERMAN, born , died ; married (it is said in Columbiana County, Ohio) ANNA STAIR.

The Tax List of Columbiana County, Ohio, 1810, discloses Conrad, Henry and Jacob Worman, evidently a "Pennsylvania Dutch" family. The above Waterman family used the names Jacob and Henry, and census records indicate that they crossed over into Ohio from Pennsylvania. It seems possible that the name Worman was expanded to Waterman. However, a daughter of Eliza Anna stated that the Watermans were of English descent, although Eliza Anna's husband was German.

BARBADOS WATERMANS

See herein "The Humphrey Waterman Family of Barbados and Pennsylvania." In an agreement with the Lords Proprietors of Carolina, HUMPHREY WATERMAN was the last name of those who joined with Major Wm. Yeamans of Barbados, calling themselves "Adventurors to and Setlers of some part of the Province aforesaid" [Colonial Records of North Carolina, 1-76]. No evidence has been seen that members of the Barbados family of Waterman settled permanently in North Carolina.

JOSEPH WATERMAN died 1763, aged 26. [Monument, All Saints' Chapel, Barbados; see J. H. Lawrence-Archer: Monumental Inscriptions of the British West Indies (1875), p. 401.]

SOUTH CAROLINA WATERMANS

THE HUMPHREY WATERMAN FAMILY OF BARBADOS AND PENNSYLVANIA

Humphrey Waterman appears to have headed an extensive family of the name at Barbados in the West Indies. The following wills of Watermans are listed in "Caribianna" as having been probated there prior to 1800:

1666 Humphrey	1734 Benony	1784 Thomas
1701 John	1736 Jehue	1787 Henrietta
1702 Jacob	1738 Arthur	1790 Benony Jr.
1704 John Sr.	1742 William	1790 Thomas
1715 Humphrey	1743 Joseph	1792 Jane
1722 Elizabeth	1747 Humphrey	1793 Thomas
1722 Mary	1757 John Thomas	1794 Thomas
1731 John	1769 John	1799 Ann

It has not been feasible to attempt to trace this family in Barbados. At least one representative settled on the mainland, founding a family which for generations lived in and near Philadelphia. This branch has been traced to a considerable extent, mainly through the field research of Mr. John P. Dornan of Manoa, Delaware Co., Pa., to whose interest and efforts the following account is greatly indebted.

1. (Captain) Humphrey[1] Waterman, born probably in the 1650's, died at Abington, (then in Philadelphia County, but since 1785 in Montgomery County), Pa., about Dec. 1694; married Margaret ———, born about 1663, living in 1738. She married second, (entered in Abington Monthly Meeting records), 30 Nov. 1696, John Jones, who died between 28 Apr. and 11 May 1708; and third, by 29 Aug. 1709, Everard Bolton, of Southampton, Bucks Co., Pa.

Humphrey Waterman was of the Parish of St. Joseph in the Barbardos when he first is mentioned in Pennsylvania records in 1688. He had settled in Abington by 4 Nov. 1689, when he witnessed two marriages the same day at Richard Waln's house in Cheltenham township. He died intestate and, his widow Margaret renouncing her right to administer his estate, administration was granted to Philip Richards on 12 Mar. 1694/5 [Philadelphia Adm. Book A, p. 207, #38]. The inventory was made 12 Aug. by Silas Crispin and John Jones. It totaled £210.3.0 and included the following items: 3 young cattle; 4 working horses; 4 mares; 3 colts; 2 ploughs; 4 pairs of horse harness; 200 acres of land bought of Joseph Rassey, £25; 95 acres adjoining "ye plantation," £12; 150 acres of land bought of Arthur Powell, £30; 5 silver spoons; 1 silver tankard. The renunciation is signed Margaret Waterman in a very good hand, and in it she called herself "widdow and relict of Capt. Humphrey Waterman, gent." Humphrey must have died prior to 26 Dec. 1694, when "Widdow Waterman" was mentioned in the will of David McKewen of Philadelphia.

John Jones, Mrs. Waterman's second husband, was a Philadelphia merchant, and was also from Barbados. He was brother of Henry Jones of Philadelphia County, whose will dated 19 Aug. 1688, proved 16 Oct. 1688 [Book A, p. 83, #43] stated that a will he had made in Barbados was to stand, and named for Executors: Lt. Col. Humphrey Waterman the Elder, John Swinsted, John Weales, Sr., John Weales, Jr., Major Robert Harrison, all of Barbados, and John Jones of Philadelphia, merchant. At the Philadelphia Monthly Meeting held 22 Feb. 1688/9, the Meeting "desired Alexander Beardsley and Robert Ewer to draw a Certificate to Barbadoes for John Jones," and at the same Meeting "John Jones likewise in the behalf of his brother lately deceased Requests this Meeting's advice concerning the erection of a Vault for himself and Relations." Henry Jones had instructed his Philadelphia Executor to arrange to erect a burial vault on his property in Moyamensing township, and also left money to aid in building the new meeting house in the Center square [where the Philadelphia City Hall now stands].

On 29 Nov. 1689, "Samuel Carpenter requested a Certificate from this meeting in the behalf of John Jones concerning his clearness in marriage to be sent him to Barbadoes," which shows that he used the certificate granted him in February and had gone to Barbados and was intending marriage there. He returned to Philadelphia, evidently with his wife, before 29 May 1691, when he was appointed on a committee, and his son Richard was born in Philadelphia 9 Oct. 1691. He evidently lived near enough the Abington Meeting to have his children entered in its records. By his wife Rebekah he had Grace, born 12 Sept. 1693, and Samuel, born 16 Jan. 1694/5. By Mrs. Margaret Waterman, he had:

Rebekah, b. 16 Sept. 1697.
Sarah, b. 6 Feb. 1698/9.
Jacob, b. 22 Mar. 1699/1700.
Gibbs, b. 3 Aug. 1701.
Abram, b. 3 Apr. 1703.
Hannah, b. 13 June 1708.

The will of John Jones, dated 28 Apr. 1708, probated 11 May 1708 [Will Book C, p. 105, #83], mentions that his wife Margaret was pregnant [the daughter Hannah was posthumous], and names son John Jones and his wife Margaret, and other children, Richard, Grace, Samuel, Rebecca, Sarah, Jacob, and Gibbs, being children by his present wife Margaret, his former wife Rebecca, and his first wife Margaret.

The widow Margaret (Waterman) Jones for her third husband married, by 29 Aug. 1709, as his second wife, Everard Bolton, who always belonged to Abington Meeting although living in Southampton township, Bucks. On 27 June 1712, "Everhard Bolton complains [to Philadelphia Monthly Meeting] against Samuel Preston and Clement Plumstead, Trustees of John Jones, merchant, deceased, that they refuse to settle accounts with him in relation to the s[d] Jones' Estate."

On 27 Feb. 1717/18, Everard Bolton of Southampton in the County of Bucks, Pa., conveyed to Isaac Waterman of Abington Township in the County of Philadelphia, Gent., eldest son and heir apparent of the said Margaret by Humphrey Waterman her former husband. The deed recites that Francis Gamble of the Parish of St. Peter's in the Island of Barbadoes, mason, by Indenture of 22 Aug. 1688, granted to John Mills of the Parish of St. Andrews in the Island aforesaid and Humphrey Waterman of the Parish of St. Peter's aforesaid, a tract of 537 acres of land in Pennapecka in Pensilvania and also one other tract of 100 acres in the said Pennapecka to the use of the said Captain Humphrey Waterman and Margaret his wife then of St. Peter's aforesaid recorded in the Secretary's Office in Barbadoes on 25 August 1688 and in the Rolls Office in Philadelphia in A, No. 1, page 78, and after the death of the said Humphrey Waterman the said Margaret intermarried with John Jones but before her said marriage she the said Margaret by her Indenture of 14 December 1696 granted to Samuel Carpenter and Everhard Bolton, etc. [Deed Book E7, Vol. 10, p. 455.]

Three releases were acknowledged 16 Dec. 1734 and entered at the same time [Deed Book F7, pp. 315, 316], though drawn some years earlier. The first, dated 7 Mar. 1716, was from "Samuel Walton now of the County of Philadelphia, carpenter, and Marcy his wife, in consideration of £6, to them in hand paid by Isaac Waterman of Abington Township in the County aforesaid, . . . for a gift of £20 old currency of Pennsylvania given to the said Marcy by Margaret her mother when she was Margaret Jones wife of John Jones late of Philadelphia merchant deceased which the said Isaac Waterman was obliged to pay to the said Mercy by his marriage settlement settled upon him by the said Margaret also his mother." The second was from "Samuel Hillary, now in Philadelphia, Mariner," on 12 Nov. 1716, releasing to Isaac Waterman of Abington, for £20, "all and all manner of actions, claims, legacies to me belonging." The third, dated 20 June 1721, was from "John Jones of Philadelphia, joiner, and Margaret his wife, in consideration of £6:19:4 to us in hand paid by her brother Issac Waterman of the Township of Abington . . . for a gift of £25 old currency of Pennsilvania given to the said Margaret by her Mother which her said brother Isaac Waterman was obliged to pay by his marriage settlement settled upon him by her mother when widow of John Jones." This last release was witnessed by Samuel Waterman [brother of Margaret] and Samuel Jones [brother of John]. Directly following these [Deed Book F7, p. 317] is a release from Elizabeth Hibbs to Isaac Waterman "in full for the like sum of £25 which the said Isaac upon his marriage settlement did agree to pay to me the said Elizabeth Hibbs," witnessed by Humphrey Waterman [Isaac's son] and Joseph Loughlan; the latter acknowledged his signature 1 Jan. 1734/5.

On 17 Nov. 1738 [Deed Book G3, p. 469], "Margaret Bolton of Southampton Township in the County of Bucks . . . widow, and Samuel Waterman, one of the sons of the said Margaret by her first husband Capt. Humphrey Waterman, of the Parish of St. Joseph in the Island of Barbadoes, of the one part, And Humphrey Waterman one of the sons of Isaac Waterman and Priscilla his wife, the said Isaac Waterman being the Other of the sons of the said Capt. Humphrey Waterman by the said Margaret;

"Whereas by Indenture dated the 22 of August 1688 between Francis Gamble of the Parish of St. Peter's in the Island of Barbadoes, mason, John Mills of St. Andrew's Parish in the Island aforesaid and Humphrey Waterman of the Parish of St. Peter aforesaid the said Francis Gamble granted to the said John Mills and the said Humphrey Waterman . . . a certain tract of land in the Indenture mentioned said to be in the Province of Pensilvania in the Township of Pemmapecca [Pennypack] in the whole containing and laid out for 530 acres, and also all that the said Francis Gamble's tract of 100 acres in Pensilvania likewise said to be situated in the said Township and adjoining land of Thomas Lewislie, to hold to them the said John Mills and Humphrey Waterman but to the use of the said Capt. Humphrey Waterman and Margaret his wife for life and after the death of the said Margaret to such of her children that then were or should after be begotten by the said Humphrey and Margaret as she by her last will and testament or by deed should appoint but in the case of failure of heirs of the said Margaret by the said Humphrey then to the said Margaret's right heirs.

"And Whereas the said Humphrey died and the said Margaret intermarried with one John Jones and before she intermarried with him she with his consent by her Indenture of December 14th 1696 granted to Samuel Carpenter and Everard Bolton a plantation where she dwelt with 950 acres of which the said 530 acres and 100 acres herein above described were part for certain uses that is to say to the use of the said Margaret whilst her sons Isaac and Samuel should be under age then to the use of the said Isaac and Samuel paying down such sum or sums not exceeding £20 as the said Margaret by her Will or Deed should think fit to give among her daughters by her said husband Humphrey Waterman Provided that if the said Isaac or Samuel should marry without their mother's consent or should prove extravagant or dissolute and would not be reclaimed by their mother then it might be lawful for the said Margaret to alter the remainder created.

"And Whereas the said John Jones died and the said Margaret intermarried with the said Everard Bolton and the said Isaac with the said Priscilla but before either of those marriages the said Margaret, and by her appointment the said Samuel Carpenter and Everard Bolton, by Indenture Quinque Partite the 5th day of March 1708 made by the said Margaret Jones of the first part, Samuel Carpenter and Everard Bolton of the second part, Isaac Waterman of the third part, the said Priscilla by the name of Priscilla Pemberton daughter of Phineas Pemberton late of Bucks County of the fourth part, and Clement Plumstead and Israel Pemberton both of the County of Philadelphia of the fifth part, merchants, the said Margaret Jones, Samuel Carpenter and Everard Bolton, Isaac Waterman, and Priscilla Pemberton did then . . . grant to the said Clement Plumstead and Israel Pemberton . . . the said 100 acres aforesaid now found to be situate in Lower Dublin Township in the said County of Philadelphia and also one other tract of 357 acres part of the aforesaid 530 acres and now found to be situate in Abington Township in the County aforesaid . . . in Trust nevertheless . . . for the said Margaret to receive thereout the yearly sum or rent charge of £8 per annum from and after the solemnization of the said marriage of the said Margaret Jones and Everard Bolton. . . .

"And Whereas by Indenture dated the day before the date hereof the said Isaac and Priscilla granted the two aforesaid tracts of 100 acres and 357 acres to their son Humphrey Waterman. . . .

Margtt Bolton
Samll Waterman"

The last deed referred to above is found in Deed Book G2, page 48. On 16 Nov. 1738, "Isaac Waterman of Abington Township (the eldest son of Margaret now called Bolton, by Humphrey Waterman sometime of the Parish of St. Peter's in the Island of Barbardoes, Merchant, deceased) and Priscilla his wife" assigned the two tracts "to Humphrey Waterman, eldest son and heir apparent to the said Isaac," reciting the deeds of 22 Aug. 1688, 14 Dec. 1696, 5 Mar. 1708, and 27 Feb. 1717/18.

The Quinquepartite Indenture of 5 July 1708 [Deed Book E5, Vol. 7, p. 186] contains the statement, "and whereas the said Samuel Waterman hath proved Extravagant and dissolute in conversation and will not be reclaimed by the tender advice and admonition of his said mother so that she is without hopes of his [return?] to sobriety and not willing to contribute to his continuances in evil courses by any support from her . . . [Margaret Jones] is willing to prefer her son Isaac as being more sober and natural to her and Whereas there is a Marriage intended shortly hereafter by the Grace of God to be had and solemnized between the said Isaac Waterman and the said Priscilla Pemberton," she and the others conveyed to the Trustees for the benefit of herself and son Isaac, and they were authorized "to pay unto Margaret Jones wife of John Jones, joiner, daughter of the said Margaret grantor herein the sum of £25 and they are also to pay to Jane Waterman, Marcy Waterman and Elizabeth Waterman daughters of the said Margaret by Humphrey Waterman her former husband the sum of £75 within six years after the solemnization of the marriage of the said Isaac Waterman and the said Priscilla Pemberton. . . ."

The original purchase referred to in some of the foregoing deeds is found entered in Exemplification Book No. 8, page 100. On 22 Aug. 1688, Francis Gamble of the Parish of St. Peters, Barbadoes, mason, conveyed for £247.10s. to John Milles, Esq., of the Parish of St. Andrews and Humphrey Waterman of the Parish of St. Peters, merchant, tracts of 530 acres (in the Township of Pemmapecca) and 100 acres (adjoining land of Thomas Lewiseley—i.e. Livezey), to the use of Capt. Humphrey Waterman and Margaret his wife of St. Joseph's Parish for their lives and after her death to such of the children that now are or may hereafter be begotten by them as she by her last will shall appoint, but in case of the failure of issue of the said Margaret by Capt. Humphrey Waterman then to the right heirs of the said Margaret forever.

From this it seems clear that the Humphrey Waterman who purchased was not Captain Humphrey, the husband of Margaret. Presumably he was his father; and his partner in the purchase, John Milles, may conceivably have been the father of Margaret. The purchaser was probably "Lt. Col. Humphrey Waterman the Elder," the first Executor named in the will of Henry Jones (see above), and he lived in St. Peter's Parish, whereas the husband of Margaret was called "Captain" and lived in St. Joseph's Parish. Captain Humphrey never owned this acreage, and his wife had the right to dispose of it to their children.

However, Humphrey Waterman had some land patented to him 26 Sept. 1689 [Patent Book AA 12, p. 137, Exemplification Book 3, p. 715], and it was this land which his widow Margaret sold to pay the son Samuel's debts, which was the reason Samuel released his interest in the entailed property.

Children of Humphrey and Margaret (———) Waterman, probably born in Barbados:

2+i. ISAAC,[2] b. abt. May 1681/2; d. 16 Jan. 1748/9.

ii. MARGARET, m. at Abington, 11 Mar. 1702/3, JOHN JONES, JR., son of John Jones by his first wife Margaret. When their intentions were declared at the Philadelphia Meeting, his father and her mother gave their consent. The relatives who signed as witnesses in the Marriage Record book were: John Jones Senr, Margaret Jones Senr, Jane Waterman, Richd Jones, Samll Jones, Marcy Waterman, Eliza Waterman, Grace Jones.

iii. JANE, appears 14 Jan. 1702/3 with her sister Margaret as witnesses to a Friends' wedding in Philadelphia, and witnessed Margaret's wedding, 11 Mar. 1702/3. She went to the Barbados for a few years, doubtless to live with relatives there. She applied for a certificate (no destination given) 22 Feb. 1705/6, which was signed 28 June 1706; and on 26 Oct. 1711 a certificate from Friends in Barbardos on behalf of Jane Waterman was read at the Abington Meeting. She m. between 28 Dec. 1711 and 25 Jan. 1711/12, SAMUEL HILLARY. On the latter date "Hannah Carpenter reports the marriage was decently accomplished." He was son of Henry Hillary of Wexford, co. Wexford, Ireland, and his certificate, one of the very few which were entered in the Minutes, states that he was apprenticed to a Friend who was a mariner, and thereafter followed the sea, "but some time ago his uncle Thomas Cuppage a ffriend of good account with us Dyed and left him part of his Real Estate to ye Value of a hundred pounds per annum and he ye said Samuel Hillary hath further acquainted us that he hath intentions of marriage with one Jane Waterman in ye Province of Pensilvania to wch his parents have given their Consent,"—signed 10 June 1711. Probably she met him in Barbados when he touched there on a voyage.

iv. SAMUEL, appears 4 Mar. 169– as a witness at the marriage of Thomas Tustin to Elizabeth Linn, both of Philadelphia County. He settled in the Parish of St. Joseph, Barbados, where he was living at the time of the Indenture of 17 Nov. 1738, having at that date no wife living. He is not further traced, but was living 6 Nov. 1739 when he endorsed the indenture of 17 Nov. 1738 [Deeds, Phila., G3-475].*

v. MARCY, appears 11 Mar. 1702/3 as a witness of her sister Margaret's wedding; m. at Byberry Meeting House, 15 Feb. 1709/10 (intention at Abington dated 30

* See Waterman Items, Philadelphia and Neighborhood, following, for mention of later Samuel Watermans.

Jan. 1709/10), SAMUEL WALTON, son of Daniel and Mary (Lamb) Walton of Byberry.

vi. ELIZABETH, appears 11 Mar. 1702/3 as a witness of her sister Margaret's wedding; m. JONATHAN HIBBS, who d. by 1722, son of William and Hannah (Howell) Hibbs. On 25 Apr. 1716, Jonathan Hibbs and his wife Elizabeth were testified against by Abington Meeting, and 26 July 1717 Jonathan presented a paper of condemnation for his outgoing [in marriage] with his wife Elizabeth. She perhaps m. (2) by N. J. license dated 5 June 1735, CHARLES WATTS, both of Pennsylvania.

2. ISAAC[2] WATERMAN (Humphrey[1]), born probably in Barbados, about Mar. 1681/2, died at Abington, Pa., 16 Jan. 1748/9, aged 67 yrs. 8 mos.; married shortly before 28 June 1708, PRISCILLA PEMBERTON, born 23 Apr. 1692, died at Abington, 9 Apr. 1771, aged 77, daughter of Phineas and Phebe (Harrison) Pemberton.

Phineas Pemberton, a grocer, was a son of Ralph Pemberton of Boulton in the Moors, Lancashire, and came to America in 1682. He was Deputy Recorder, Recorder, and Clerk of the Courts in Bucks County, Pa., and the record book of the Courts in his handwriting is still preserved. He also kept a book of "Early Arrivals in Delaware River" in which he noted many particulars of his own family. Quoting from this, "James Harrison and Ann his wife of Boulton in Lancashire came to America in the ship Submission, the Master James Settle. They sailed from Liverpool the 5th of 7 mo 1682 and arrived at Choptank in Maryland the 21 of 9 mo. following being brought there through the dishonesty of the Master and arrived at Apoquinemene in this Province the 15th of 11 mo following: also Phebe his daughter wife of Phineas Pemberton. Phineas Pemberton aged 33 years of Bolton aforesaid Grocer came at the same time with Phebe his wife aged 23 years and arrived at the same time as above in Maryland. Phebe his wife arrived at Apoquinemene in this Province the 9 of 3 mo following 1683."

Isaac and Priscilla Waterman witnessed the marriage of her brother, Israel Pemberton,* 12 Apr. 1710.

On 3 May 1749, Priscilla Waterman, widow of Isaac Waterman of Abington, gave bond as Administratrix of his estate; sureties, Israel Pemberton, of Philadelphia, merchant, and John Doe. The inventory, taken 31 Mar. 1749, amounted to £104.13.0, but did not include the realty. An account shows £4 paid for wine, biscuit and sundry necessaries at the funeral; £1 paid to Isaac Waterman; £9.11.9 paid to Evan Evans; etc. The land was sold for £350. [Administrations, Phila. County, F-235.]

He requested a Certificate from Abington Monthly Meeting to Philadelphia Monthly Meeting, 27 June 1774, and it was signed 25 July 1774. The Philadelphia Meeting on 31 Mar. 1775 accepted Certificates from Jesse Waterman, "Usher," and Jn°. Todd, schoolmaster, from Abington. On his request, he received a Certificate from Philadelphia, 25 Oct. 1776, back to Abington. This he produced at Abington, 25 Nov. 1776, and on 27 Nov. 1780 Abington gave him a Certificate to Mount Holly, N. J.

He soon returned, however, to Philadelphia, and the record of his first marriage there calls him of Philadelphia, stationer, son of John and Hannah of Abington. Among the witnesses were John Waterman, Jeremiah Parvin, Francis Parvin and Eleanor Parvin. Two children were recorded in Philadelphia, and the death of a wife and younger child were recorded by the Philadelphia Monthly Meeting for the Northern District. In Philadelphia on 24 June 1796 he requested a Certificate to marry a Friend belonging to Mt. Holly Meeting. His second marriage record, at Mount Holly, calls him of the City of Philadelphia, Teacher, son of John and Hannah.

His wife Elizabeth produced a Certificate from Mount Holly Meeting dated 7 Mar. 1799 at the Philadelphia Monthly Meeting, 26 Apr. 1799. On 27 Nov. 1801, Jesse Waterman, his wife Elizabeth and children William Waterman and Henry Paxson West were granted Certificates to the Northern District in Philadelphia, but on 28 Oct. 1803 were back with Certificates from the Northern District. 10. JOHN[4] WATERMAN (John,[3] Isaac,[2] Humphrey[1]), born presumably at Abington, Pa., about 1759, died at Philadelphia, Pa., 20 Nov. 1839, aged 81

(Green Street Meeting); married first at Germantown, Pa., 30 Sept. 1796, MARY LIVEZEY, born about 1768, died at the Northern Liberties, Philadelphia, in 1822, daughter of Benjamin and Phebe (Roberts) Livezey; married second, after 1822, MARY ———, born about 1780, died at Philadelphia, 30 July 1847, aged 67 (Green Street Meeting), perhaps a widow Eaton.*

The marriage record calls him son of John and Hannah of Abington dec'd, and describes his bride as daughter of Benjamin Livezey of Radnor, Chester Co., dec'd, and Phebe. Witnesses were Phebe Livezey, Gill Pennington, Hester Pennington, Isaac Jones, Hannah Jones, Jesse Waterman, and Eliz[a] Waterman.

Census of 1800, Radnor, Delaware Co., Pa.: John Waterman, 1 male and 1 female aged 26 to 45; and 1 male and 1 female 10 to 16.

The will of Mary wife of John Waterman of the Northern Liberties, dated Nov. 1821, proved 25 Dec. 1822, mentions her sister Esther (wife of Gill) Pennington, and niece Elizabeth Lewis, late Elizabeth Yarnall, wife of Joseph Lewis; brother John Livezey charged to pay £20 annually to husband John Waterman.

ISAAC[5] WATERMAN (Isaac,[4] Humphrey,[3] Isaac,[2] Humphrey[1]), born at Abington, Pa., 25 May 1778, died at Lower Dublin, Pa., 21 July 1830, aged 52 yrs. 1 mo. 26 days, buried at Abington; married at Abington, 25 May 1805, EDITH PETERS, born about 1785, died at Lower Dublin, 17 Sept. 1816, aged 31, buried at Abington, daughter of William and Jane (———) Peters.

The witnesses at his marriage were Hannah Waterman, Jane Peters, Benj[a] Hallowell, Abigail Hallowell, Caleb Hallowell, Mary Hallowell, Watson Playter, Priscilla Playter, Joseph Waterman, and Isaiah Waterman.

Administration on the estate of Isaac Waterman was granted, 3 Aug. 1830, to Jane P. Waterman and Stephen Sayer on bond of $5,000; sureties, John Livezey and Joseph Miles. [Administrations, Phila. County, N-328.]

Joseph Waterman was appointed guardian of Joseph Peters Waterman, son of Isaac, 17 Dec. 1830. On 15th Feb. 1833, the petition of Joseph Waterman states that he was appointed 17 Dec. 1830 guardian of the person and estate of Joseph Peters Waterman, a minor above the age of 14, that he has never had any of the estate or property of the said minor come to his hands and that he is considerably advanced in years; he feels himself unfit for the proper execution of the trust, asked dismissal. This was granted, and James Fenton appointed guardian. [Orphans Court, Docket 32, p. 225; Docket 33, pp. 248, 238.]

* The account compiled in 1849 by James Pemberton Parke states that John Waterman was twice married. but fails to name the wives except that the first was a widow Eaton. It is possible that she was the second wife. It is not certainly proved that the deaths recorded in the Green Street Meeting pertain to this John and a second wife.

WATERMANS OF PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY, VIRGINIA

1. SOLOMON WATERMAN, born [say around 1705], died in Princess Anne County, Va., in 1745; married MARGARET ———, who died after 1748.

He was of Princess Anne County, 9 Mar. 1735/6, when he leased for five shillings and a yearly rent of "one ear of Indian Corn at ye feast of St. Michael ye Archangel only if the same be lawfully demanded," a plantation of 75 acres near Muddy Creek from James Albritton and Elizabeth his wife. The tract was conveyed by a deed of release, 10 Mar. 1735/6. He leased 75 acres, 1 Apr. 1740, in the Upper Precinct of Eastern Shore, from Roger Fountain, and purchased it the next day.

Solomon's will, made 20 Nov. 1745, proved 1 Jan. 1745/6, named sons Charles (chief heir) and Solomon, daughters Mary and Frances, and his wife.

On 9 June 1748, Margret Waterman leased 50 acres in the Upper Precinct of the Eastern Shore from Charles Killey, and bought the property the next day for £7.

Children:

2+i. CHARLES, b. [say 1730]; under age in 1745; d. 1782.
ii. MARY,
iii. FRANCES.
3+iv. SOLOMON, b. [say 1740]; d.

2. CHARLES WATERMAN, born [say 1730], died in Princess Anne County, Va., in 1782; married JEMIMA ———, who died after 1783.

He sold, 18 Jan. 1764, for £35, to George Styring, 50 acres in Princess Anne County near Pungo Chappel, the bounds indicating that it was part of the tract purchased by Solomon Waterman from Roger Fountain. Charles Waterman of the Parish of Lynhaven, Princess Anne County, purchased 25 acres of marsh from John Kelly or Killey, 17 Jan. 1764; and on 18 June 1771 he bought 100 acres in Lynhaven from John Dauley. This last purchase was sold, 21 Apr. 1773, by Charles Waterman and his wife Jemima to Ransom Brock. He was listed as a slave owner, value £324, in 1775.

Charles Waterman was a processioner of land in the middle precinct of the Eastern Shore, Princess Anne County, in 1779. He bought 77 acres at Muddy Creek from John (and Liddea) Moore, 1 Jan. 1774; and 114 acres in Middle Precinct of the Eastern Shore from William Dolby and Adah his wife, 7 Sept. 1774. The piece bought from Moore was sold, 4 Sept. 1778, by Charles Waterman and Jemima his wife to Thomas Axstead. The Dolby piece was sold by Charles Waterman and Jemima his wife to Joab Doudge, 10 Nov. 1779.

The intestate estate of Charles was administered in 1782. Records of the estate show payments made by the administrator to Solomon Waterman, Kedar Waterman, and others, 29 Dec. 1795.

Jemima Waterman, with a family of twelve whites, was listed in Princess Anne County in the Virginia State Enumeration, 1783; Charles Waterman, one white, was listed 1785.

4. SOLOMON WATERMAN, born [say 1760]; married MARY ———.

His land valuation was listed in 1782. He and his wife Mary had deeds in 1786. In 1810 Mary Waterman was listed as owning one slave, and in 1811 as owning a slave and two horses. Probably they were parents of the following group, known to be brothers and sisters:

i. CHARLES, b. [say 1785]; d. in 1814. He served six days as a Private in Lieut. Henry Styron's Co., 20th Regt., Virginia Militia, 10 to 15 Mar. 1813; and was at Cape Henry in Capt. WATERMANS FROM ENGLAND

REV. THOMAS WATERMAN OF BOSTON

Rev. Thomas Waterman, born in London, England, 31 Dec. 1774, died at Woburn, Mass., 23 Mar. 1814; married first, (intention, Charlestown, Mass., 27 Feb. 1803), Elizabeth McNiel, daughter of Capt. Archibald and Mary (Knight) McNiel; married second, at Bow, N. H., 9 Mar. 1806, Mary Gault, born 22 Dec. 1783, died 1 Apr. 1864, daughter of Samuel and Anna (Gile) Gault.

"Thomas Waterman was born in the city of London, where he received the rudiments of his education. He was subsequently, for some time, at the Dissenting College at Homerton. He was first settled as pastor of an Independent Congregation in London, but, not long after, became a Baptist, and was baptized by the Rev. Dr. Rippon. He continued his relation to the Independent Church after this change in his views; but, as he could not conscientiously baptize infants, it was not long before he resigned his charge.

"He came to the United States about 1802, bringing with him various introductory letters, and, among others, one from Dr. Rippon to Dr. Stillman, which seems to have been of great use to him. At the time of his arrival, the Baptist Church in Charlestown were looking out for a Pastor; and Mr. Waterman, having preached to them with great acceptance, received from them a unanimous call, which, shortly after, he accepted. But, though his prospects of usefulness in that relation were highly flattering, a difficulty soon arose, in connection with his marriage, which proved the occasion of his leaving the church in less than two years after his settlement.

"He preached but little for several months after this, but was called, in the mean time, to bury his wife. He now, for two or three years, supplied a Society, composed of Baptists and Pedobaptists, in the town of Bow, N. H., and during his residence there formed a second matrimonial connection. For the next two or three years, he preached in Topsham and the vicinity, in Maine. At length, by particular request, he returned to Boston to take charge of the Addison Academy, and, while thus employed, was also engaged, almost constantly, as a supply in different churches in the neighborhood.

"The Baptist church at Woburn, being destitute of a Pastor, invited him to remove his school to that place, and supply their pulpit as far as he should be able. He accepted their invitation, and entered with alacrity upon his double duties; but, finding his labours too arduous, he determined to reduce the number of his scholars, and devote more time to the interests of his flock. But just at this time his earthly career was terminated. He died suddenly, of appoplexy, on the 23rd of March, 1814. He was an amiable man, an accomplished teacher, and an eloquent preacher."

[Sprague, Annals of the American Pulpit, vol. 6.]

Estate of Thomas Waterman, Clerk, of Woburn, Mass. The widow Mary Waterman stated that it was inconvenient for her to settle the estate of her late husband, and asked the appointment of Jacob Richardson, 25 Apr. 1814. He was appointed Administrator the next day; Waterman had died within one month previous, leaving widow and children. Mary wrote a letter regarding the estate in 1819. [Probate, Middlesex County, File No. 23,900.]

Mary Waterman of Woburn, widow, was appointed guardian of Mary Josephine, Thomas Belden, and Alfred Waterman, minors under 14, children of Thomas Waterman, Clerk, dec'd, 27 Apr. 1814; she called herself their mother; Luther Converse and Eleazer F. Pool, of Woburn, were sureties on her bond. [ib., File No. 23,901.]

SIGMUND WATERMAN, born at Bruck, near Erlangen, in Bavaria, Germany, 22 Feb. 1819, died at New York City, 16 Mar. 1899; married first, JOHANNAH ———, born in Bavaria, Germany, about 1805, died at New Haven, Conn., 23 Jan. 1845, aged 39 [New Haven Palladium, 24 Jan. 1845]; married second, at New Haven, 8 Aug. 1848, HANNAH WURSBURG, of Wurzburg, Germany.

He studied in the University of Erlangen before his emigration to America in 1840. He settled in New Haven as a merchant, and a chance meeting with one of the professors led to his employment as Instructor in German in Yale College, 1844-47. In the meantime he had begun his medical studies, and was thus the first Jew to receive a degree from Yale.

On graduation, he began practice in New York City, and enjoyed a rapid rise in his profession. In 1857 he was made Police Surgeon, and filled that post for thirty years. In the Civil War he was appointed Draft Surgeon by Governor Morgan and did good work during the riots of 1863. He made a special study of spectroscopic analysis, and in 1868 was instrumental in its introduction into medical practice. He was for fifteen years physician of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum of New York, and for a few years before the failure of his health was Professor of the Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs in the Eclectic Medical College of the City of New York. He was one of the founders, and medical director until his death, of the Home for Aged and Infirm at Yonkers, and was active in other charitable and medical institutions. He was also one of the founders of the Maimonides Library.

He was a man of exceptional gifts, and high-minded in his sympathies and in his life, which was one of tireless service to his fellow-men. He retained his faculties unimpaired until the end, which came suddenly, from heart trouble, at his home in New York City, on 16 Mar. 1899. By his last will, upwards of 200 volumes from his medical library were left to the Yale Medical School.

Three sons and a daughter by first wife.

WATERMANS OF AFRICAN AND AMERINDIAN DESCENT

Because of several intermarriages between Negroes and American Indians, they have had to be included in the same section. The present colored Watermans of New England, of whom we have succeeded in tracing two large groups, are believed to be of mixed Negro and White descent, with possibly a small amount of Amerindian blood in some groups.

There is some evidence that Indians enslaved following King Philip's War adopted the name of Waterman, presumably because they served a family of that name. The Negro Watermans undoubtedly were originally slaves in the families of some of the more prosperous White Watermans, and adopted the surname before or following their liberation.

We have not received records of present-day Indian Watermans, but a newspaper item of a few years ago indicates that an Indian family of the name was then living on a reservation in New York State. Also, Ellen D. Waterman, a widow, and an Indian, died at Onondaga Reservation, N. Y., 7 Oct. 1934, leaving a son, Edward Waterman, and a daughter, Lottie (Waterman) Webster, both residents of the Reservation [Surrogate's Office, Onondaga County].

(a) Names in parentheses to indicate the line of descent;
(b) Names of officers in service records if from printed muster rolls;
(c) Names of authors of books cited for reference, also names in titles of books.

Waterman wives are indexed twice, under both maiden and married names. Other women are indexed but once, under the maiden name when that is known.

A reference in the form, 287-289, means that the name should be found on those pages inclusive; in the form, 287, 288, that the name should be found on both of the consecutive pages; in the form, 287-8, that the name should be found but once, split between the bottom of the first page and the top of the next page. When a Waterman daughter is mentioned (as in a will or deed) under her married name, she is indexed under her maiden Waterman name, but a reference to her husband's name will be found to indicate the page on which her marriage is stated. Given names sometimes vary in form in records cited, or the "Mary" of one record may be the "Polly" of another record. It is difficult to achieve uniformity in the index when these variations occur, and the reader is cautioned to look in the index for variant spellings of names, also for nicknames.
